NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1917.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR

AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Newton Y. M. C. A. to Raise $10,000 for Huts in the War Zone

A group of Newton men and women, acting with the pastors of the churches and with the officers of the local Y. M. C. A., are sending out an appeal to Newton citizens, asking them to share in a nation-wide movement for safeguarding the young men who are enlisting in the Army and Navy. Following is the letter:

To the Citizens of Newton:

A state of war has been declared between Germany and the United States. Our young men are enlisting and we must provide for their comfort and welfare. Wherever our soldiers or sailors go, there they will find the Y. M. C. A. huts, or tents, with trained secretaries to minister to their needs. In these tents will be found opportunities for clean, wholesome recreation. Moving pictures, games, lectures, writing material, stamps, a phonograph, entertainments and helpful talks will be provided.

England saw the necessity of providing for the moral condition of her soldiers and sailors. Although late in making the discovery, she appropriated and expended $5,000,000 for this purpose during the past year. It is a lamentable fact that hundreds of men are "shot to pieces by booze and disease" before engaging in active warfare, as evil forces are usually in close proximity to camp life.

To combat these evils, Dr. John R. Mott, who has organized Y. M. C. A. work in the armies of all belligerent countries, says that a fund of $3,000,000 is needed to safeguard our troops while they are on training, at the mobilization camps and doing guard duty in all parts of our country. A National War Work Committee will have charge of the expenditure of this fund. Massachusetts representatives on this committee will be Mr. Lewis A. Cressett, Mr. Winthrop M. Crane, Jr., and Mr. E. W. Hearne. Massachusetts' share should be $250,000 and Newton's share at least $5,000.

Will you not give liberally so that one of these buildings, or tents, with five picked men can be provided with every brigade in our new army? The approximate cost of a building and equipment will be about $2,500. $10,000 will provide for an entire unit—salaries, supplies, etc. We want contributions, large and small, from every part of Newton, from churches, men's clubs, women's clubs, from organizations and individuals who now want to do something definite for the enlisted men in our army and navy. Churches generally are co-operating in this great work.

The money should be immediately available if possible. Payments may be made as late as October, 1917, if necessary. Please make all checks payable to J. W. Blaisdell, Treasurer of the Committee.

The committee consists of D. F. Barber, W. N. Donovan, C. D. Kepner, H. W. Bascom, Mrs. F. A. Day, Mrs. I. U. Townsend, Mrs. S. H. Woodbridge, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Wm. T. Rich, Henry B. Day, George H. Mellen, F. M. Forbush, Eben H. Ellison, J. Wm. Blaisdell.

continued with patronage unabated its prosperity. Grant Mitchell and the ideal company which impersonate the roles of the comedy have done their perfect best to vitalize the action and speech as written by Harry James Smith. In fact, despite the previous work of this gifted playwright, this comedy would give him a conspicuous place in the theatrical sun had he no other plays to his credit.

TREMONT THEATRE—Next Monday "A Tailor-Made Man" will begin its 9th week in Boston at the Tremont Theatre. It is thus emphasizing in material form the high regard the theatre goes have for this delightful comedy of aspiration and accomplishment. Triumphant has been the course of its engagement which started without particular heralding at another theatre where its stay having been completed, it moved to the Tremont and there

DELEGATES TO CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Powers, Anderson, Winslow, Lowell and Richardson Among Those Elected

The election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention last Tuesday attracted more attention than was anticipated in these busy days of preparation and of warfare. 4111 voters went to the polls in Newton or about 50 per cent of the registered vote. The greatest interest, of course centered around the selection of three delegates from this city from the six candidates who were nominated at the primary a month ago. The winners were Alderman Guy M. Winslow of Auburndale, ex-representative James A. Lowell of Chestnut Hill and Mr. James P. Richardson of Newtonville. Mr. George S. Smith of Newton Centre was closely pressed for fourth place by Mr. Charles A. Andrews of Waban and Mr. Thomas W. Proctor of Chestnut Hill was last. A postal card sent out just before the election signed by several of the leading Democrats of the city endorsing Messrs. Winslow, Lowell and Proctor was undoubtedly a factor in the result. The detailed vote will be found in another column.

In the Congressional district contest in which two Newton residents were candidates, ex-Congressman Powers was easily the leader, receiving the highest vote cast for any one in the city, 3040. Mr. Anderson was second with 2294. The complete vote in the district elects Mr. Powers, Rev. Mr. Anderson, Mr. Charles S. Bird, Jr. and ex-Lieut. Gov. Robert Luce. The complete vote of the district follows.

Bird 1937
Anderson 2294
Luce 1948
Fish 1832
Green 1763
Dennison 1713
Daley 1651

The so called conservative ticket for delegates at large was endorsed by the voters of this city the vote ranging from 2897 for Mr. Adams the highest to 1702 for Mr. Evans, the lowest. Ex-Gov. Walsh easily led the radical ticket with a total of 1985 and Mr. Strecker was low man with 865. The total vote for delegates at large was as follows.

Charles Francis Adams 2897
George W. Anderson 1826

Albert S. Apsey 2040
Charles J. Barton 1965
John L. Bates 2880
William H. Brooks 1953

EDITORIAL

Mayor Hermon E. Hibbard was a typical American. Entering business life a poor boy, he won fame and fortune by sheer native ability and persistent industry. As mayor of Newton he made many needed reforms in administration and his business ability and foresight were of great value and came at a time when especially needed. He was a pioneer in the matter of commercial education and made the Bryant and Stratton School one of the leading institutions of its kind in the country. Newton may well be proud of the record he has made and which brings honor to the city of his choice.

The attention of every person who paid a personal property tax in the city of Newton last year, is invited to the provision of the present law which requires the local assessors to tax them for not less than the same amount as in 1916, unless a sworn statement is filed with the assessors before May 15. In other words, such persons will be the victims of double taxation, thru the state income tax, and the local tax, unless the law is fully met. Consult the assessors at once.

Mayor Childs has designated next week as CLEAN Week and the city teams, in their usual weekly collection of waste and rubbish, will, for this week only, remove any and all kinds of matter which may be placed on the sidewalk edge for them to take. Every citizen should clean out his cellar and attic for this occasion and remove articles which, in case of fire, would be a serious menace to the community. Clean up, and then stay cleaned up.

Let us have total abstinence, at least, and national prohibition if possible, while the war lasts, and with the hope that if thus established, there will be no return to present conditions, when peace and good will are again on earth.

The new penny express law puts some common sense on the statute books, and our city government should take action at once and refuse any and all applicants for permits to transport intoxicating liquors.

The next meeting of the aldermen promises to be of unusual interest on account of contemplated action on the 1917 budget and the matter of granting penny express licenses in this city.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

A special assembly in the hall on Monday morning was attended by the boys of the Classical, Technical, and Vocational High Schools. The speakers were Mr. Frank V. Thompson, assistant superintendent of the Boston schools, and Mr. Wheeler, superintendent of the Newton schools. The purpose of the assembly was to impress upon the boys of the Newton High Schools the great necessity for this state to raise more of its own food supply. Mr. Thompson showed in a forceful manner that many of the high school boys are unwilling to offer his services in the work of farming during the summer.

Blanks have been distributed in the school, to be filled in by all boys who are willing to enlist in the National Service for Food Production. Boys between the ages of sixteen and nineteen are wanted for service on the farms in this part of the state. Those who enlist for the summer will be paid four dollars per week for the first two weeks, and thereafter one dollar a day. It is probable that camps for these boys may be established upon some of the larger farms. All the boys of the school assembled in the hall on Wednesday evening of this week. Mr. Adams made known the decisions of several of the larger colleges upon the matter of admitting those students who leave high school for national service before the completion of their course. In the case of boys who enlist in military or naval service, most of the colleges will allow admission without examination. Mr. Adams also made several announcements concerning some of the scholarships which have recently been established in a number of the colleges.

The Newton High School baseball team is now in second place in the Quadrangular League as a result of its victory over Brookline last Saturday. The team will be forced to play two hard contests next week, meeting Brookline at Brookline on Tuesday, and Somerville at Clafin Field on Friday. The game scheduled with Revere for tomorrow afternoon should prove rather easy for the Newton team.

DEATH OF MRS. MURTAGH

Mrs. Mary J. Murtagh (nee Driscoll) widow of the late Thomas Murtagh, passed away May 1st at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, after a lingering illness.

She is survived by one son Mr. Edward Murtagh of Newtonville. The funeral was held Thursday morning from the residence of her brother Mr. Thomas Lawrence Driscoll, 63 Austin street, Newtonville, at 8 o'clock.

A high Mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. A. S. Malone at 9 o'clock, at the Church of Our Lady, Newton.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Auburndale Co-operative Bank held its annual meeting and election of officers on Wednesday evening and there was an unusually large attendance. The following officers were elected: Mr. W. Kirke Corey, president; Mr. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, vice president; Mr. Charles E. Valentine, treasurer; Mr. Charles S. Cowdrey, assistant treasurer and clerk. Directors: Mr. George A. Bacon, Mr. Nathan W. Dennett, Mr. Bernard Early, Dr. C. D. Ansley, Mr. George F. Howland, and Mr. J. H. Gordon.

GYMNASTIC MEET

The Annual Gymnastic Meet of the Girls of the Newton High Schools was held Friday afternoon and the Gymnasium was filled with an interested and admiring crowd of spectators.

The girls gave a creditable demonstration of the splendid training they have in physical culture, which reflected great credit on themselves and their teachers, Mrs. P. J. D. Kuntz and Miss Maida Flanders. The program included Floor Work, by the Senior Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes; Hand-Travelling, Rope Climbing, Ladders, High Standing at Boom, Saddle Vault, Face Vault, Parallel Bar Vault, Scissors Jump, Games—Arch Goal Ball and Relay Race, and Dancing.

It was a most impressive sight to see several hundred well trained girls march thru the hall and salute the flag, and the exercises opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Miss Florence Moore presided at the piano, and furnished a splendid program of music for the exercises and the dancing which followed. At the close of the meet Mr. Enoch C. Adams, the principal of the school, gave a pleasing address and announced the successful contestants as follows:

Floor Work—Won by Junior Class, 2nd Freshman Class.
Rotary Hand Travelling—Won by Logie Wright, Sr.; 2nd Ruth Shepard, Jr.

Plain Hand Travelling—Won by Dorothea Calohill, Sr.; 2nd, Hazel Supien, Soph.

Horizontal Ladder—Won by Helen Francis, Sr.; 2nd, Wymen Wright, Sr.

Window Ladder—Won by Hazel Bennett, Jr.; 2nd—Mary Furdon, Sr.

High Standing at Boom—Won by Hazel Supien, Soph.; Genevieve Bougham, Sr.; Esther Stewart, Soph. Tie.

Saddle Vault—Won by Eleanor Lyon; 2nd, Helen Spelton.

Scissors Jump—Won by Dorothy Stebbins, Soph.; 2nd, Florence Luther, Soph.

Parallel Bar Vault—Won by Leslie Perkins, Sr.; 2nd, Inez Sarcen, Jr.

Class having best standing position—Junior Class.

Arch Goal Ball—Won by Senior Class.

Relay Race—Won by Freshmen Class.

The Meet was won by the Junior Class. The score was: Juniors, 36; Seniors, 34.

The dancing was cleverly executed by 18 young ladies, and included "Sing a Song of Sixpence," "Vineyard Dance," "Pierrot et Pierrette," "Jockey Dance," "Serenade Polka" and "Silver Stars."

WILBUR THEATRE—One of the most delightful farcical entertainments ever offered to the New England playgoers is "His Bridal Night," in which the piquant Dolly Sisters, Roziska and Yanci, have been given enthusiastic receptions by delighted audiences which have filled Ye Wilbur Theatre to capacity for the past month, and which has been declared joyously by all auditors as one of the big hits of the current season.

The second month commences with next Monday night's performance and the play's success has been of such proportions and the fascinating Dollys have scored such a triumph that the combination should serve to carry the new farce right through the season without change at the popular playhouse. The supporting cast, which comprises such excellent farceurs as Louise Randolph, Jessie Ralph, James Fennie, John Westley, Harry Lillford and J. Archer Curtis, is one of exceptional versatility.

Ward's, 57-61 Franklin street, Boston, has always been recognized as authorities on correct forms of engraving social stationery.

GUILD—FULLER

Miss Mildred Allen Fuller and Mr. Frederic Merrill Guild were quietly married at the bride's home in Water-town, Saturday, April 28th, at 6 P. M. Owing to the recent death of Mr. Guild's mother, only immediate relatives were present.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered china crepe, brought by her grandfather from Canton, China—and trimmed with rare old lace. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Her gift from the groom was a beautiful diamond cross. The wedding gifts were numerous and costly.

The Rev. Robert W. Drawbridge of Belmont performed the ceremony. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns, genesta and marguerites.

Mr. and Mrs. Guild are graduates of Newton High School.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Eleanor L. Allen entertained a number of her young friends at a delightful little party last week on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Austin on Higgins street, Auburndale.

The occasion was a celebration of her sixth birthday and the children passed a most enjoyable afternoon from two until five with games, music, etc.

A collation consisting of sandwiches, fancy crackers, candies, fruits and ice cream was served, and the rooms were decorated in pink and white. Flowers were arranged on the table and in the centre was a large birthday cake.

The little hostess was generously remembered by her young friends with many gifts. Among those present were Ruth Leighton, Frances Edmunds, Ruth Gleason, Mildred Gates, Helen Denty, Electa Allen, Lauraman Gates, Shirley King, Jack Hicks, Buddy Harris and Gerald Tobey.

ENLIST IN MARINE CORPS

Frederick Chester Toole, who has been working under Major W. H. Parker of the Marine Corp for the past six weeks, as publicity and recruiting Sergeant and Stafford B. Hobbs of Company B, Fifth Regiment, have enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and left last Monday for League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Hobbs is a graduate of Peeks-kill, N. Y., Military School, has spent one month at Fort Oglethorpe, and six months at the Mexican border last summer, and two years in the Mass. V. M.

Both boys were tendered a royal send off by the officers and members of Fraternity Lodge last Friday night and go forward to their new work with the well wishes of the fraternity and the citizens of the City of Newton.

Y. M. C. A.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team played the East End Union team last Saturday on the Y. M. C. A. field defeating them 13 to 3. The visitors will offer a suitable shield as a winning trophy for the winning school.

Games have been scheduled for this week Tuesday and Thursday, and will be continued as follows:

May 8th
Bigelow vs. Mann at Cabot Park.
Burr vs. Emerson at Auburndale.
Mason vs. Peirce at West Newton.

May 10th

WILBUR THEATRE—One of the most delightful farcical entertainments ever offered to the New England playgoers is "His Bridal Night," in which the piquant Dolly Sisters, Roziska and Yanci, have been given enthusiastic receptions by delighted audiences which have filled Ye Wilbur Theatre to capacity for the past month, and which has been declared joyously by all auditors as one of the big hits of the current season.

The second month commences with next Monday night's performance and the play's success has been of such proportions and the fascinating Dollys have scored such a triumph that the combination should serve to carry the new farce right through the season without change at the popular playhouse. The supporting cast, which comprises such excellent farceurs as Louise Randolph, Jessie Ralph, James Fennie, John Westley, Harry Lillford and J. Archer Curtis, is one of exceptional versatility.

Ward's, 57-61 Franklin street, Boston, has always been recognized as authorities on correct forms of engraving social stationery.

TWO NEW LIEUTENANTS

Chief of Police Frederic M. Mitchell, with the approval of Mayor Childs, has appointed Sergeants Bernard F. Burke and James J. Mullen to be Lieutenants in the Police Department, in place of William P. Soule and Robert S. Harrison, who have just retired under the age limit. The appointments took effect last week Thursday.

Lieutenant Burke is 55 years of age and was appointed a member of the force December 16, 1889, and made a sergeant October 30, 1902.

Lieutenant Mullen joined the department June 5, 1893, and was promoted to be sergeant January 1, 1910.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS ENLIST

Supt. Wheeler and Headmasters E. C. Adams, I. O. Palmer and M. W. Murray of the High Schools have endorsed the request of the Mass. Committee on Public Safety that the boys of the Newton High Schools enlist for national service for food production.

The boys will give twenty weeks' time the present summer, from now until October 1st, and will be assigned by the Committee on Public Safety to work on farms, in Middlesex County or somewhere in the state. They will be under the supervision of a High School teacher who will see that his board and living conditions are proper, and that his morals are safeguarded.

They will not be required to do hazardous or heavy work, and if 25 or more can be located in the same town they will be kept at a camp under a military organization. The boys will be paid for their work, and if found satisfactory they will be given an honorable discharge at the close of the period.

The schools and colleges are releasing the boys for this work, and they will be given full credit for the work of the school year.

NEIGHBORHOOD TEA

Mrs. Arthur E. Gill opened her residence on Lewis street last week on Thursday afternoon for a Neighborhood Tea in honor of Mrs. Frank J. Hale of Bigelow road and Mrs. W. O. Turner of Sylvan avenue, who have recently come to live in West Newton.

Mrs. Gill received her guests from half past three until half past five, in the reception room which was attractively decorated with Spring flowers.

In the dining-room the table decorations were very beautiful, a large mound of mignette being arranged effectively with yellow daffodils as a centre-piece.

The ladies who poured were Mrs. Henry C. Mitchell of Hillsdale avenue, Mrs. Herbert M. Cole of Somerset road, Mrs. George H. Bond of Otis street and Mrs. Samuel W. Manning of Lenox street.

About 100 guests prominent in the social life of West Newton Hill, were present.

RED CROSS WORK

Registration for classes in first aid may be made at the Hunnewell Club week days between ten and twelve o'clock in the morning.

When the number is complete (classes of twenty pupils being the most desirable) a class will be formed. Instruction will be given by a competent surgeon with the Red Cross certificate.

MRS. S. L. POWERS,

NEWTONVILLE SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, chairman of the Newtonville Branch of the Special Aid Society, presided at a recent interesting meeting of the Advisory Committee when reports of the chairmen were presented. A few of the facts brought out were:

303 members are now enrolled and are actively at work.

239 pounds of wool have been bought for socks, sweaters, etc.
490 garments have already been completed in the short time this organization has been at work.

Classes in Canning, under Mrs. Belt, are being given at the Vocational High School on Thursday and Friday afternoons at two o'clock. There are sixteen in each class and twelve lessons in a series.

Classes in Economical Cookery are being formed, to commence the latter part of May. Miss Nagle of Miss Farmer's School is to be the instructor and there will be seven lessons in a course with 12 persons in a class. Those interested may obtain further information from Mrs. H. V. Jones, Educational Chairman.

Two new groups are now at work, one, the Lend-a-hand group, working at the Universalist Church, and the second, a group of children, under Miss Alice H. Nelson, working at the Methodist Church, and assisting in the work for the "Shut-ins."

The Girl Scouts now number over a hundred girls who meet every Tuesday afternoon at the High School Gymnasium, and have had their first call for active service, when a group was sent to the home of Mrs. Malcolm, to wind yarn. Their present work is learning semaphore and they have had assistance from some of the Boy Scouts in this. Several girls have already passed their first tests and others will come up for examination this next week.

Residents of Newton cannot help being impressed by the usefulness of the work and the serious purpose of this Special Aid Society. In order to continue successfully, it is of course, necessary to have funds. Mrs. James Richard Carter, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, under whom an active campaign for funds is being made, repeats this urgent request for money. Donations of any size will be welcome and everyone is urged to contribute some amount. Mrs. Carter may be addressed at Austin street, West Newton, or contributions may be sent the Treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Allen, Kirkstall road.

Almost Every American Family
Can Own a Maxwell Car

Because it costs only $6 to $8 a month to run a Maxwell—much less than the average American family spends on luxuries

The average American family spends a great deal more than $6 or $8 a month on amusements and luxuries, most of which mean nothing—wouldn't even be missed.

If you owned a Maxwell you'd want to be out in it as much as possible

—which automatically would cut out more than enough of the cost of other pastimes to cover the cost of running your Maxwell —and besides, you'd be living better, healthier, happier, in the great out of doors, —and you'd take your place in the world as the owner of a motor car.

That's what the brains behind the Maxwell have done —given the world a car every man can own.

An achievement! Isn't it?

The Proof of These Statements

There's no theory about these cost-of-operation figures. They're based on what thousands of Maxwell owners are actually doing—running their cars on an absolute outlay of only $6 to $8 a month.

These enthusiastic Maxwell owners tell us, too, that they get upwards of 30 miles out of a gallon of gasoline—many do better than that.

The Maxwell holds the world's record for a non-motor-stop run. A Maxwell stock car made 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights—went 22 miles on every gallon of gasoline used on that long jaunt.

We could tell of many other supreme tests of Maxwell power, endurance and economy.

—magnificent deeds, never equalled by any other automobile.

—but we'll cite just one more:

A woman drove this Maxwell 9,700 miles.

Mrs. Miriam Seeley, Professor at the Oregon Agricultural College, made a 9,700-mile tour across the Continent and back in a Maxwell.

Her total expense account was 1½ cents a mile, including gasoline, oil and repairs.

And, remember, her journey was made on all sorts of roads—good and bad—across the desert and over the mountains. That's the Maxwell! Isn't that the car for the man who knows the worth of a dollar?

The World's Greatest Motor Car Value

The Maxwell touring car, equipped with all accessories, costs you today only $365 f. o. b. Detroit. Yet every bit of metal in it is the finest obtainable for the purpose used, and is rigidly subjected to the most advanced scientific tests.

Material cost has risen tremendously. How, then, can the best be used in a car priced so low?

The answer is—

—the purchasing power of an institution as vast as the Maxwell Motor Company,

—the most efficient machinery,

—the bravest and most skillful mechanics, vigilant and scrupulous technical and executive supervision,

—and the development of one model, of time-tried and proved design, to as near perfection as brains and skill can make it.

The Maxwell engine is a marvel of power and punch—simple, steady, durable and flexible.

Maxwell parts are all of known efficiency—not an experimental item in the whole car.

Maxwell—a Car to be Proud of

With refinement of finish, with grace and dignity of form and line—your Maxwell will show up splendidly alongside any car.

WOMEN'S CLUB

The thirty-seventh annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club followed a luncheon at the Newton Club on Friday. Before proceeding to business and the reading of the very interesting reports of the year's work, the club sang the Star Spangled banner and saluted our flag. The roll call was answered by patriotic quotations which aroused much enthusiasm. The club is in a very flourishing condition as shown by the reports, and anticipates a very full year in 1917-1918 under the direction of the following officers elected: President, Mrs. Robert Gorton, vice-presidents, Mrs. Bernard Early and Mrs. Francis Nowers, recording secretary, Mrs. Howard Gibbs, corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. L. Jordan, treasurer, Mrs. Arthur B. Monroe, auditor, Mrs. Guy Holbrook, and directors, Mrs. Walter Beedle, Mrs. Charles Anderson.

NEWTON FEDERATION

Officers elected for 1917-1918 are, President, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; vice-presidents, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. George W. St. Amant; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George W. Barker; treasurer, Miss Lilla A. Rider; auditor, Mrs. George E. Keyes. Resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In view of:—
The present world-wide crisis.
The absolute and direful need of conservation of human efficiency;
And in view of:—

The enormous waste of food material in manufacturing intoxicating and malt liquors.

And the terrible menace to military efficiency and moral conditions if such liquors continue to be manufactured and sold.

We, the undersigned, beseech your Excellency to exert all your influence to bring State and National Prohibition into effect, and to the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and Associate Organizations, representing four thousand women of the City of Newton, Mass.

Signed by
MRS. IRVING O. PALMER,
Pres. Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

MRS. B. E. TAYLOR,
Chairman of Social Service Committee.
MRS. L. H. MARSHALL,
Chairman of Education Committee.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The Newton Woman's Club held its annual meeting last week at the Brae-Burn Country Club.

The following officers were elected. The President, Marietta Shepard Clifford was unanimously re-elected. Vice-president, Minnie B. Young; recording secretary, Lillian Ruddick; corresponding secretary, Eleanor M. O'Brien; treasurer, Bertha W. Jenkins; auditor, Rebecca B. Graves; directors, Estelle L. Baker; Abbie A. Clapp; Sarah H. Miller; Marie E. Schwartz.

An elaborate luncheon was served in the tea-room, the tables being decorated with small flags and Spring blossoms.

At each plate was a handsome card of the Club-creed presented by the President.

After luncheon Mrs. Alice Lavelle McDonald gave a dramatic recital of "The Passersby" by Haddon Chambers, which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Clifford in a few fitting remarks voiced the sentiment of the club of a delightful year.

With the singing of patriotic songs the meeting adjourned.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

AT HEAD OF COLUMN Tickets for the Patriotic Fete to be given by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs are now in the hands of the club presidents. Since they were printed the place has been changed from the grounds on Hull street to the Athletic Field of the High school, where there will be opportunity for 1000 reserved seats and ample space for parking automobiles. An attractive feature of the Fete will be the May Pole Dance with its red, white and blue streamers, by young people of Abundant, also the solo dancing by Miss Frances M. Varney, and the folk dancing by children from Thompsonville. Other features will be announced from week to week. Remember the date is May 31st, weather permitting.

State Federation Annual Meeting

Great Barrington has been selected by the State Federation as the place for the Annual meeting and the dates, June 5, 6 and 7. The party will leave Boston on the 10 A. M. train June 5, arriving in Great Barrington the latter part of the afternoon, so that the opening session may be held that evening. During the following day the business will be continued with a reception that evening in charge of the hostess club, the Thursday Morning Club. On Thursday morning comes the closing session, adjourning in time to leave for home in the early afternoon. Mrs. George M. Baker, chairman of the Meetings committee, Concord, Mass., wishes the names of all who plan to go on the train announced and whether or not parlor car seats will be desired that she may make arrangements for sufficient accommodations. Further details concerning the meeting will be given later.

Local Announcements

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. B. R. Gilbert, 41 Woodward street, for its annual meeting on Saturday, May 5.

On Monday afternoon, May 7, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will hold its annual meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. E. G. Swift, 25 Wood-cliff road. Box luncheon at 1 P. M.

The annual meeting of the Newton Mothers Club will be held on May 7, at the home of Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr., the president. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock.

The Preparedness Committee of the Abundant Woman's Club announces that from the 670 cards which were carefully and conscientiously filled out by the women and children of Abundant, a catalog has been completed which contains 1220 cards of different colors as they refer to the varying lines of activity to which these people have pledged their patriotic service. The catalog has already been called into use, and is proving itself thoroughly practical. It is at the service of the various organizations doing constructive preparedness work in the community.

The Classes committee of the Abundant Woman's Club announces that the classes in First Aid will be continued through the summer. There will also be cooking classes as advocated by the Red Cross, specializing in economy without elimination of food value. The cooking classes are to be conducted in the Pierce School in West Newton. Send in names at once for either course to Mrs. W. D. Gilpatrick. Membership in the classes is not confined to club members, or to residents of Abundant.

On Thursday, May 10, at 3 o'clock in the Congregational chapel an extra meeting of the Abundant Woman's Club will be held to which the public is cordially invited. Mrs. Effie S. Nowers of Lexington, will lecture upon "Planting and Canning," a vital subject at the present day. Mrs. Nowers, who is a former clerk of the Massachusetts State Federation, has made a specialty of fruit raising in the past few years and speaks from first-hand information.

"Early Days in Auburn Dale" is the title of a little volume just published by the Education committee of the Abundant Woman's Club. It is attractively gotten up with half-tone cuts of familiar scenes and many views of historic houses. There are also maps, one of the Newtons in 1831 and another of the village showing early streets and later ones with the location of many of the early houses. The proceeds from the sale will go to Red Cross work. Copies may be obtained from members of the retiring Education committee, Mrs. C. B. Bostwick, 16 Irvington road, Mrs. E. J. Winslow, 222 Grove street, Miss Louise Peloubet, 132 Woodland road and at Miss Donovan's store.

Local Happenings

Truly festive was the scene in the Methodist Parish House on Tuesday, April 24th, while the box luncheon announced last week by the Abundant Woman's Club was in progress. At round tables decorated with broad stripes of red, white and blue, were seated a goodly number of club members. Mrs. W. A. Stiles proved a capable auctioneer, and much hilarity was occasioned by the auction sale of the mysterious boxes and baskets, in the decoration of which much artistic work had been done. From boxes adorned with simple bows of ribbon, or with flags ingeniously arranged, the works of art ranged through clever representations of drums, and of log cabins, to a little model of a house and yard faithfully guarded by two sturdy paper sentries. Socially the affair was a great success, and a considerable sum of money was raised for the preparedness work of the Newton Hospital. The Club has adopted as its slogan, "Newton first."

The meeting which followed, Miss Stoddard, representing the Massachusetts Prohibition and Conservation Committee, made a stirring appeal for the interest of women in nation wide prohibition for the time of the war. Six billion pounds of food stuffs are used yearly in the United States to make alcoholic drinks. The transportation of food stuffs is hindered by the transportation of liquor. A resolution urging federal legislation on this question was endorsed by the club.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane; first vice-president, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson; second vice-president, Mrs. Joseph R. Draper; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Arthur F. Bish; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow; treasurer, Miss Margaret Haskell; assistant treasurer, Miss Carolyn Hollis; directors, Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, Mrs. R. H. Fisher, Mrs. Charles P. Darling; auditor, Mrs. Amos R. Wells.

While the ballots were being counted by the tellers, annual reports were read by the retiring secretaries, the treasurer, and the chairmen of the various committees. On listening to these reports some deeply serious, others lightened by humorous touches, but all speaking of faithful, earnest work, one realized anew what a constructive force in the community is the Abundant Woman's Club.

After the report of the tellers, the retiring president, speaking feelingly of the red, white and blue with which the gavel was tied, handed it to the new president, Mrs. Lane spoke of the unknown difficulties which this year of our best service to the club, called for the loyalty of all members to their country, their city, and their club. At a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Wentworth for her fine service, the meeting was adjourned for the season.

On Saturday afternoon the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands met with its president, Mrs. W. E. Moore, Hillside road, and held its Annual Review under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Pratt. The meeting began somewhat earlier than usual, the members gathering at half past twelve and enjoying luncheon together before the serious work of the afternoon was taken up.

Mrs. Pratt considered the work of the year under the two themes, "Lore and Humour." She brought out Shakespeare's method of treating these subjects by means of comparison with other writers such as Browning, Moliere, and Cervantes.

Mrs. H. B. Walker was the hostess for the annual meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands, held April 30. The reports for the year showed a steady growth in the vital concerns of club work, as well as an interesting year from the study of some of Shakespeare's plays. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Chas. H. Keeler; first vice-president, Mrs. S. A. Thompson; second vice-president, Mrs. W. M. Mick; recording secretary, Mrs. Eben Williams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chas. T. Bartlett; treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Patton; auditor, Mrs. C. S. Luitwieler; directors for one year, Mrs. A. H. Armstrong, Mrs. L. H. Marshall; director for two years, Mrs. G. W. Barker, Mrs. D. W. Eagles.

An unusually interesting afternoon was spent by the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday at the home of Mrs. Fred R. Hayward, when Miss Margaret E. Rich, secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, spoke to the club upon "Welfare work," touching particularly upon Mothers' Aid. Miss Rich approves of this method of assistance, although she said there is no one panacea for all cases. She spoke of problems confronting the social worker and asked for volunteers to supplement what the Bureau is endeavoring to accomplish.

Dr. H. H. Powers addressed the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning at the closing meeting of the season. His address was a summing up of the study of Colonization, in which he compared the methods of the various countries and discussed the ethics of Imperialism.

The question of colonies, he said, is the one which the world is struggling over today. Five hundred years ago Europe controlled about 60 per cent of the globe, today it controls 90 per cent. By the beginning of the 16th century everything except Australia, had been discovered and in the empty land colonies had grown up. The first attempts, those of Spain and Portugal, were a failure because these countries lived upon the loot of their colonies. France made a similar mistake, in that she tried to convert the world to her particular religious views and thereby developed anemic colonies. England, however, had the advantage by beginning late and profiting by the mistakes of her predecessors. She has succeeded in developing great off-shoots of the English race. Two mistakes she made with her American colonies: The introduction of an alien race to perform the work and we have the negro problem as a result. The other was in crowding them into participation in the affairs of the empire; in other words, she did not keep the race pure and did not maintain race cohesion.

England's real triumph has been in the development of her great colonies of Australia, Canada and New Zealand, which are virtually independent. These are all situated in the temperate zone. But the problem of the tropical dependents is quite another matter. The races that can do things are those having a large amount of available energy, which is a physical impossibility with natives of the tropics. Of the four different methods of control tried in the tropics, the autocratic with native council, the giving of real control to the natives and lastly, the putting of natives upon the throne with advisors from the mother country, as the Dutch and English have done in later years, Professor Powers considers the last the most successful. He feels that it is impossible for the natives of the tropics to successfully govern themselves alone and therefore it is the duty of the white man to come in and assist, since civilization would break down if we could not have the products of the tropics.

At the business meeting which preceded the lecture, committees for next year were confirmed and a resolution urging nationwide prohibition during the period of the war was passed, a copy of which to be telegraphed to President Wilson and one sent to the State Federation. A committee was appointed to keep in touch with the Nonantam Vacation School and to use its influence that the work there may not be abandoned entirely.

Newton Federation

That the women of the city are absorbed in numerous activities arising out of the present crisis did not materially affect the attendance at the annual meeting of the Newton Federation held at the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, on Tuesday, May 1st. The annual reports of the officers showed increased interest in the Federation during the past year. One club has been admitted and six organizations have become affiliated during the past year, so that the Federation now represents 4,000 women of the city. Two other clubs, the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, and the Journey Club, have applied for membership and will be voted upon at the meeting of the executive board on May 21st. An amendment to the constitution was acted upon which removes the necessity of a club's waiting to be one year old in order to join.

The president, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, reported that Baby Week was observed by the distribution of 1100 pamphlets concerning care of babies through the Twentieth House in Upper Falls, at Thompsonville, at the Stearns School Centre, at the West Newton Day Nursery. These were published in English, French, Italian and Yiddish and were secured through the courtesy of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. The report of the Education committee presented by the chairman, Mrs. L. H. Marshall, will be given substantially in full in a later issue of the Graphic. Mrs. Marshall reported that twenty women have enrolled themselves for the class in Spanish to be given in the fall and that there is room for more. Names may be sent to her within the next few days as she is anxious to fill up the number before she retires from her position as chairman.

Then followed the reports of the presidents of the clubs comprising the Federation. The limiting of the time and the strict adhering to it was a success, for never were the reports of greater interest nor better given. Luncheon was served by the Newton Club caterer under the direction of the Social committee, Mrs. Harry N. Milliken, chairman.

Mrs. Palmer acted as toastmistress for the post-prandial exercises and the toasts proposed comprised the words of the name of the organization.

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, retiring president.

Others to be organized as soon as possible.

High School Boys

To meet the shortage in labor for work in the home gardens of the city, an appeal has been made to the boys of the High schools, and they have responded nobly. Some 165, between the ages of 14 and 16 have agreed to work, receiving 20 cents an hour.

These boys are doing a patriotic service by thus volunteering and it is proposed to recognize it with an appropriate badge and honorable discharge when they have faithfully completed their term of service. Mr. Thurber of the Technical High School is in charge of this work, and boys may be engaged by application to him directly or through the food committee's office.

The older boys are being enlisted to work on farms to help out the professional farmers to whom the state must look for the largest increase in its food supply. The plans being made for this work, under the direction of Messrs. Palmer and Murray are very interesting and we hope soon to tell of it in detail.

Garden Supervision

The sub-committee on garden supervision, Messrs. W. W. Colton and Alfred Macdonald have arranged to have a desk and telephone at the office of the Newton Safety Committee, No. 893 Washington street, Newtonville, telephone Newton North 2381.

Communications relative to garden supervision which are not handled by the several village improvement societies may be referred to this office. A clerk will be in the office and will answer all questions directly or refer them to the proper persons who can answer them. The committee would consider it a favor if inquiries were made in person or by telephone of this office before calling up the members.

A technically trained agriculturist, Mr. Cyril Farquhar, has been engaged to work under the direction of the committee and is at present going about the city giving advice to those who may desire it.

Children's Gardens

The Committee on Public Safety is cooperating with the school department in their endeavor to have many school gardens, and children's home gardens. In the upper grades the school garden work will be compulsory for all and land has been provided for such gardens. Children who have no land near their homes for home-gardens will have it supplied them by the Public Safety Committee.

The Playground Commission has turned over land on the playgrounds for children's gardens and Mr. Ernest Hermann has arranged to have the playground supervisors inspect and care for the gardens on these lands. Plans are now being made for similar work in connection with the home gardens.

Village Offices

During the last week, the Men's Club committee of West Newton has opened an office at No. 455 Cherry street (under the bank) telephone Newton West 14. Miss Burgess will be in charge day times, one of the committee being there evenings, and an expert on Thursday evenings. The committee badly needs more land in West Newton.

The Newton Highlands Improvement Association is No. 2 Hartford street, at the square, with Miss Hurd in charge. Office hours, 4 to 5 P. M. and 7 to 8.30 P. M.

The Newtonville Association's office is No. 893 Washington street, the same as that of the safety committee. The Newton Association's office is at the public library and as announced the Newton Centre Association has its office with the B. S. Hatch Co., Bray's Block.

Prices For Seed Potatoes

Prices for the seed potatoes purchased by the committee have been fixed at $1.10 for a peck, $2.10 for half a bushel, $4 for a bushel, and $3.90 a bushel in ten bushel lots. These are for the potatoes delivered. Orders may be given to B. S. Hatch Co., or to the Newtonville office of the food committee. Its telephone is Newton North 2381.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The most important social event of the week was the May Dance on Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club.

About one hundred and twenty-five members and their guests assembled in Stanley Hall and Russell's Orchestra was in attendance with a fine program of popular selections.

The dining hall was attractive with Spring flowers.

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

Such a success has been the first of the Seven Deadly Sins been that patrons of the Newton Opera House are eagerly awaiting the news of the coming of more of this famous McClure series of five-act dramas.

Manager Fisher announces H. B. Warner in "Wrath" as the next of the series. "Wrath" will be seen on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. "Wrath" tells a timely story of Russian intrigue, of Russian heroes and Russian villains—just the sort of a play in which H. B. Warner appears at his best, a tale of love and battle.

EX-MAYOR HIBBARD

Death Occurs on Tuesday after a Brief Illness

Hon. Hermon E. Hibbard, a resident of this city for over forty years, died last Tuesday at his home on Washington street, Hunnewell Hill after an illness of but a few hours. He attended to his business as principal of the Bryant and Stratton School in Boston on Friday as usual but was found seriously ill on Saturday morning and never rallied.

Hermon Eliza Hibbard was born in North Hero, Vermont, March 28, 1848, and after receiving the usual education of a country boy came to Boston when 18 years of age. He found employment as an office boy in the Bryant and Stratton Commercial School, later became one of its teachers and in 1868 was its proprietor. Since that date he has made this school the leader in its line in New England.

Mr. Hibbard made the school one of the institutions of New England and realized his early ideal of developing a college of commercial education, second to none in the country.

He became a resident of Newton in 1873, residing at first on Jefferson street, and later removing to his present residence on Washington street. He took a deep interest in city affairs and was active in developing the Hunnewell hill section of the community. He accepted the Citizens nomination for Mayor in the fall of 1889 but was defeated by Mayor Burr. The next year, however, he was elected Mayor and served for two years. During his administration the city began the construction of the present sewer system, and, on one occasion when there was some delay in providing sufficient funds, Mr. Hibbard personally advanced a considerable sum of money for the purpose. He has since received his wages. Mr. Hibbard foresaw the future of this city and under his leadership the first steps were taken towards the construction of the present Commonwealth avenue. He was one of the original members of the Hunnewell club and was also a member of the Boston Art Club, and has served for many years as one of the Sinking Fund Commissioners of the city.

He married Miss Mary Holyoke of St. Albans, Vt., who died five years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Effie Mary, the wife of Mr. Walter B. Trowbridge of Pelham Manor, N. Y.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at his late residence, Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of Eliot Church officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and business associates, and four of the older teachers of the Bryant and Stratton school acted as the pall bearers. The interment was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery.

On the announcement of his death the flags of the city were ordered at half mast by Mayor Childs as a tribute of respect.

CAPTAIN RANLETT DEAD

Captain Charles E. Ranlett, for fifty years a resident of Auburndale, died last night at his home on Central street. Capt. Ranlett, who has been confined to his room for some months, celebrated his 100th birthday on November 9 of last year and was the oldest resident of the city.

He was born November 9, 1816 at Montville, Maine, and went to sea at an early age, being employed in the coasting trade. At about the age of twenty-five, he took command of the bark "Alabama" and in her and his next command, the fine clipper ship "Kentucky," was engaged in trade between New York, New Orleans, and European ports. In 1847 he became captain of the bark "Miltiades," in which, during the Irish famine, he made voyages to Limerick, Odessa, and Antwerp. In 1850 in the ship "Ionian" he made the voyage to San Francisco, and was there at the time of the great fire of 1851. In this ship and in the ship "Oracle," he made several voyages to India, China, and Australia. In 1860, in a schooner "Nautilus," he made a scientific expedition to Labrador and Greenland, and in 1864 and 1865 in the bark "Sunbeam" made a voyage to Australia, Peru, Ireland, and Spain, taking with him his whole family. His last command was the bark "Asterias."

Between these voyages he was a resident of Thomaston, Maine, and in 1863 was representative from that town in the Maine Legislature. He removed to Auburndale in 1866. In the years 1871-1872 he was one of the selectmen of Newton, and was one of the City's representatives in the General Court in the years 1877-1878-1879.

He was a member of the Auburndale Congregational Church and of the New England Historical and Genealogical Society.

Captain Ranlett was twice married, his first wife being Elizabeth Bond Stearns and the second, Ann M. Jordan.

He is survived by one son, Mr. Frederick J. Ranlett and one daughter, Miss S. Alice Ranlett, both of Auburndale.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at his late residence on Central street.

The Young Men's Christian Association, State Executive Committee, 167 Tremont street, Boston, desires gifts of phonograph records, current magazines, and books, for use in its work among the soldiers and navy men. Contributions may be left at 167 Tremont street, Boston, at the office of the Graphic, or with Luther Paul Coal Co., Newton Centre.

EX-MILITIA MEN FORMING HOME GUARD

The Claflin Guard Veteran Corps, composed of past members of Company C, has organized a Home Guard Company. This should be a valuable addition to our local defence battalion because of the fact that all of its members have had considerable military training. The next drill of this Company will be held in Hibernian Hall, Newton, on Tuesday evening, May 8th. Commander A. Leslie Moriarty of the Corps is in charge of the enlistments in this unit, and would be pleased to have all former members of Company C join.

NEWTON MAN ELECTED SECRETARY

Mr. Francis J. Burrage of Fairfax street, West Newton, for over 20 years connected with the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, was elected secretary of the Company at the meeting of the directors held on Tuesday. Mr. Burrage entered the employ of the company in 1896, and has been steadily advanced from one position to another, and has been an assistant secretary for several years. He is the treasurer of the Neighborhood Club of West Newton, and active in social circles in the city. It is interesting to note that Mr. Burrage's election took place on the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Company.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

Nearly 100 members and their guests were present at the Neighborhood Club Saturday evening when the last in the series of bowling tournaments was held.

It was a very closely waged contest between the ladies and the men, there being ten on each side, and the men won by two points.

Both teams were enthusiastically applauded. Following the game a lobster supper was served. The hostesses were Mrs. George R. Whitten, Mrs. Henry Robbins, and Mrs. Arthur Howland.

The pleasant affair closed with dancing.

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

Is Active in Many Lines of Effective Work at the Present Time

All information regarding purposes and work of the Newton Committee on Public Safety and its sub-committees, can be obtained at 893 Washington street, Newtonville, Telephone North 2380.

The school children have not been overlooked in the campaign for more gardens in this city. Under the direction of Mr. MacDonald they will be provided with gardens in connection with the schools and for these the school committee will provide the seeds. For the gardens of the high school pupils arrangements have been made by Mr. MacDonald for the furnishing of seed at a much lower price than it could be purchased individually. This is accomplished by the purchase in the first instance by the Newton Committee of Public Safety, acting through its committee on food production. With the assistance of some of the school pupils, the seeds will be done up in packages, for which the pupils will pay, thus reimbursing the committee.

Cooking Exhibition

The exhibit of the Women's Municipal League, in connection with economical cooking, will be held at the Technical High School on Tuesday, May 15, at 3 P. M. Mrs. Brown will give a brief lecture on food values and there will be an exhibition of meats to show the different cuts.

At the meeting of the Food Production Committee on Monday evening, Miss Kenrick, chairman of the sub-committee on cooking classes, was authorized to employ a second teacher as Miss Priest already has ten classes a week, which are all she can properly care for. Announcement of the additional classes will be made as soon as possible.

From orders already received it was evident that the demand for preserving jars already given would soon be exhausted and it was decided to purchase 150 gross of one-quart jars, and to limit the number sold to any one person to one gross.

Favors National Prohibition

The committee voted to favor national prohibition as a saving of food supplies and to send a copy of the resolution to the President, the senators from Massachusetts, and the congressman from this district.

Busy Villages

Mr. Allen of Waban reported that the plowing has been practically finished there. The association has plowed 17 acres. A planting day is planned for a week from Saturday. Two acres of land have been set aside as a community garden to be cultivated by the men of the Home Guard, and the produce distributed among those in need. Prizes have been offered the children for their work. The Women's Club is in charge of the canning work and is cooperating with the improvement association. Seventy-five families have taken lots, but on Monday evening there were still six acres unassigned.

In Newton Centre the plowing is finished and Dr. West is making an inspection to see that all the land is to be cultivated.

Ten applications for land had been received by the Lower Falls committee, according to Mr. Baker's report and assignments will be made as soon as it is determined how much of the city land will be available for the purpose, this being the only land in the village which can be so used.

High School Boys

The committee is making every effort to acquaint people with the fact that a number of high school boys have enrolled for garden work. It is earnestly hoped that their services will be in demand. Application should be made to Mr. Samuel Thurber, Technical High School, Newtonville.

LABOR. High School boys are ready to go to work in your gardens now. More than 200 are enrolled for afternoon, Saturday and summer vacation employment at 20 cents an hour.

Call office of the Newton Committee on Public Safety, New North 2380 or write your wants to the chairman of High School Enrollment Committee, Samuel Thurber, Technical High School, Newtonville.

Mr. Harry R. Howard, instructor in mathematics in the Classical High School is a member of Company 5.

The first detail of about 1000 men will report at Plattsburg on May 12, and the rest on May 14th.

The following Newton men have received appointments in the Officers' Reserve Corps since April 24th, viz Captain Irving J. Well, quartermaster, Newton, and Capt. Lewis H. Beers, engineer, Newtonville.

THE BUDGET

Largest Amount ever Appropriated for City Expenses

The final figures for the budget of 1917 making a total of $1,657,616.48 do not tell the whole story of the cost of our city government, for they do not include $38,611.69 which have already been appropriated, $1,726.60 which was appropriated the same night as the budget, and an item of $25,000 for Special Building repairs will be certainly appropriated within the next six weeks, so that the grand total will be not far from $1,723,000 when the tax levy is fixed. This sum is approximately $100,000 more than the expenses for 1916, and about $60,000 more than the city appropriations in the levy of 1916.

The principal items in the budget are the following:

School department, $463,641.93 which includes about $27,000 for increases in salary and which is more than $50,000 larger than the expense of 1916.

Street department, $368,619.50 an increase of $13,000 over last year, and which includes $42,000 for resurfacing, $60,000 for street maintenance, $18,508 for new equipment, and $64,441 for street lighting.

The Police department, $119,023.42, an increase of $13,000. The Fire department, $98,157.81, Forestry department, $60,776, Charity department, $48,109, Library department, $36,355, and which had the sole distinction of having its estimates passed without a change of a figure, Health department, $38,895, Buildings department, $38,546, to which $25,000 will be added later, and the Playground department, $24,883, and which includes a new bathhouse at Allison park, and a new sanitary building at Newton Highlands playground.

LET US HELP YOU SAVE MONEY

The Newton Committee on Public Safety has arranged with the Municipal League of Boston for a food exhibition to be held at the Newton Technical High School, Newtonville, next Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock.

A lecturer will be present to explain the exhibit and to answer questions relating to the subject. Admission will be free and the affair will be of great educational value to women interested in food values.

TO FORM NEWTON BRANCH

It has been decided to form an all Newton branch of the Boston Active Corps of the Special Aid Society. A meeting will be held at the Hunnewell Club, Newton, Monday afternoon, May 14th, at 4:30 o'clock. Please come and bring friends between the ages of 15 and 40 years. Miss Nora Saltonstall will speak. For further information communicate with Miss H. Fredericks, 8 Park Avenue, Newton.

Committee: H. Fredericks, Chairman, E. Fredericks, A. Clapp, M. Strong.

WILL COST $140,000

Street Railway Co. Hard Hit by Arbitration on Wages of Men

Messrs. Henry C. Sawyer, chairman, Arthur A. Ballantine and James H. Vaher, the arbitrators between the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company and their employees handed down their decision last week on the seven questions which they have had under consideration for several months.

The questions included:

1. The hourly rate of wages and scale for blue uniform men.

2. The hourly rate of wages and overtime for barnmen and other employees.

3. Whether there shall be a graduated scale for three years for barnmen and other employees.

4. Whether all regular runs shall pay at least 9 hours' wages.

5. Whether all employees shall have free transportation on book tickets.

6. Whether there shall be a minimum day's wages for other employees than blue uniform men.

7. When the award shall terminate.

On the first question the award states that the cost of living has increased 10 per cent since the last award in 1914, with wages lagging behind almost 10 per cent. "It is perfectly clear that the Company has no sufficient surplus from which to pay increased labor charges and it is equally apparent that the revenues, under present conditions, will not be sufficient to provide for increased wages without denying to stockholders a just return on their investment. The Company has been economically and efficiently managed. It is extremely conservative in salaries paid executive officers and it is clear that its financial condition is not due to extravagance or lack of efficiency. It does not seem possible that any Company could be better or more thrifty conducted."

The board believes that the limitation upon the income of the employer is one within the control of the Public Service Commission. Public interest requires a continuation of the service rendered by this railroad. It ought not to be contained at a loss either to the owners or the operatives. The board cannot deal with the matter of increased revenues for the Company, but it does not believe the operatives should submit to the injustice of working for wages less than sufficient to maintain the most frugal sort of living. It is quite as important that the men should be paid an adequate wage as that the mechanism

Aldermen Refuse All Pony Express Licenses. Large Increase in Annual Budget

Two matters of importance received the consideration of the aldermen last Monday evening, when the budget for the year amounting to $1,657,616.48 was passed as recommended by the Finance committee, and all permits to transport intoxicating liquors in this city were refused. Both matters were debated at length, the longest arguments on the budget coming, as usual, on unimportant salary increases, while the largest items of appropriations received little or no attention.

President Early presided and all the members save Aldermen Cobb, Harriman, and Tuttle were present.

Many unimportant routine hearings were held without opposition, including Edison poles on Crafts street, conduits in Bigelow road, relocations on Lincoln street, Edison and Telephone poles on Hull street, on taking land for a sewer in Silver Lake avenue, and laying a concrete sidewalk on Maple street. A written remonstrance was filed from H. D. Cabot and others on the petition of the Newtonville and Watertown Street Railway Company for a turnout on Crafts street at Watertown street.

A large number of Auburndale people appeared in opposition to petition of Byron B. Mitchell for a gasoline license on Commonwealth avenue and Phillips street, including Messrs. R. W. Moyer, Chas. E. Fogg, Stanley Smith, George S. Haddock, and Miss Edna Moyer. Mr. Mitchell being the only person favoring the petition.

Mayor Childs sent in numerous messages mostly regarding minor changes in the budget estimates. He appointed three of the Registrars of Voters, Messrs. George H. Bourne, William J. Doherty, and City Clerk Grant, a board of conscription to register persons liable to be drafted for war service. He also recommended that authority be granted the Forestry Department to plow land for private individuals at cost, that $225 be appropriated for a flag pole at Waban, that $1000 additional be allowed for Special Police, and that $376.60 be approved for a new automobile for the Health Department. He also sent in the following message relative to the death of Ex-Mayor H. E. Hibbard:

Gentlemen: It is my sad duty to announce to you the death on Tuesday last of Honorable Hermon E. Hibbard.

He held the office of Mayor of this city in 1891 and 1892.

A successful candidate on a citizen's ticket, which is always a personal tribute, he proved an honest, independent and constructive executive who set in motion forces which have resulted in many of the benefits which our people enjoy today.

The story of his life from boyhood demonstrates the fact that, in this land of the free, the youth with character and purpose has a great opportunity. That story should inspire any lad in this city whose yoke is not easy and whose burden is far from light.

Very truly yours,
EDWIN O. CHILDS,
Mayor.

The Planning Board sent in a report on the matter of establishing a building line recommending that in acceptance of all new streets a building line or set back should be established, except on streets to be exclusively devoted to business purposes. That a building line be immediately established on Charlesbank road and St. James street as recommended in the annual report of the board. That a building line be established on Walnut street with a view to ultimate widening. That lines be established on Florence street to meet similar work now being done in Brookline. That a building line on Commonwealth avenue be given careful consideration and are of the opinion that it would be welcomed by most of the land owners. The board reports that as the law now authorizes abandonment of building lines, there is no valid reasons for not taking action.

The Street Commissioner recommended street sprinkling on certain streets, the Mass. Anti-Saloon Society called attention to the permissive nature of the liquor transportation law, and the Governor proclamation for Arbor Day was placed on file.

Petitions of Samuel W. Tucker and A. D. Dowd for renewal of auctioneer licenses, Chas. H. Sadler for Common Victualer license, of Mason & Wells Co. to discharge fireworks on Needham street were granted. Other petitions were received from F. P. Welch and Geo. S. Reid for auctioneer licenses, J. T. Haffer for automobile license, M. S. Belzickian for pool room license, Mrs. Alice Chandler for Intelligence office, C. Gianacopoulos & Co. for common victualer license, Adams Express for liquor transportation permit, for curbing on California street, for sewers in Commonwealth avenue, Fairview park, Commonwealth park, for laying out of Nottingham street, and for street sprinkling on Parker street.

Petitions for permits to use numerous private garages, and for apportionment of betterment assessment of Bertha A. Craus were granted.

On reports of committees Michael Farina was granted a pool table, Garfinkle and Barkin permit for private garage on Chestnut terrace, the Edison Co. a conduit on Beacon street, pole locations on Chapel street, attachments on Regent street, the Telephone Co. relocation on Marlboro street, attachments on Pleasant street and Linwood avenue, sewers were authorized in Old Colony road, Harvard

The passage of 1917 budget gives some idea of the amount of the tax levy for the year. The total figure is about $60,000 more than that in the tax levy of 1916, and represents, on the present valuation an increase of about 70 cents in the rate. As there is every reason to believe that the present valuations cannot be maintained, largely on account of the loss of personal valuations on intangibles, now assessed by a state income tax, and on which the city is to be reimbursed on a 1915 or 1916 (not 1917) tax income (a $18.90 rate), and as the state tax is expected to be about five or six millions larger than 1916, due to war conditions, it is evident that the tax rate for 1917 will be at least one dollar higher than 1916, and it is easily possible that it may reach $21.00 per $1000.

The efforts of the Planning Board to induce the city government to establish building lines on certain streets over the city have been encouraged. Building lines will save future generations large sums of money when it becomes necessary to widen some of our thoroughfares.

The trustees of the Newton Free Library evidently have the confidence of the city government as their estimates of expenses for 1917 were unchanged in the budget as passed—the only department of the city with this record.

The Finance Committee of the aldermen has given the city the most valuable service in its consideration of the 1917 budget, and its report met the deserved approval of the full board.

The aldermen acted wisely in refusing to grant any pony express licenses in this city. The plan which has been in operation during the past few years has been a rank discrimination.

The action of the aldermen in sending telegrams to Washington after refusing to grant a pony express license, reminds us of the cackle of a hen after laying an egg.

ical equipment should be maintained, and the board differentiates between the payment of fair living wages and the payment of a just return on invested capital, as wages are a factor of service upkeep.

The average wage for blue uniformed men is $7.96 per hour, and an increase of 9.31 per cent will produce an average of $30.92 per hour.

For the period beginning July 1, 1917, the board approves this schedule:

	No. Men	Rate
1st year	89	26
2d "	14	28
5th "	164	33

For periods ending July 1, 1918 and July 1, 1919 these rates are approved:

1st year	27	27.5
2d "	29	29.5
3d "	31	31.5
5th "	34	34.5

The board finds that it is not practical to establish a graduated scale for barnmen and approves schedules from present rates ranging between 20 and 35 cents to 22 and 35.5 for 1917, to 22.5 and 35.5 in 1918, and 22.5 and 35.5 in 1919. Trackmen are increased from 25 and 29 to 27.5 and 32 for 1917, to 28.25 and 33 for 1918, and to 28.75 and 33.5 in 1919. Track rollers will jump from 20 and 25 to 22 and 27.5 in 1917, to 22.5 and 28.25 in 1918, and to 23 and 28.75 in 1919.

The matter of a graduated scale for barnmen, etc. is not allowed.

On question 4 the board finds that the financial condition is such that the Company ought not to pay for any unnecessary time.

Transportation for employees will continue as at present, on exhibit of the badge.

The board finds that it is inadvisable to grant a minimum day's wage for barnmen, etc.

The award dates back to July 1, 1916, and increases the payroll of the Company $25,000 for the first year, and a total increase of $140,000 for the three years the agreement will run.

NEWTON WINS

Twenty-eight hits all told were made by Newton High and Brookline High in their game in the Quadrangular League, played at old Tech field, Brookline, Tuesday afternoon. Newton won, 12 to 4, with 18 hits for a total of 17 bases.

Newton has won three league games and lost two, being twice beaten by Cambridge Latin.

Sawyer of Newton was fairly effective with players on the bases. Muldowney, a new recruit, started on the mound for Brookline and he went well until he found, when Newton made four hits and scored five runs. Ferguson succeeded Muldowney and after two were out in the eighth, he was found for seven successive hits, six runs counting. Kendrick finished out.

Eaton played strongly at first for Newton and made four hits. Henry Garity came through with three, one of which was a double. He accepted nine chances with only one misplay.

EARLY DAYS

In last week's GRAPHIC mention was made of the publication of "Early Days in Auburndale," its attractive cuts, and valuable maps. But of special interest to many are the historical sketches and old-time reminiscences which make very vivid the early life of the village. Much original research has brought to light interesting facts and linked them with the present in such a way as to be both instructive and entertaining to all interested in Auburndale.

street extension, Wachusett road, hearings assigned on laying out of Moffat road, Carver road, for sidewalk on Walnut street, for sewers in Rucker terrace and Moffat road, and on curbing on California street, authorizing street sprinkling on certain streets, appropriating 94 cents Workmen's Compensation of Gaetano Santillo, granting $376.60 for new auto Health department, $1000 for special police, and $350 for clerical work done in conducting liquor license in Silver Lake apartments, authorizing Forestry department to plow private land at cost, and requesting Mayor to obtain bids for sewer work on Boylston street, Thompsonville.

Leave to withdraw was granted on junk petition of Michael Hughes, to F. Gasbarr, C. G. Newcomb, John & Keene, and S. Morrell for liquor transportation permits, and on sewer in Boylston street.

Bonds of Andrew Prior as constable and of Francis Newhall as Collector of Taxes were approved. A pool room license was granted to M. J. Hines in Nonantum square. An order was also passed declaring the result of the election for constitutional delegates on May 1st.

Communications were received from the Newton W. C. T. U., the Newton Y. M. C. A., the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Newton Civic Council requesting the board to refuse all pony express permits for the present year.

The report of the Finance Committee on the budget called for an appropriation of $1,657,616.48 and stated that in making salary increases the board had followed a general policy of limiting increases in salaries to those receiving $1500 or less. The committee also stated that the Finance Committee had struck down all unnecessary or inadequate salaries on a new schedule calling for an initial salary of $1000 and increase of $100 annually until a maximum of $1300 was reached. The first item considered was that of $950 for auditing the books of the Comptroller of Accounts, which the Finance Committee had struck down as unnecessary or inadequate.

Alderman Hollis wanted the item put back and Alderman Kendrick suggested that the other item of $600 for auditing books of the treasurer be also held up and the two matters considered together. This suggestion stopped discussion, but the $600 item was later voted in by the full board.

An attempt was made to increase the salary of the City Messenger from $1300, the figure reported by the Finance Committee to $1350. Alderman Hollis, Haggood, and Whidden speaking in favor and Alderman Murphy opposing, but it was defeated by a vote of 9 to 8. The items for the Buildings department were also discussed at length. The salary of the Buildings Commissioner, which the Finance Committee had left at $2350 was the principal matter at issue. Alderman Clark, Whidden, and Blake urging an increase to $2500 and Alderman Winslow, Angier, and Murphy opposing such action. The committee was finally sustained 9 to 8. Alderman McCarthy favored increasing the salary of the Plumbing Inspector from $1900 to $2000, but could only muster 3 votes in favor. The action of the Finance Committee in eliminating the usual item of $25,000 for Special Building repairs was attacked by Alderman Clark, Whidden, and Hollis, who wanted the item retained in the budget. Alderman Winslow, Angier, and Murphy opposed on the ground that the Building Commissioner had failed to furnish promised details of expenditures under this item in 1916, and that he should come to the board for each item in the future. There was no disposition to save the money, but only to have the Commissioner make a request for money as needed. The committee was sustained on this matter. Alderman Hollis endeavored to have the Police and Fire appropriations increased by making the maximum salary $1400 on the 5th and subsequent years of service, but was defeated. The budget was then adopted and authority granted to expend the appropriations therein contained.

The majority report of the License Committee opposing a pony express license to the American Express Company was also discussed. Some time, Alderman Whidden favoring the granting of the permit as he was opposed to forcing prohibition on the citizens of Newton in this way, and because he believed that 20 per cent Yes vote on the license question represented persons who should be allowed this opportunity to receive liquor in their homes in a legitimate manner. Alderman Carter who opposed the Committee report, stated that as a war measure he should now support the committee. Alderman Clark, Winslow, Cole, Blake, Kendrick and Hollis supported the committee and President Early left the chair to also speak in its favor. The vote was unanimous as Alderman Whidden did not carry his opposition to that extent. Immediately after this vote, Alderman Kendrick introduced the following resolution which was adopted unanimously.

Resolved: That the following telegrams be sent to President Wilson, Senators Lodge and Weeks, and Representative Carter:

We, the undersigned, members of the City Government of Newton, Mass., respectfully urge National Prohibition measures during the war. Unanimous action has tonight been taken by us to make prohibition in our own city as complete as this municipality alone can make it.

Alderman Hollis opposed the leave to withdraw report of the License Committee on the junk shop petition of N. Lipschitz, and he was supported by Alderman Forknall. Alderman Carter and Clark spoke for the committee and the report was accepted by a vote of 15 to 3.

The board adjourned at 11.15. P. M.

BEVERLY'S BALANCE

At Player's Hall, West Newton, last Friday evening, Beverly's Balance was presented by a Waban cast including H. LeSuer Andrews, James R. Chandler, Joseph Congdon, Arthur Brown, Gertrude Stevens, Esther Davis, Francis Davis, Helen Holmes, Maude Becker.

Esther Davis as Beverly Dinwiddie upheld her reputation (which has been more than local) as an artistic and finished interpreter, for stage presentation and her performance last Friday evening was much enjoyed and thoroughly appreciated as evidenced by the hearty applause.

Dr. Andrews, a man new to Waban audiences, had long lines and his excellent work was a big factor in the successful presentation of the play.

Mr. Francis Davis was wholly equal to his part and quite finished in his acting.

Gertrude Stevens also new to Waban audiences, was very satisfactory as Maria Randolph.

James R. Chandler as Murphy sustained his reputation as Waban's best in character parts.

Maude Becker as Mrs. Redlan was very charming in her part and Mrs. Holmes' appearance as Mrs. Insky seemed all too brief.

Joseph Congdon and Arthur Brown had minor parts but were entirely satisfactory.

As the performance progressed it was evident that Waban folk were enjoying the best performance ever put on the stage by local amateurs, and loud and insistent were the calls for Mr. George Roberts the coach for the performance, who reluctantly made what he claimed to be his first appearance in front of the curtain.

Over four hundred from Waban enjoyed the performance, being transported in one hundred motor cars under the superintendence of Mr. Lawrence Allen, who made good as master of transportation, and added much to the pleasure of those who did not own cars.

The proceeds of the performance which was given under the auspices of the Waban Woman's Club, and which will amount to several hundred dollars, will be used in furnishing Waban's new Neighborhood Club house.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

A Concert by the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, and School Orchestra of the Newton Technical High School was held in the Technical School Hall on Friday evening, May 4. The event was well attended by the students and their parents and friends, and was pronounced a great success by all who were present.

The music was under the direction of Mr. Harrington. "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by all present. The School Orchestra rendered the following selections: "Gold and Silver Waltz," and "Poor Butterfly." The Orchestra also accompanied Miss Alice Foley in her song, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." The Girls' Glee Club gave the following selections: "Oh, Skylark, for thy Wing!" and "Spring Song." A cornet solo, "Sunshine of Your Smile," was given by Miss Kerrivan, who was accompanied upon the cello by Miss Underhill.

Miss Underhill accompanied Miss Foley in a violin selection entitled: "Serenade." "Tinker's Song" from Robin Hood, and the "Song of the Armorer" were sung by the Boys' Glee Club. The two Glee Clubs united in rendering "The Magic of Spring."

The annual Senior Dance will be held in Temple Hall, Newtonville, on the evening of Saturday, May 19. Oscar Jacob, 1916, has joined a hospital unit and will leave for France at an early date.

Gould Capon, 1915, visited the school on Wednesday. He is a member of the McGill University Siege Artillery which is at present stationed at Montreal.

Twenty-five members of the Senior class have already secured positions with Boston business houses.

The Senior Class of the Newton Technical High School has voted to repeat their Senior Play, "The Elopement of Ellen," for the benefit of the Red Cross. The cast is the same as in the first performance. It includes Grace Kneeland, John Farnan, Lawrence Sullivan, Ruth Taylor, Mildred Buckman, Margaret Hanlon, Hazel Chivers, Alice Foley, Lawrence Barber, and Herbert McGill.

CAPT. RANLETT BURIED

Funeral services for the late Capt. Charles E. Ranlett, of Auburndale, were held Saturday afternoon at his late residence on Central street. Rev. Dr. William C. Gordon of the Auburndale Congregational Church officiated and was assisted by Rev. Dr. George S. Butters, pastor of the Centenary M. E. Church. The body was taken to Thomaston, Me., for interment.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The usual assembly was held in the hall on Wednesday morning of this week. The students of the three upper classes were entertained by a very enjoyable musical program given by their school-mates and by a group of boys from the Vocational School. Selections were rendered by the Classical School Orchestra, the School chorus, and the Boys' Chorus of the Vocational School. The music was under the direction of Mr. H. M. Walton, the musical instructor in the Newton schools.

All the boys of the three schools who have signed cards for enlistment in the national service in farming this summer were assembled in the lecture hall Tuesday morning. The gathering was addressed by Mr. Murray, principal of the Vocational School, and by Mr. Meserve, head of the Mathematics Department in the Classical School. The terms of the recent change in wages was made clear to the boys, and plans were discussed for organizing several camps, which will probably each contain about twenty boys. Of the boys who have volunteered for the work, the older ones will probably be the first to be chosen.

The monthly meeting of the English Club was held in the Assembly Hall at the close of school last Friday. The subject of modern poetry was discussed by several members of the club.

At a recent meeting of the Senior Class, Ernest Woodworth was elected Class Statistician. Voting blanks for the annual statistics have now been distributed among the members of the class.

In accordance with the decision made by all the public schools in the vicinity, a collection for the benefit of the children of France was taken in all three high schools on Thursday morning of this week.

The school baseball team received a serious setback in the Quadrangular League as a result of its defeat at the hands of Cambridge Latin last Thursday, but found encouragement in a decisive victory over Brookline on Tuesday. Newton now holds second place in the league. The team will meet the hardest opponent that it has faced this season when it plays Somerville High at Claffin Field this afternoon.

Next week will prove a hard one for the team, as games are scheduled with strong teams. Monday afternoon the team will play Rindge Technical High at Claffin Field. A game will be played Wednesday with Everett High at Everett. The third contest of the week will be the annual game with Waltham at Claffin Field next Saturday.

BRAE BURN CLUB

A Golf Match will be held next week on Wednesday on the Brae Burn Links between Gordon and O'Brien and two professional players. A small admission fee for badges will be charged the proceeds to be given for the benefit of the American Ambulance Corps.

The following list of events are scheduled for the remainder of the month. On Saturday, May 12th, Handicap vs. Massachusetts Rating. Wednesday, May 16, Club mixed Four-some, Handicap, Saturday, May 19th, Four Ball, Partner's Best Ball, each player to take his full handicap on holes as shown by card. Saturday, May 26, Qualification for Handicap Cup (4). Wednesday, May 29, Memorial Day. (1) Holiday Cup (a) morning and afternoon. (2) Medal Handicap, 36 holes selected 18. If only 18 holes are played they will make the score. The Golf Committee includes Messrs. H. L. Ayer, A. D. Locke, E. S. Litchfield, W. H. Rand, Jr., and R. R. Gordon. The Committee reserves the right to cancel or postpone any event.

There has been a removal of the Brae Burn left this week on a trip to Hot Springs, Virginia.

DERBY-FOWLER

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Pratt Fowler, and R. Stafford Derby of Boston, took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. B. Fowler, 44 Bourne street, Auburndale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Currier Craig of Boston.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harold A. Laing of Brighton, as matron of honor. Miss Helen Sibbey of Springfield was maid of honor and Miss Mildred Fisk of Springfield and Marion Whitcomb of Littleton, were the bridesmaids.

The best man was James Derby of Worcester, a brother of the groom. After a wedding trip they will reside in Boston.

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

George Le Guere in "The Seventh Sin," with Shirley Mason and what is described as "an astonishing cast," is to be shown at the Newton Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday. "The Seventh Sin" is the last and greatest of the splendid McClure Series of five-reel features, Seven Deadly Sins, that has been playing to capacity audiences.

The theme of "The Seventh Sin" has been kept a dark secret and the mode of treatment of the final play of this most popular group remains a mystery. McClure Pictures promises, however, that "The Seventh Sin" is "greater than all of the first six combined."

Bessie Love makes her fourth appearance as a Triangle star in the Fine Arts production of "A Daughter of the Poor," which will be shown at the Newton Opera House Friday and Saturday.

The character played by Miss Love in this feature differs from any she has done heretofore. She takes the part of a girl who has inherited a small toy shop, as well as a lazy uncle, who is himself shiftless and personified and hates all people with money.

PARK THEATRE, WALTHAM

The fate of a woman who could not fight her way alone, who was forced time and again to fall back upon the kindness of the man who had made her a success and who had demanded the traditional price, is the theme of this latest and greatest success of that supreme artist, Clara Kimball Young, who will appear at the Park Theatre, Waltham next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in "The Eastest Way."

Clara Kimball Young is probably the most popular of all motion picture actresses. For that reason, the Waltham Theatre turned away hundreds during the showing of the last picture featuring this star. In order to accommodate all who wish to see this latest success of hers, it will be shown at the Park Theatre, Waltham.

The Real Greatness of the Maxwell
Is in Its Perfected Mechanism

Mechanical perfection has made the Maxwell endurance champion of the world—the most economical car to run—a source of complete satisfaction to 200,000 Maxwell Owners.

Let's consider the Maxwell first as a piece of machinery, for that's what a real automobile is—a machine.

Fancy upholstery, enamel, a highly polished instrument board are excellent things.

—but they don't make a great motor car.

Motor-car merit depends, first, last and always, on mechanical construction.

—on the parts that are hidden from your view.

The Maxwell has grace of form and line—travels easily—is roomy and comfortable.

—a novice knows that—it's obvious.

But, let us pick the car to pieces and see what you actually get for your money.

The Sturdy, Masterful Chassis

In the first place, there is one—and only one—Maxwell chassis.

—and that chassis not an experiment.

—not the whim of some designer who craves a reputation to be different or original.

Nobody is permitted to tinker with that one Maxwell model.

—no smart ideas are allowed to swerve it from its course of development, refinement, perfection along the known, proved, time-tried principles of automobile construction.

The Maxwell Engine is the Embodiment of Efficiency and Power

The Maxwell engine is the concrete manifestation of efficiency and power brought up to an almost unbelievable point of perfection.

It has much of the velvety smoothness characteristic of the motors in high-priced cars.

—plus power, economy, reliability and simplicity.

This marvelous motor is daily taking Maxwells over ten of thousands of miles of the hardest sort of going at an average cost of only $6 to $8 a month.

One of these Maxwell engines—just like the one your Maxwell will have—went for 44 days and nights without stopping, carrying a Maxwell over all kinds of roads, in all kinds of weather, at a rate of 25 miles an hour, on 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Some Other Mechanical Factors That Make the Maxwell Great

The Maxwell axles stand up like the foundations of a mighty skyscraper.

—they are designed, forged, heat-treated and built complete in our own factories.

The Maxwell transmission—noiseless, self-lubricating, trouble-proof—is the height of mechanical sanity and surety.

The marvelous Maxwell clutch—running in oil, simply, smooth, wear-proof—has an efficiency greater than that of any other car, no matter how high-priced.

Besides—each part of the Maxwell chassis is made of only the finest metal that can be procured.

—and then only after the material has been subjected to the most rigid tests known to science.

Buy the Car That Stands the Test

Don't buy a car on looks, but find out just what is inside it—find the vital parts of the car are mechanically right.

The more you study the Maxwell the more certain you will be, as we are, that the Maxwell is the world's greatest motor car value.

Come to our sales rooms and let us prove to you that the Maxwell is mechanically right.

Roadster, $650; Touring Car, $685; Cabriolet, $865; Town Car, $915; Sedan, $985; completely equipped, including electric starter and lights. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

REAL ESTATE

Edmonds and Byfield, 392 Centre street, Newton, and 41 Union street, Newton Centre, report the sale of 155 Hunnewell avenue, corner of Breemore road, Newton, for Annie T. Viets to Elmer L. Gibbs of Newton, who purchases for a home. Property consists of modern, single dwelling and 7400 sq. feet of land, all valued at $11,500.

LEST WE FORGET

The Newton South Allies' Relief Association urgently appeals to the Public for funds, in order to keep up the work of the Association, which for the last eighteen months has been sending supplies regularly to the Hospitals in France, not one case of which has been lost.

Now that the French are truly the Allies of the United States and are fighting our battles, they must not be neglected. On account of the amount of work which the Association has accomplished, the Treasury is depleted, and as it requires about $100 a week with which to purchase materials for Surgical Dressings, Yarns, etc., the Committee feels obliged to call upon everyone, who, in honor of the French Commissioners, soon to visit us, will make some sacrifice, and send in a contribution, so that our boys in the hospitals of France will have all possible aid.

Donations large or small will be gratefully received by the Treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Ide, 98 Summer street, Newton Centre.

Upper Falls

—Mrs. Fowler has returned to her home on Chestnut street.

—Mr. John A. Gould has gone to New York on a short business trip.

—Mrs. Josephine Palmer is confined to her home as the result of a bad shock.

—Miss Margaret McKillop has returned from a visit with her niece in Jamaica Plain.

—Miss Harriet Sturtevant of High street, has gone to Washington, to visit Mrs. Mary Reed.

—Box 621 was rung Monday afternoon for a fire at 27 Oak street in the house of James Wilde.

—Mrs. John Alley and Mrs. William Young are the visiting ladies for the Stone Home this month.

—Miss Cora Cobb of Boylston street has returned from Maine, where she has been spending several weeks.

—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid, was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. Locke.

—Mrs. Brandon and daughter Ruth, who have been the guests of Mrs. L. P. Everett of High street, have returned to their home in Portland, Me.

—Mr. James Estelle, who has been working for some time in White's Drug Store has joined the Harvard Unit which is to sail soon, as druggist.

—Mr. Robert Ashton who was taken ill while out walking Sunday afternoon has been confined to his home on High street for the past week.

—Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the Congregational Church, West Newton spoke at the Stone Home last Sunday at 3.00. Music was rendered by a quartet, two solos were sung, and there were several readings.

—Mary Lynch of Cliff road was struck by an automobile operated by John D. Sullivan of Jamaica Plain while on Oak street, on Tuesday noon. After receiving medical attendance she was taken to her home.

—Miss Madeline Everett of High street, gave a Dinner Party to a few of her friends on Friday evening of last week, in honor of her guest Miss Ruth Brandon, of Portland, Maine, who is spending her week's vacation with her. Dancing and card playing were enjoyed until a late hour.

—The last meeting of the Friday Afternoon Whist Club was held this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas W. White, Boylston street. The funds of the club, that have usually been spent for prizes, are to go this year for materials for Red Cross work. Mystery prizes were given instead. The person winning highest place was allowed to draw first, from the strange looking packages. Much fun was caused by the jokes contained in the "prizes."

—Mrs. Edgar W. Warren, a regular visitor at the Stone Home, Wednesday afternoon, entertained the ladies at her home on Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. Miss Virginia Hutchinson and Master Willis Bradley gave the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." It was done unusually well for such young actors. Some new victrola records were played and then elaborate afternoon tea was served. It was a thoroughly pleasant afternoon for all the ladies and they were taken to and from in automobiles.

—Miss Agnes Redman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Redman of Cottage Hill was married to Mr. Philip Stanley Batchelder, at eight o'clock on the evening of May 2. The Reverend G. G. Phillips of Newton Highlands, a friend of the groom, officiated. Miss Margaret Allen, the bride's little cousin of Roslindale was ringbearer. Thirty guests were present at the ceremony, which took place in the very prettily decorated rooms of the bride's home. The bride, who carried a shower bouquet looked very lovely in a white satin gown and filmy white veil. The couple are to live on Thurston road, Watertown.

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

Sunday evening through the courtesy of L. C. Fisher, Manager of the local Opera House, another benefit performance will be given for Company C. Tickets are on sale at the box office and Burke's Drug Store. The entire balcony will be reserved.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of and pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Lillian F. DeLorey to the Natick Five Cents Savings Bank, dated May 16, 1899, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 2737, page 572, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday the fifth day of June A. D. 1917, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:

A certain lot of land situate in Newton in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on Clark Street, together with the buildings thereon bounded and described as follows; to wit: Being lot Number 35 on a plan of land in Auburn road on a plot of land belonging to W. W. Lowe and others, recorded with Middlesex South District Plans, Book 92, Plan 36, bounded as follows: Beginning on the Northeasterly side of Clark Street at lot Number 36 on said plan, thence running northerly on lot Number 36 one hundred and ten feet; thence Southeasterly on lot Number 64 on said plan twenty-four and 21-100 feet; thence Southerly on Washburn Avenue ninety-six and 73-100 feet to a Stake; thence in a curved line at the Junction of Washburn Avenue and Auburn road Avenue fifty-four and 50-100 feet; thence Northwesterly on Clark Street fifty-nine and 80-100 feet to the point of beginning.

The premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and other municipal liens so far as the same may legally exist.

One Hundred Dollars will be required to be paid at the time and place of sale, when other terms of sale will be made known.

Newton

—Miss Lizzie J. Moore is seriously ill at her home on Park street.

—Mr. Jesse A. Rogers of Park street leaves for Plattsburg Sunday with Company E.

—Miss Carolyn B. Brown of Church street has returned from a visit with friends in Leominster, Mass.

—Mr. Henry R. Viets and family of Hunnewell avenue will move next week to the Bacon house on Fairview street.

—The condition of Miss Mary E. P. Sloan, who has been very ill at her home on Channing street, is greatly improved.

—Mr. Powers will give the final lecture of his course on Current Events on Wednesday, the 16th, at Eliot Chapel, at 10 o'clock.

—Miss Ruth Cutler of St. James street whose marriage to Mr. Frank Fenwick of Cambridge takes place on June 16th, was given a surprise shower last evening by a number of her friends.

—The French Relief Rooms at Grace Church Parish House will be open every Thursday morning and afternoon. Those who cannot attend the morning meetings will have an opportunity to work in the afternoon. The committee earnestly hopes that everyone who can will come and help with the work so great is the demand for all kinds of hospital supplies.

—An interesting social event this week was a reception on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. O. F. Black to her son, Mr. Russell Black, who has just returned from a long trip as wireless operator on several vessels during which time he has visited Mexico and Cuba. Mr. Black is now with the Western Union, and the guests were his associates in this office.

—A Neighborhood Patriotic Meeting to hear Hoover's Appeal to America for the relief of Belgian children will be held at the Eliot Church on Sunday evening, the 13th, at 7 o'clock. Mr. John W. Hollowell of Milton and Rev. J. Edgar Park of West Newton will speak. Rev. Laurens MacLure will preside. There will be patriotic songs and music. Let everybody keep that date and plan to be present.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

Thru the efforts of the Newton Y. M. C. A., a total of $1715 has already been received in cash towards the contributions which Newton should make in the splendid work of furnishing and equipping the war huts for active work among the soldiers at the front. A condition gift of $500 is announced if the fund reaches $5000. As Cambridge has raised $10,000 already for this work and Watertown expects to reach $5000 the residents of this city should see to it that Newton does not fall behind in this respect.

THE LAWRENCE CLUB

The Lawrence Club observed its annual "Ladies' Night" on Tuesday evening in the parish house of the Church of the Messiah. Mr. Maurice E. Beardsley, president of the Club arranged a very interesting entertainment for the guests which included violin and piano selections by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Revere Knight; pianologues by Mrs. Knight; an Irish jig danced by little Dorothy Black; songs by Mr. Paul Neal and Fred Randall, with piano accompaniments by Mr. Raymond Sykes. An attractive feature of the entertainment was an interesting illustrated lecture on the Yellow Stone Park given by Prof. Frank G. Willson of the Wentworth Institute.

After the lecture a refreshment course was served and the evening was passed most pleasantly and greatly enjoyed by all present.

—An automobile owned and operated by John Hildreth of 39 Hemenway street, Boston, struck a post Sunday afternoon on Charles street, Auburndale. A mail box was broken off and the car was slightly damaged.

—The condition of Mr. Joseph Melody who was badly injured in the automobile accident Saturday is somewhat improved, and his friends will be glad to learn that his injuries are not fatal as was stated in a Boston paper.

—The next meeting of the Auburndale Brotherhood will be held Wednesday evening at the Congregational Church. Mr. George F. Willett of Norwood, Mass., will speak on "The Application of Business Principles to Civic Affairs."

—"The Sabine Women" was the title of a reading by Rev. W. I. Lawrence which was given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Gilpatrick on Wolcott street. An interesting feature of the meeting was the singing of Russian and English songs by Norris Zam, an eleven year old Russian boy.

—"The Girls' Friendly Society of the Church of the Messiah gave a very successful play Monday evening under the direction of Miss Adams. Dancing followed the play and music was furnished by Mrs. Fred Young. Refreshments consisting of orange frappe and cake were served by the young ladies.

—"The Girls' Friendly Society gave a very successful entertainment Monday evening in the parish house at the Church of the Messiah. The young ladies who took part were Miss Gladys Carver, Miss Adeline Gratto, Miss Lillian Scott, Miss Eva Wyeth, Miss Amy Faunder, Miss Mary Faunder and Miss Cora Capstick.

Newton Highlands

—A great pleasure is offered all the women of Newton Highlands next Tuesday morning at the meeting of the Women Associates at the new Hyde School at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Hazel McKaye, sister of Percy McKaye, will give a short talk on the production of Caliban, the big Masque which is to be given next month by the people of greater Boston.

CHAMBERLIN-HUNTER

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Gertrude Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford Hunter, to Dr. Harold Augustus Chamberlin of Boston, Mass., took place on Saturday evening, May 5th, at the home of the bride's parents, 111 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, Mass.

The bride wore white duchesse satin made with short skirt and court train. The bodice trimmed with old point applique lace. The tulle veil was fastened with a bandeau of pearls and lilies of the valley. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Viola Hunter, as maid of honor, gowned in pink net over silver cloth. She carried pink roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. F. Wilson.

Dr. Chamberlin's best man was Mr. L. B. Turner and the ushers were Mr. Lester Bradford Hunter and Mr. Guy Forbush Hunter, brothers of the bride, Mr. Lloyd Chellman and Mr. Charles Gardner of New York.

A reception followed the ceremony. Among those present from out of town were Mrs. Walter P. Marsh and daughter, Miss Estelle Gertrude Marsh, of Chicago, Illinois, aunt and cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Harry Prescott Hanaford of New York, also the bride's aunt.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

A group of Junior Girls of the Technical High School have had the honor of presenting a fine new flag to replace the one that has long hung over the front entrance to the school building. Formal presentation of the flag was made on Wednesday morning when exercises of a patriotic nature were held in the Assembly Hall. In their recitations the pupils emphasized the fact that each boy and girl should feel a personal responsibility at this time and should do his part in helping his country.

The singing of patriotic songs followed by the salute to the flag, closed a program that was timely and impressive.

SMART-PYLE

Miss Sara McAlpin Pyle, daughter of Mrs. James Tolman Pyle of 11 East 68th street, New York, was married yesterday to Paul Hurlburt Smart of Newton Highlands, in the Central Presbyterian Church, by the groom's father, Rev. George Thomas Smart, and Dr. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, David H. McAlpin Pyle. S. Bruce Smart was his brother's best man. Paul Smart leaves for the Plattsburgh camp Monday.

N. H. S.

The first detail of the older boys in the High Schools are making preparations to leave next week for Weston to perform work along farming lines on one of the large estates in that town. About 50 boys will be mustered in for this work under the direction of one of the high school teachers. The younger boys in the High School will perform similar labor about Newton.

Wanson is an expert in the manufacture of shoes and he is to be assigned to the department of the corps which has to do with the purchase and inspection of shoes.

Funeral services for the late George J. Parker, for many years the well known tenor soloist and music teacher of Boston and who died on Sunday, were held Tuesday morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd. Rev. James C. Sharp, the rector officiated, and 16 members of the Apollo Club sang "Abide with me" and "Lead Kindly Light." Mr. Parker is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Gifford LeClear of Upland road. The interment was at Leominster.

—The Beacon Club held the last meeting of the season Tuesday evening and the members listened to an intensely interesting talk on the control of food production and food prices. The members were then entertained by Mr. Walter Newbert a fellow member who gave a very entertaining half hour of sleight of hand and mysticism much to the surprise and delight of the members.

—Mr. Chester Childs of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Childs of Windsor road, and in a few days will go to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana for military training.

FLAG RAISING

At a meeting of the Newton Corner business men's committee held last evening it was voted to hold the proposed flag raising in Nonantum Square Sunday afternoon, May 27th. Although the plans have not been definitely decided upon it is hoped to have a parade with members of the G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps, Company C, the Home Guard, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and all the fraternal organizations in line. The line will probably be formed at Farlow Park and after marching through some of the principal streets will gather at Nonantum Square, where the flag will be unfurled and addresses made by prominent speakers.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Attention of club presidents and treasurers is called to the proposed war tax bill now before Congress, Section 701. "That from and after the first day of June, 1917, there shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid a tax equivalent to 10 per centum of any amount paid as dues or membership fees (except initiation fees) to any social, athletic or sporting club or organization; such taxes to be paid by the person making such payments." It will be well for all such officers to follow closely what action is taken, for ignorance of the law does not excuse an infringement, and to ascertain whether or not women's clubs are included under "social" clubs.

Illustrated Lecture on Trees

A free lecture on Trees will be given under the auspices of the Social Science Club, Tuesday morning, May 15, at 10 o'clock, in the hall of the Newton Library by Albert Macdonald, director of nature study and gardening in the Newton schools.
This lecture is the last meeting of the course conducted by the Conservation Committee of the Social Science Club and will be an illustrated summary of the subjects studied in class—the value of trees, tree growth, tree injuries and pests—both insect and disease—their prevention and treatment, care of trees, tree identification, etc. Special attention will be given to the White Pine Blister Rust and its control. All interested, both men and women, are most cordially invited to attend.
Mr. Macdonald will have the remaining outlines of the course ready for the regular members of the class.

Local Happenings

The annual meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands was held at the home of Mrs. F. S. Keith, 20 Hartford street, on May 5th. Several amendments were made to the by-laws of the club. The following officers were elected for the coming year:
President, Miss Mary L. Sweeney; Vice President, Miss Edith M. McCann; Secretary, Mrs. Herbert W. Drew; Treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Bickwell; Auditor, Miss Mary A. Newhall; Executive Board, Mrs. W. E. Moore; Mrs. W. M. Mick, Mrs. S. L. Eaton.

The Christian Era Study Club met on Monday, May 7, at the home of the President, Miss Ella B. Smith, for the Annual Meeting. Topics for the ensuing year were assigned and the following officers elected: President, Miss Ella B. Smith; Vice President, Mrs. Charles Kattelle; Treasurer, Miss Susie Johnson; Secretary, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew. A social hour followed during which refreshments were served.

Newton Federation

Keep in mind the date of the Patriotic Fete, May 31st, and let nothing prevent your attending. Besides the folk dancing already mentioned in this column a flag drill by the Stearns School Centre is to be one of the prominent features. Tickets at popular prices are in the hands of the club presidents. Remember the proceeds are to go toward maintaining local philanthropic work. Other features will be announced next week. Look for them.

Local Announcements

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will observe Flag Day at the last meeting of the season, Thursday, May 17, 2 P. M., in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville. Members are asked to contribute on that afternoon something pertaining to the flag, a verse, a story, or quotation or a song. Tea with a social hour will be enjoyed. Come one, come all.

On Monday, May 7, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met at the home of the president, Mrs. E. G. Swift, enjoying together a box luncheon, after which came the business of the annual meeting. The club has had an interesting and profitable year, although seldom have its meetings been as much interrupted by illness and death as during the past winter. A small contribution has been made to the Women's Association of Newton Highlands. In January the club was admitted to active membership in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. These officers will serve next year: President, Mrs. Emory W. Clark; vice president, Miss Marion Dorr; treasurer, Mrs. Fred R. Hayward; secretary, Mrs. E. B. Lincoln; assistant secretary, Miss Josephine Ayers.

Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr., entertained at luncheon the members of the Newton Mothers' Club on Monday of this week, nearly the full quota of members being present. Although limited to forty members the club has raised and disbursed for philanthropic purposes more than $250. Among the objects to which it has contributed may be mentioned the playground at Norantum, Belgian Relief, a French orphan has been adopted, the Blind Babies' Nursery, and some of the local charities, including the West Newton Day Nursery, and the Welfare Bureau. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr.; vice president, Mrs. E. R. Speare; secretary, Mrs. W. F. Knowles; treasurer, Mrs. Henry Whitmore; chairman of program committee, Mrs. F. S. Hoyt; chairman of charity committee, Mrs. Clifton Dwinell.

By some inadvertence the name of Mrs. Harry Wells as one of the directors was omitted from the list published last week of officers elected at the recent annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. To those who recall the annual meetings of that club fifteen and twenty years ago much of the same spirit seems still to prevail judging from the last one. Good things, so runs the report, were the order of the day, beginning with a reception by the officers, assisted by the Honorary vice president, Mrs. George G. Phipps, and the former president of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Harry N. Milliken. Delightful music rendered by a fine orchestra, made a pleasant accompaniment to the tempting and delicious luncheon. The post-prandial exercises opened with a salute to the flag and the singing of The Star Spangled Banner by all present. At the concluding strains the unfurling of a beautiful silk flag in the centre of the room created a shower of small silk ones for the each call of former days with the response by each member of a patriotic quotation proved a pleasant innovation. Mrs. Milliken in a happy vein recommended in the line of preparedness that we should all cultivate in our hearts the seeds of loving kindness and friendliness to our fellowmen. Mrs. Phipps, without whom no such thing would be complete, responded in her characteristic spirit of devotion to the club, which has always held a large place in her affections. A group of songs was delightfully rendered by Ruth Beedle Union accompanied by Hester Deasey, as were also piano solos by Miss Deasey. Reports of the year showed it has been one of splendid work. The retiring president, Mrs. Walter A. Beedle, expressed her RfSaAd -goDoMn hasv satisfaction with all that had been accomplished and welcomed heartily, the newly elected president, Mrs. Robert Gorton, to the office, bespeaking for her the continued zeal and activity on the part of all club members. Mrs. Beedle was presented by the club with a beautiful basket of flowers as a mark of affection and appreciation of her services.

Hospital Aid and Junior League

The Newton Hospital Aid Association and the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service held joint annual meetings on Tuesday morning, May 8, in the New Church parlors, Newtonville. Mrs. H. H. Carter, president of the Hospital Aid Association, was in the chair during the business meeting of her organization and Miss Dorothy Taylor of the Junior League presided over the business meeting of the League.

The reports of the officers showed both organizations to be in good condition and much good work accomplished. The by-laws of the Hospital Aid were amended, so that hereafter the treasurer will send due bills to all members, rather than having the money collected by the directors from the different villages. Miss Riddle, superintendent at the Hospital, spoke of the use which has been made of the free bed supported by the Association, of the good done by the visits of the directors and of the substantial help which has been rendered. She stated that there has been a decrease in the death rate and in the length of stay of the patients over that of 6 or 8 years ago. Twenty-two percent of the patients are treated absolutely free, 57 percent are taken at less than cost, while only 21 per cent pay full charges. During the month of April was the largest amount of work, the daily average of patients being 102 1-2. While the hospital cannot be used as a base hospital, it has been looked over by officers of the Navy and arrangements have been made so that it can be equipped for 80 patients in ten minutes, should the need arise. The present officers were re-elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. H. H. Carter; vice-president, Mrs. G. H. Talbot; treasurer, Miss Rose Loring; secretary, Mrs. F. E. Anderson, together with a long list of directors coming from all parts of the city. After the annual reports of the Junior League officers, Miss Sophia Smith, the social worker at the hospital supported by the League, told of her work for the year, saying that she has been impressed by the co-operation and generosity of Newton people which she has seen since she came here to work, but she has also found Newton somewhat behindhand in the lack of a tuberculosis hospital and an out-patient department. Her own work has ranged from cleaning a kitchen to acting as maid of honor at a wedding. Miss Smith showed how her work does not overlap that of the Welfare Bureau, for when a case ceases to be a medical one, it is turned over to the Bureau and at all times the two organizations are co-operating with each other. Mrs. Philip W. Carter reported that the Paper Campaign has been beset with numerous difficulties, but they are being overcome and a substantial sum will be netted, although not quite as large as had been anticipated. The play given recently at the New Church will be repeated on Tuesday, June 5th, to supplement the amount from the sale of paper. The officers elected for next year are: President, Miss Dorothy Taylor; vice president, Mrs. Roy Merchant; secretary, Miss Edith Jamieson; assistant secretary, Miss Virginia Parker; treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Willey; assistant treasurer, Miss Mary Rolfe.

Following the business Dr. Frank C. Richardson of Boston gave an impressive address drawn from the present crisis, in which he pointed out how the women have plunged eagerly into the game of preparedness, and under the expression of the hour, "doing their bit," there has been much well-intentioned but wasted, futile effort. Upheavals of sentiment have been mistaken for real patriotism. Display and talk do not make a real patriot. In the rolling of bandages and varied preparations, the other work must be forgotten. We must not forget the man who stays at home and keeps things going, nor the nobility and valor of the doctors and nurses who stay at home and labor to vanquish the dread scourge of disease. The highest service lies in the duties beyond the sight of the populace, the simple tasks of home, the care of children. Woman is ever the keeper of high ideals, the priestess, the moulder of the character of the young men. The war should be taken seriously, but not hysterically. Stability and noise are essentials of true patriotism. Luncheon was served at the close.

OUR NATIONAL DUTY AND OPPORTUNITY

Psa. XXVIII:3. "Though war should rise against me, even then
I will be confident."

It was the most momentous hour in our history since the civil war, when President Wilson appealed to Congress to declare war against the Imperial German government. War is never justified except as a last resort, when other measures have been tried and have failed. It is with the utmost reluctance that this peace-loving nation puts on its armor. We have endured insurrection, piracy, plots against the peace and integrity of the nation furthered by the authorized representatives of Germany, and the violent death of our citizens on the high seas. We have tried all the resources of diplomacy. The only alternatives left were those proposed by the Emergency Peace Federation:—A Joint High Commission; a Conference of Neutrals; The Declaration of London; and An Appeal to the Belligerents to meet in a Congress. The last had already been tried out by the President last December. The Declaration of London has nothing to do with the case at issue, and has not been recognized by the great powers of the world. A Joint High Commission is impossible, since Germany refuses to stop even for a day her submarine warfare. We cannot ask for such a commission while a state of war actually exists. An appeal to other neutrals for joint action offers no promise of redress while neutrals are flouted by the belligerents. Therefore, after two and a half years, we are drawn into the maelstrom of the world war.

Perhaps no declaration of war was ever so impressive as this. This is so, in part, because of our long patience. Many felt that this action ought to have been taken after the sinking of the Lusitania. It is said that hundreds of thousands of lives might have been saved, if America had taken a firm stand then against the violations of international law and common humanity. Whether or not this opinion is just is now only an academic question. One thing is sure, that the nation has been divided. We have not been of one mind on the advisability of going to war. But one result of this long delay has been the crystallizing of sentiment and the growth of a united public opinion. Only six votes in the Senate and fifty in the house, fifty-six out of five hundred and thirty votes, were cast against the resolution. When the President at last spoke, he had behind him a united nation.

This declaration of war is so impressive because it is the voice of the people, through their representatives. When Germany made war, the people had no voice in the matter. The same thing is true in England, although the will of the nation was doubtless expressed in the action. But England was far from unanimous, and two cabinet members resigned because they could not approve of the war. It is fortunate that England did not delay for parliamentary action. Two or three days of debate might have meant the fall of Paris, and a far reaching disaster. So also in France, in Russia, in Bulgaria, in every one of the countries at war except our own, the step was taken by a small body of rulers. When one autocrat sounds the alarm of war, it may be terribly impressive. But when a united nation of more than a hundred millions puts the trumpet to its lips, the echoes arouse the world to listen.

But this declaration is most impressive, because we have nothing to gain from the war. We enter it with clean hands. Our action is disinterested. This is disputed. Germany denies it. She imputes to us motives of sordid gain, or of lust of dominion. In our own Congress, it has been said that the money-power, the munition makers, and a subsidized press have forced us into war. Men who were making money faster than ever before in history, under the conditions of peace, are certainly fools, if they seek the uncertain gains of war. Unquestionably there is still in our unregenerate hearts something of the very human desire for vengeance, perhaps more than a spark of righteous indignation at the outrages committed on Belgium, Poland, and other helpless peoples. But our streets have not resounded to the cry "Remember the Lusitania," as in 1898 they echoed the shout "Remember the Maine." We are going to war calmly, and in a better and saner mood. The President speaks for us all when he says:—"We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be satisfied when those rights have become secure as the faith and freedom of the nations can make them." Human action is never the result of unmixed motives, either in the individual or the nation. But our resolve to enter into this war is the result not chiefly of the influence of violent partisans of the Allies, nor of those who hope to make gain out of warfare, but rather of the influence of the intellectual and moral leaders of the nation. Almost every college president in the country urged this step. The great majority of college professors, noted philanthropists, leaders in reform movements, authors and editors were with them. As the New Republic says, it has been decidedly a movement of the "Intellectuals." The mind and the conscience of the nation find expression in it.

The German find this hard, if not impossible, to believe. They justify any war, on their theory of the state, which promises new territory, the control of trade routes, commercial or political advantage. But it is inconceivable that a nation should be so swayed by disinterested motives as to undertake the tremendous sacrifices of war. It may be well, therefore, for us to answer more fully, for our own clear thinking, the question, "Why are we at war?"

I. Why, then, have we entered this war?

When the war broke out, Americans might well be pardoned for looking upon it as only one more of the old struggles between European nations, inspired by greed of territory, dynastic ambitions, racial hatreds, and commercial advantages. Congratulating ourselves on our isolation, we might well consider the war not our affair. But the two-and-a-half years of the struggle have cleared the air, and made evident the underlying principles at stake. Now we realize that here is a death-grapple between theories of civilization so fundamental that all nations are deeply concerned in the issue. We can no longer stand aloof. Let me read a few sentences from a recent editorial. Americans "are more and more profoundly impressed by Germany's rape of Belgium and her enslavement of non-belligerents. They are astounded and angry at the general measures of the Central powers, they are shocked by the Turk at their drastic coercion of the Poles, at their willingness unlawfully to violate the lives and property of any and all peoples on the high seas, and particularly at the destruction of life among neutrals pursuing their legal rights. They conclude that Germany's militarism is, therefore, a menace to the whole world, quite as pirates once were to honest seafaring men, or as a mad dog loose in a community. They are asking, therefore, Suppose Germany should win, and should impose her terms and her peculiar 'kultur' upon the Allies, we of the United States the while standing idle by and permitting her to do it? Would we be advancing the cause of peace-civilization, and righteousness, and thereby, they continue, that Germany's ambition, fattening upon success, should later seek ruthlessly to dominate and impose the same 'kultur' upon the people of our own nation, should we permit her to do it? It is pointed out that at least three nations, Holland, Denmark, and Norway, stand terrorized by the fate of Belgium. If peace is to be attained in the present world, there must be a sacrifice. Pleasant words to a frenzied, aggressive world will not avail. Inaction cannot help. There is such a thing as righteous wrath, illustrated in the scourging of the money-changers in the temple. A disturber of the peace must be dealt with by someone, kindly if possible, forcibly if necessary. If, therefore, we should succeed in keeping out of the war, does it follow that we are in practice and in effect real advocates of peace?" This is not a quotation from the organ of The Navy League, nor from a political agitator. It is taken from the leading editorial of the April issue of The Advocate of Peace, the organ of the American Peace Society, and was written before the declaration of war. Let me add the now familiar words of the President:—"The present German warfare against commerce is a warfare against mankind. It is a war against all nations. American ships have been sunk, American lives taken in ways which has stirred us very deeply to learn of, but the ships of other neutral and friendly nations have been sunk and lives have been taken in the same way. There has been no discrimination. The challenge is to all mankind. Each nation must decide for itself how it will meet it. The choice we make for ourselves must be made with a moderation of counsel and a temperance of judgment befitting our character and our motives as a nation. We must put excited feeling away. Our motive will not be revenge or the victorious assertion of the physical might of the nation, but only the vindication of right, of human right, of which we are only a single champion." On no other but this high ground can we justify our entrance into the war. It is in this spirit that we can say with the psalmist, "Though war should rise against me, even then will I be confident."

If we analyze this position, we find that three principles are at issue which are invulnerable into the very structure of our national life. Democracy is at stake. The greatest of the republics has now entered into a league of free peoples in a struggle to end forever autocracy and militarism and to deliver the world from their threatened domination. When the war began all felt that it was an anomaly that Russia, the most autocratic of governments, should be leagueed with the democratic nations of England, France and, to a less degree, Italy. But the logic of events has proved too strong for Russian autocracy. Always democratic at heart, and preserving local democratic institutions, the great Russian people have now risen in their might and thrown off the tyranny that oppressed them. The President is right when he says, "A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democratic nations. . . . Only free peoples can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end and prefer the interests of mankind to any narrow interest of their own."

More and more it becomes clear that liberty is at stake. It has been the good fortune of this nation that every one of its wars, with the possible exception of the Mexican war, has been a struggle for freedom, and that every one of its wars without any exception, has resulted in the extension of civil and religious liberty. Never was the issue more clear than it is now. We are entering this struggle for liberty as against despotism. We believe in the political autonomy of free peoples and that a small nation should be as free to order its own affairs as a great one. We believe in the actual equality of all nations, great or small, in matters of right and privilege. We believe that the seas should be an open highway free and safe for all peoples under rules accepted by common consent and acceptable to all on equal terms. As our fathers fought for their own liberties, we are ready to pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor for these liberties which are more precious than life. The only possible way of keeping liberty for ourselves is to achieve liberty for others.

The third great issue is equally clear and equally fundamental. We believe in the reign of law, and that government must ultimately rest upon law and righteousness rather than upon force. We repudiate the Teuton assertion that there is nothing above the state and that might makes right. We cannot rest secure in any civilization established upon that basis; but we believe in the appeal to law and to equity rather than to force in all national and international questions, and we go into this struggle to help establish the lasting peace of mankind in justice and righteousness.

II. It may be well for us to state again what we hope to accomplish in this war.

In 1795 Emanuel Kant declared three things to be necessary to secure perpetual peace among the nations. The world must be politically organized for peace. National action must be determined by the nations and not by a few autocratic rulers, and the spirit of universal good will toward other peoples must be everywhere developed. Kant was more than a century ahead of his age. But more and more, thoughtful men recognize the necessity of these principles. More and more, men are becoming determined that it shall never again be in the power of an autocratic group in any nation to bring on such a world-conflict as this. In the providence of God all the great nations of earth are being drawn into this conflict. The whole structure of the political life of mankind is being shaken down by this universal earthquake. The ground is being cleared for the erection of a new world order and men are determined that the world shall be so politically organized that permanent peace shall be possible. The League of Nations to Enforce Peace has already become a reality. If now, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, the Central American republics and Spain shall follow our example and declare war upon the Central Powers, they will have almost all the rest of the world arrayed against them. It will come pretty near to a universal league of nations to enforce peace against those who were responsible for bringing on the war. One great hope which we cherish as we enter the strife is that our influence shall not only shorten this present conflict but shall contribute to a permanent peace of the world. We hope also as incidental to this end to foster in all nations the spirit of democracy. The Kantian promises that Prussia will be a democracy after the war. Mr. Lloyd George says grimly, "I think he is right." The German people have a right to any form of government they prefer. If they like autocracy, it is none of our business. But it is our business that autocracy shall not stifle liberty in other nations who do not prefer it. We aim "to make the world a safe place for democracies."

No part of our President's speech is more noble in spirit and meets with more universal approval than his declaration of good will toward the German people. When the bitterness inevitable to deadly strife has been softened by time, it is our hope that just as in our own civil strife accomplished the unity of the nation, so this world war may bind the nations together and foster in all mankind the spirit of universal good will.

III. And now we are ready to ask what the war involves.

It means the raising of a great army. Mr. Sidney Brooks says that if we do proportionately what England did, we shall have 1,500,000 men under arms at the end of the first year and over 11,000,000 eventually. I hope and trust that no army of such magnitude may need to be enrolled. But it is evident that we must have as soon as possible an army of at least a million men. How are they to be provided? I trust that we shall adopt some principle of universal service. The word "conscription" has an unpleasant sound; but some form of enrolling the common obligation of all able-bodied citizens is both just and necessary. The volunteer system involves greater evils than universal service. It is hard for us to imagine the moral and social pressure exerted to force men to "volunteer." May we be spared the sight of young girls pinning white feathers on every man they find who is not in khaki. The decision to enlist or not is too serious a matter to be left to the judgment of a casual stranger. Moreover, the men who are first to volunteer are often those who ought not to go.—men of high spirit who have families dependent upon them, men who are filling positions where they can ill be spared. England and France found to their sorrow that they had sent into the ranks men who would have been of much more value to their country had they remained in the factory. The artisan and the farmer are as necessary as the soldier. Howard Coffin says, "In modern warfare the blood of the soldier must be mingled three parts with the sweat of the man in the mills." Universal service means that from a list of all able-bodied citizens of military age those shall be carefully chosen who are best able to go without weakening the resources of the nation. It means "a selection from those who are willing" rather than the forced enrollment of cowards and slackers. It assumes that every able-bodied man in the republic is ready and willing to serve his country in her hour of need. We have such abundant material that only one man in five would be chosen for service at the front even if the war should continue for two or three years.

But war involves much more than the enlistment of a great army. It may even alter the personnel and form of government as it has in England. England is now practically ruled by a small committee of powerful men. Parliamentary government is practically suspended for the time being. It may mean government control of all industries, the commandeering of all machinery, railroads, automobiles and public utilities. It may mean even the control of all food by the government and putting the whole nation upon scant rations. It may curtail our liberties in thousand unforeseen ways. War is the most rapacious and cruel of ogres. It demands the life-blood of the very choicest of our youth. It will be satisfied with nothing but the most perfect physically; the defective may stay at home and be the fathers of the next generation. It offers up on its horrid altars the terrible sacrifice of the nation's best and dearest, the hope, the courage, the faith, the devotion of our choicest spirits. Nothing on earth costs so terribly as war. We do not yet begin to realize the seriousness of the step we have taken.

Of course it means money in sums hitherto undreamed. Congress is now considering an appropriation of seven billions. Just to put it in a sum greater than the entire cost of the four years of the civil war. This alone means $700,000,000 for every man, woman and child of us, or $350.00 for the average family of five. It is evident that the working man cannot pay any such sum. It means, therefore, that those who have most must pay in proportion. Progressive taxation may even demand fifty or sixty per cent of the largest incomes. It has meant that in England. The indirect cost will be very severe. We shall all suffer from rising prices. To take a million men out of productive industry means the loss of their earnings, which may amount to a billion dollars a year. It is impossible at this stage to compute the money cost of this war, but we can see far enough to realize that it will be staggering. As much as possible we must bear the burden of the future generations.

Everybody in the country, therefore, must help in this struggle. Modern war is the united effort of a whole people. It was not so in the old days. Then we said "Good Bye" to our soldier boys and there was little for those left at home to do but to pray for their safe return. But success in modern warfare depends as much on the man with the hoe, the man behind the machine, the woman in the munition factory and in the household, as it does on the soldier in the trenches. Today we are all eager to do our bit. Prof. Scott Nearing is a noted pacifist. He was dismayed the other day when his little boy came home from kindergarten with a sword and a shield. He said, "Bearing so proudly the red, white, and blue?"

"I go where my country and duty are calling."

"If you'll be a soldier-boy, you may go too."

The little fellow had caught the spirit of the day. Whatever our personal opinions may have been regarding our country's entrance into the war, now that the step has been taken there is only one position for all loyal Americans to take. Now we are all for America; now we are all eager to do our part.

In the question, then, becomes intensely personal. What can I do? It is not the duty of every one to volunteer either for active service or the home guard. But there are some things that each can do.

We are facing a serious food shortage all over the world. It is already critical in some lands. America must feed her own people, and must give largely to keep the world from starving. We now have hardly enough for ourselves. It is evident, therefore, that we must do two things,—increase production to the fullest possible extent, and stop all waste. Many of us can add to the production of food, and can assist in a national effort to use millions of untitled acres. And we can do this by the conservation of waste. We are a prodigal people. It is estimated that several millions of dollars' worth of food is wasted annually in the United States. To stop that waste would add as much to the food reserves of the world as the cultivation of many thousand acres. It is the patriotic duty of every individual and every household to practice the most rigid economy in the use of food.

We can cut out needless expenditures. England began the war by displaying in her streets the sign, "Business as usual." But the sign soon disappeared. It has been said that we are in danger of boasting, "Pleasure as usual." Not yet do we realize that serious war means the cutting off of luxurious indulgences. Recreation is necessary, even in wartime. But it must save millions. Dr. Hillis gives timely advice to gay New Yorkers. "End this regime of gluttony, wine-bibbing, senseless show and gorgeous equipage." Hundreds of thousands of dollars are worse than wasted every night in our great cities. Meanwhile the spectres of famished faces look down upon the banquet. Millions in Poland, Armenia, Belgium and France are literally starving. Unless we now adopt the simple life in order to help save the world's starving children, we are eternally disgraced.

Especially we can all contribute moral support to the great cause. It is a time for clear thinking and honest purpose. As a people we are liable to crazes and stampedes. But war, like matrimony, is not to be entered into lightly nor inadvisedly, but soberly, discreetly, and in the fear of God. Let us keep a level head. Let us have a clear vision of the principles at stake, and increasing moral energy in upholding them. Lay aside the ephemeral novel. Open the books of history and political science. The world is remaking before your eyes. Be not a blind and unthinking observer of the tremendous change, nor only a fiery partisan of your country's cause. Let us banish bitterness and wrath and clamor and evil-speaking, as the apostle urges, and reverently seek to know and do the will of God in His mighty work among the nations. You will note that the allies have their welcome to us emphasize the moral contribution we can make. Milukoff in Petrograd, Lloyd George in London, Viviani in Paris, the Prime Minister of Italy, do not speak of our assistance in furnishing men and money and ships, but they all hail with joy the fact that the greatest of republics now joins with them in a league of honor to end forever the threat of militarism and the reign of terror in Europe. This conflict is a strife of ideals as truly as of physical forces. We know the ideals for which Germany stands. They have been frankly enough set forth by her Bernhards and Von Treitschkes. The German people are a heroic behind their government in this war with a united devotion and a stolid endurance that compels admiration. But we wonder how a kindly folk, as we have known them, can possibly endorse and applaud such inhuman atrocities as the oppression of Belgium and the submarine murders. The answer is that from childhood they have been taught that Germany is so far superior to other nations that it is her divine mission to rule the world, and that those who resist her rule are rebels against God. There has just come to my desk a little book with the strange title "Fetters and Fetters," the name of a German war poem. This book is entirely made up of extracts from recent sermons by famous German preachers, addresses by professors, war poems, etc. It is difficult to believe that it is not a hoax. As Ralph Connor says in the Introduction it seems as if somebody wishing to humiliate and ridicule Germany had faked these extracts and attributed them to these revered and learned leaders of her people. "That silly, solemn self-glorification, that self-idolatry with its iteration so characteristic of a semi-barbarous fanaticism—how even a slight sense of humor had saved them!—that sense of mission, light-bearing and life-giving, to inferior, frivolous and decadent non-German peoples (cf. German nature healing a sick world), that pitiful, insolent contempt for all peoples, races, tribes other than themselves, that crazy hatred of those they call their foes, rising to a frenzied hysteria when directed against England, and above all, and sadder than all that blasphemous monopolizing of the Almighty as the German God, and the identification of the Deity with the German soul. . . . How pitiful it all is, how ghastly, how terribly funny were it not so terribly sad." These words of Ralph Connor are not exaggerated. As I read these extracts from the spiritual and intellectual leaders of Germany I felt as if I were listening to the ravings of the unhappy inmates of an insane asylum. You could not match them anywhere else. These people are literally beside themselves with pride and arrogance. They are all megalomaniacs. Even Prof. Harnack, the leading scholar in all the world in the sphere of church history, joins those who feel that Germany is so superior to all the rest of the world that all other nations should bow down before her and consider themselves happy to be ruled by her. Prof. Von Stengel, the German authority on International Law, is reported as saying, "There will be no conference at the Hague after this war. The one condition of prosperous existence for the nations is submission to our supreme direction. In our over-lordship all international law will be superfluous, for we of ourselves and instinctively go to each other his rights." And here are pages of quotations from the best-known preachers of Germany in which with wearisome iteration it is asserted that the German nation is God's chosen people, that it is God's evident will that they shall rule the nations, that the only hope for the decadent world is in the rule of this people so infinitely superior to all the rest of mankind, etc. ad nauseam. We must meet this fanaticism with reason and righteousness. No people can forever defy the common judgment of the world. Germany is beginning to question her infallibility as she finds the nations united in condemnation of her inhumanity. When she realizes that the world does not so much hate her as she despise her, it will be a bitter awakening from her dream. Public opinion is the court of last resort. It is our privilege to help create and maintain in the world an atmosphere of good-will and mutual respect and tolerance which will make such a world tragedy as this forever impossible hereafter.

As I close, let me turn to one thing which lies within the power of every one, which will be a real contribution to the cause so dear to our hearts. One great nation after another has been led to try to stop the waste of men and treasure through alcoholic drink. Whatever may have been the weaknesses and sins of the late czar, he has this to his credit that he signed the decree which made Russia sober. Without this prohibition of vodka, it is doubtful if the revolution would have been possible. France has diminished the use of alcohol during the war. England has made strenuous efforts in this direction. The King and many other dignitaries have set a noble example of abstinence. But the traffic is so interwoven with the whole fabric of English society that it is almost impossible to eradicate it. Many of the funds of the Church are invested in brewery stocks. Bishops and Lords depend upon the revenue from drink for a large part of their income. The British peerage, it is sometimes said, rests on the breweries. In spite of continued agitation, Great Britain's drink bill was larger last year than ever before. Men had more money to spend, and a good share of it went to the public house. Now the food shortage is compelling a new struggle. The nation must choose between bread and beer; there is not grain enough for both.

In our fortunate land, we are free from many of these hindrances. But we waste an enormous sum in drink. It is little less than a crime in the present distress of the world to send train-load after train-load of grain daily into our breweries and distilleries. No wonder you have to pay high for bread and cereals. The Harvard and Yale Professors of Political Economy tell us that last year we used over seven billion pounds of food-stuffs in alcoholic beverages, enough to feed seven million men for a year. Alcohol costs us more than $4,000,000,000 a year, or $1,500,000,000 a year, or $185 men every day. The indirect cost is far more. It is estimated that altogether we pay more than $5,000,000,000 a year for the privilege of drinking alcoholic beverages. We could pay almost the whole of the enormous war appropriation by the savings of a single year of abstinence. Thoughtful men are beginning to realize that President Butterfield of our Agricultural College is right when he says, "Prohibition is an economic necessity." In time of war and its stress the nation assuredly cannot continue to waste its resources in any such fashion. We can all do something to stop this waste. There was an impressive service in Christ Church, Springfield, last Sunday. The Easter audience of 1385 people was the largest in the history of the parish. The rector, Dr. John McGinn, after speaking of war conditions, said,—"I crave for Christ Church at this moment an influence which shall be positive and uncompromising. What definite forward step can we as a congregation take to mitigate the perils of war time? What can we do to make of the soldiers of our beloved nation soldiers and servants of Jesus Christ? This much certainly. We can adopt as the policy of this parish abstinence during the period of the war from the beverage use of all intoxicants; voluntary renunciation of what many of us regard as permissible. This need not commit you to any judgment on the wisdom or wisdom of other propaganda which have attained nation-wide dimensions and are sweeping alcohol from state after state. I do not wish to raise that general question; but I offer two reasons along which this parish of honored and conservative tradition can stand in the community for such specific self-denial. (1) The use of alcohol is a luxury which can be surrendered without physical hardship. Its abandonment will serve to encourage sober thinking, to keep the sharpened edge of reality more clearly in view. One drink blurs the contract which conscience makes with duty. Perhaps it may be blurred safely at times in the interest of relaxation, but surely not in a time like this when we require the alertness and sobriety and country and industry of our New England landladies. Here is a type of universal service which can prevail without conscription. (2) Springfield is likely to be the large center to a military training camp of one hundred thousand men,—young men, released from the restraints which customary occupations and home life impose." While Dr. McGinn was still speaking, and saying that he wished he had the courage to ask this dignified assemblage to do this one thing toward making the nation stronger, a big man well up toward the front stood up, and there was no mistaking his meaning. The whole congregation arose spontaneously, in voluntary pledge of abstinence, and the surprised and gratified rector welcomed them into this covenant.

Bishop Lawrence, commenting on this incident, says, "Military efficiency demands total abstinence of the whole people." Dr. Elwood Worcester adds, "This is the psychological moment for America to put down the blood-purification of drunkenness." We all know that the surroundings of the camps at El Paso and Plattsburgh were a national disgrace. One of the great evils of this war has been the downfall of many pure boys from Canada and Australia under pressure from the temptations which surround the British training camps. Let us deliver our boys from such besetments. One heart-breaking Australian mother cried out,—"I was willing to give my boy's body for his country, but I did not know I had to give his soul also."

I covet for this ancient church a place of leadership in this crusade. This is the hour of the Church's opportunity for moral leadership in a great forward step by the whole people. We have never been wanting in patriotism. More than half the male membership of this Church fought in the Revolutionary armies. The call of the country was answered with like devotion in 1861. Our boys are now enlisting in the army and navy and many of you are drilling in the Home Guard. I suppose such a pledge of abstinence would mean little self-denial to anybody in this audience. But our duty, however little it may affect our personal lives, will add weight to the movement for total prohibition during the war. Its influence will be felt. Some of you may not feel that it is wise for you to take this pledge, but as many as will join me in the vow to abstain from the use of all alcoholic beverages during the war, will you now rise and enter into this covenant of patriotism?

(In response to this appeal, the audience sprang to its feet in token of the pledge of abstinence. About five hundred were present, and less than a dozen remained seated.)

THE HERITAGE OF OUR BRETHREN

Num. 32:6-16. "And Moses said unto the children of Gad and the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren go to the war, and shall ye sit here? . . . And they came near unto him and said, We will build sheepfolds for our cattle, and cities for our little ones; but we ourselves will be ready armed to go before the children of Israel, until we have brought them into their place. . . . We will not return unto our houses until the children of Israel have inherited every man his inheritance."

Today an army from Egypt is invading Palestine. They came along the sea-coast, the shortest and easiest route. But when Israel invaded the same land, God did not bring them from Egypt by the shortest route. A mob of newly emancipated slaves was fit neither to conquer nor to administer. After the years of training in the wilderness, the new generation of the children of Israel approached their promised inheritance from the Arabian desert, coming up the east side of the Jordan. The lands first conquered lay, therefore, to the east of the river, the hill country of Ammon and Gilead. Because this region was well adapted for grazing and they had large herds of cattle, the tribes of Gad and Reuben petitioned Moses to give them their inheritance here and not compel them to cross the river. With natural indignation Moses exclaimed, "Shall your brethren go to the war, and shall ye sit here? And when I have brought you into the land which Jehovah hath given them?" Such an example was likely to be contagious, and defeat the whole enterprise.

The two tribes protested warmly against any such interpretation of their request. They had no intention of deserting their brethren, nor of shirking their part in the common task. As soon as they had provided for the safety of their flocks and their families, they would take their rightful place at the head of Israel's host, and see the war through until a victorious peace should release them. Moses seems to have been still a little uncertain of them. He knew the lure of possessions, the mighty attraction of prosperous farms and peaceful firesides. He reminded them that God's covenant was with the united nation; the defection of any tribe would defeat the divine purpose.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Lieut. Royal R. Heuter of Auburn-dale was fatally injured last Saturday evening in a collision between a taxi-cab in which he was riding and a street car. The accident took place on Commonwealth avenue, Auburn-dale, at its junction with Islington road. Lieut. Heuter was on his way to his home on Duffield road in a taxi-cab driven by Joseph Melody. The cab was struck broadside by the street car and Melody thrown several feet, while Lieut. Heuter was pinned inside. Lieut. Heuter was unconscious when taken from the cab and removed to the Newton Hospital, where he died several hours later. It was found that his skull was fractured, his arm broken, and there were internal injuries. Melody was taken home with a broken shoulder, a wrist and internal injuries. No blame attaches to the motorman, and it is said that on account of the rain Melody failed to see the car approaching him as he attempted the crossing.

Lieut. Heuter graduated from Technology in 1906 with the degree of B. S. in mechanical engineering. He subsequently studied abroad and received a degree in engineering in 1911 at Charlottenburg in Germany. He has recently been an advisor for the Associated Factory Mutual Fire Insurance Company. He was 34 years of age and is survived by a widow, an only child having died some years ago.

Lieut. Heuter had recently received his commission as first lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps, and was expected to leave for Plattsburg on Monday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Auburn-dale Congregational Church, and there was a large attendance.

The services were conducted by Rev. William C. Gordon, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Torrey of Cambridge, a life-long friend. The Copley Quartet sang several selections, delegations were present from Co. F, 5th Regiment, N. G. M., of Waltham, in which organization he was a member for several years, and from Co. C, 5th Regiment.

Following the services the body was removed to Shawshin Cemetery, at Bedford, and a firing squad, under command of 1st Sergt. Archie McFadden of Co. F, fired a volley and Corp. McDevitt of Co. C sounded taps.

WILBUR THEATRE—With the presentation of "His Bridal Night" at Ye Wilbur Theatre, in its second month of success, producing manager A. H. Woods introduces to local playgoers, not only a sparkling new farce comedy of the kind for which he is famous, but as well, the inimitable twin Dolly Sisters, Yancei and Roziska, whose exquisite terpsichorean displays and charming personality have captured New York and other big metropolitan centres for many seasons in musical revues, vaudeville and midnight roof garden frolics. The new play is in three acts by Lawrence Rising and Margaret Mayo, whose farcical offerings of "Baby Mine" and "Twin Beds" have had phenomenal success for many seasons. Its story has to do with a newly married man, who on his bridal night, discovers that he cannot distinguish his beautiful wife from her equally comely twin sister. He knows for sure that he is married to one of the twins, but which he is unable to tell. And neither of the twin sisters will tell, for they have private reasons for not divulging the secret.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—The remarkable interpretation of the dual role of John Chilcote and John Loder continues to attract large audiences to the Plymouth Theatre, where Mr. Post begins the eleventh week of his engagement on Monday evening next. Patrons of the theatre are amazed at the adeptness with which Mr. Post changes from one character to the other and, as with a magician, they want to know just when and how he does it, and so return again and again to the theatre in the attempt to catch him in the act, meanwhile enjoying to the utmost the delightful interpretation he gives to both characters. Richard Walton Tully has surrounded his star with an exceptional company, and the supporting players, each in their individual roles, gives as excellent a performance as the star.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Pianoforte and Theory Students Association pupils of Miss Helen Douglas, gave a very successful entertainment on Thursday afternoon of last week at the Universalist Church parlors. It was for the benefit of the Floating Hospital and the program contained sixteen numbers among them being musical selections by the celebrated composers Moskowski, Schubert, Rimbach, Volkmann, Padrowski and Kern.

It included "The Daisies" by Katherine Shelden; Reading, "Music's Power," by Marion Maxim; "Mazurka in G," by Eleanor Richmond; Folk Dancing by Dorothy Filene and Gertrude Davis; Marion Burgess and Marion Maxim; Esther Stiles and Elsa Haase, with piano music by Herbert Stevens. Duo "German Folk Song," Albert Littigoe violin, and Herbert Stevens piano, "Scherzo No. 1 in B flat" by Marion Maxim; Song, "In Pillow Town," by Eleanor and Jennette Martin; Play, "The Three Wishes," by Dorothy Filene, Eleanor Tracy and Marion Summer. "Hungarian Concert Polka," by Miss Cunningham; Reading, "Winter and Spring," by Elsa G. Haase; Duo "Wind Up" by Miss Frances Rimbach, mandolin and Mr. Herbert Stevens, piano. Dialogue in 2 parts, Miss Barry and Miss Cunningham; Duo "Under the Linden Tree" by Eleanor and Jennette Martin; "Intermezzo Polacca" by Miss Gertrude Barry; Reading "The Flag" by Paul C. James. The delightful entertainment closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner" by the Young Musician's Club, after which dancing was enjoyed from 4.30 to six o'clock.

NEWTON BRANCH AT WORK

The Newton Branch of the Special Aid Society responded splendidly to a hurry call for 1200 Tri-color streamers for the use of the school children Saturday, for the Marshall Joffre parade; also 200 thread and needle bags, as our portion, were finished in record time.

Four regular classes in Economical Cooking are being conducted, and a new one will be organized Tuesday, May 22. Those wishing to take advantage of this valuable instruction, please register with Mrs. Harry A. Nealley, 10 Garden Road, Newton, Tel. 598-W.

A large amount of work is being done at Channing Church, which is headquarters for work. Already over 500 articles have been made and delivered.

A call was received thro the Special Aid for clerical workers to help in the Military Census soon to be taken. These were supplied.

The Girl Scouts are organized under Miss Evelyn Cunningham with a membership of 75. The 8 companies are in charge of the Misses Darity, Mills, Eddy, Ball, Russell, Daiger, Ganse, and Harris with Miss Cunningham as captain.

They start this week upon their first hike.

A public meeting will soon be held time and place to be given later, when important topics along the lines of food economy will be discussed.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association was held Monday evening May 7th. Over one hundred members and friends of the Association gathered for the affair. During the dinner which was served in the banquet hall at 6.30 the Boys' Orchestra led by Mr. C. L. Ellison furnished excellent music. Between courses a quartette from the Newton Highlands Glee Club composed of W. H. Chapple, Dr. T. J. Bradley, R. H. Barnes and E. S. Drowne with E. J. Smith at the piano led the whole assembly in the singing of patriotic songs.

President C. D. Kepner presided as toastmaster for the evening and after extending a welcome to those present he called upon Mr. Allan C. Emery former president of the Newton Association for a word of greeting. He in turn introduced a young man by the name of Charles Cole a convert at the recent Billy Sunday Campaign in Boston. Mr. Cole told the story briefly of his fight for Christian manhood since his conversion.

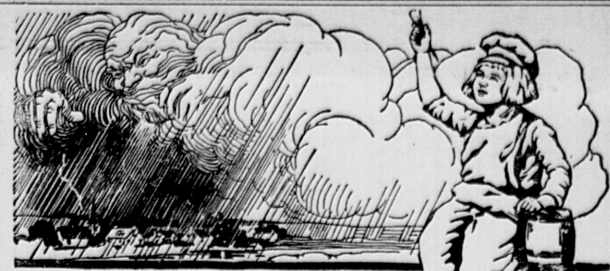

Several items of business were next taken up. Mr. A. W. Fuller presented the report of the nominating committee and the following directors were re-elected: C. D. Kepner, F. D. Fuller, C. L. Ellison, E. O. Childs, F. W. Chase and D. W. Anders. It was voted that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mr. F. D. Barber one of the directors who has been ill for several weeks. Following this came the survey of the year's work presented by General Secretary, H. W. Bascom. Emphasis was laid on the present opportunity for war work and a strong appeal was made for the continued support of the local work.

The chief guest and speaker of the evening was Mr. John H. Geldart the personal representative of the Newton Association in China. He first touched on the subject of war work for soldiers. He recently spent five weeks in Halifax, N. S., among the Canadian troops. He told of the terrible temptation the soldier boys face and brought home the fact that our own American boys will soon be facing the same conditions. Taking up as his real subject "The Place of the Association in China in the Time of National Crisis" he spoke for an hour in a most interesting manner on the growth of democracy in the new Chinese Republic and the demand for Y. M. C. A. work. Native leaders, many of whom have received their training in the United States, are being placed in charge of the Association there and are doing splendid work.

At the close of his remarks Mr. F. W. Ganse on behalf of the Association in Newton presented Mr. Geldart with a Victrola to be used in his work in Shanghai and also a gold watch for his own personal use. Mr. Geldart responded and presented the Association with a flag of the new Chinese Republic.

Look for the man on the roll

There are two ways of telling the real RU-BER-OLD from its 300 imitators:

1. Genuine RU-BER-OLD has the "Ru-ber-old Man" on the wrapper of every roll.
2. Genuine RU-BER-OLD gives long and satisfactory service.

Many RU-BER-OLD roofs laid 20 years ago are still giving perfect service.

Genuine RU-BER-OLD, made by the Standard Paint Co., contains no tar, sand, wood fibre, or other cheap substitutes that quickly wear out.

The safest way is to look for the RU-BER-OLD Man on the roofing that lasts.

GREAT GOLF EXPECTED

For the purpose of helping to raise a fund for a war ambulance, Francis Oumet, Jesse Guilford, M. J. Brady and Louis Teller have agreed to play a 36-hole match at the Brae-Burn Club on Saturday, May 19, at which fifty cents admission will be charged. Their match will be held under the auspices of the Brae-Burn Club and the Commonwealth Trust Co., has agreed to act as treasurer of the fund. The plan is to have Francis Oumet and Jesse Guilford, the two amateurs, compete against M. J. Brady of Oakley and Louis Teller of The Country Club, professionals, and notwithstanding that Brady won the Massachusetts open championship last year on the Brae-Burn Course and that Teller was a factor right down to the finish of both the national open championship of 1913 and that of 1915, there will be many putting their faith in the ability of the two amateurs to finish ahead in the 36 holes of play. When these four get together in a four-ball match, where each knows that if he is a little at fault at one hole, his partner is still there to hold up the side, it goes without saying that the scoring should be exceedingly low, even for such a course as Brae-Burn. The best golfers in the land feel that when they get under 80 at the West Newton course they are doing well. Granted that all four are playing their other shots well, the outcome will depend upon the side which produces the most brilliant putting and in that department of the game, the result is a toss-up. Brae-Burn is the ideal course for such a match and for such players. It is admirably adapted to take care of a large gallery without congestion; it has the distances to allow the long hitters to let themselves out to their physical limits and it can be depended upon to take care of a large number of spectators with the least amount of friction and greatest efficiency. E. D. Locke will take care of the ropes for handling the crowds and E. S. Litchfield will superintend the policing.

INCREASED ACTIVITY

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Branch of the Special Aid Society was held May 9th, Mrs. W. C. Boyden, presiding. The reports of the various committees showed an ever increasing activity on the part of the women of the society. $65 has been raised since the last meeting, by the Ways and Means Committee. Mrs. Lucas, chairman of the Supplies Committee, reported that 788 yards of material have been purchased and 133 garments given out. This last together, with the report of Mrs. Malcolm, chairman of the knitting, goes to show how much work is being accomplished from week to week. Upon the request of Mrs. John W. Weeks, who has come from Washington in the interests of the dire needs of the navy, Mrs. Malcolm was able to furnish 90 knitted articles consisting of sweaters, helmets, wristers, and scarfs. At the meeting Mrs. Malcolm was authorized to buy more wool and it was further decided that the chairman of each group should endeavor to raise more money for this purpose. It is hoped that all individual workers who feel able, will pay for their own wool. Plans were made to raise a contribution for the Y. M. C. A. huts. The meeting was made especially interesting by the presence of Miss Sabin of Boston, who spoke of the Notman war correspondence, the aim of which is to fit women for clerical positions, and to prepare them to take care of their property in the event of the absence of their husbands because of the war. Mrs. Irwin of the Girl Scouts reported that the troop committee had a meeting this week at which plans were made to form a local Council for all Newton within a week. The Scouts are doing their part, especially in knitting, for they made nine of the scarfs and six of the sweaters given to Mrs. Weeks.

WYATT—WHEELER

The wedding of Miss Margaret Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wheeler of Newtonville, to Mr. Guy Edward Wyatt, of Hartford, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Wyatt of Upland road, Newtonville, was solemnized Tuesday evening, at the bride's residence on Mill street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with roses and sweet peas and the ceremony was performed at half past seven, by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton. The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Howard P. Fessenden of Newton Centre, as matron of honor. The best man was Mr. Roger Wheeler of Columbia University, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Mr. Clarence Wyatt of Newtonville, Mr. Edwin Dresser of Brookline, Mr. Malcolm Dresser of Brookline, Mr. Howard Fessenden of Newton Centre and Mr. Robert M. Taylor of Hartford, Conn. A reception was held from 8 until 10 o'clock and the bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt. Music was furnished during the reception by Russell's Orchestra. There was a large number of guests present from New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Hartford, Springfield and Providence and the Newtons.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt will reside at Hartford, Conn. MAJESTIC THEATRE—"The Crisis" following closely the romance of Civil War days in St. Louis, by Winston Churchill, will be presented in elaborate style at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Mass., commencing Monday, May 14th with two performances daily at 2:15 and 8:15. In making the photoplay version William N. Selig followed exactly the thread of Mr. Churchill's story, without re-arrangement or alteration so common with makers of film dramas. The story had already proven its dramatic power in the minds of more than a million readers and was found by Mr. Selig's experts to be properly arranged for screen reproduction. The play works up to a powerful climax in the storming and taking of Vicksburg. The battle scenes have not heretofore been equalled, it is said, in any photodrama.

WEST NEWTON MUSIC CLUB

The last concert of the season was held Monday evening at Players' Hall, West Newton, and a most enjoyable program was given by Miss Dai Buell, pianist, Mrs. Albert L. Walker, cellist, and songs by Mrs. Martha Atwood-Baker and Mr. Henry P. Ayer. Mrs. Baker was accompanied in one number by a trio consisting of Mrs. Allen Hubbard, Mrs. A. L. Walker and Miss Lillian West. Mrs. Ethel West-Ross, Mrs. Pauline Mason White and Mr. Herbert Carrick were the accompanists. The concert was followed by dancing.

DEATH OF MRS. BERRY

Mrs. Mary F. Berry, widow of the late Arthur L. Berry of Newton passed away on Sunday, May 6th at The Coloma, on Walnut street, Newtonville. Mrs. Berry is survived by two sons, Richard Berry and Gordon Berry, and one daughter, Mrs. Stewart K. Gibson of West Newton.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Mt. Auburn Crematory Chapel. Services were conducted at half past three, by Rev. Harry Lutz, pastor of Channing Unitarian Church, of which the deceased was a member. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

DEATH OF MR. CLARK

Mr. Augustus T. Clark, a resident of Newton Centre for the past twenty years, died at his home on Hancock avenue last Tuesday after a few days illness with heart trouble. Mr. Clark was born in Wilmington 62 years ago for a number of years was active in mining affairs in South America. He later acted as treasurer of the Campbell Zinc Contracting Company, and more recently filled the same office in the American Circular Loom Company. He was a member of the Exchange Club and of the Brookline Country Club. Mr. Clark is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Harold Gordon of Johnson, Vt.

The funeral services which were held yesterday afternoon at his late residence on Hancock avenue were largely attended and there was a profusion of flowers. Rev. Edward M. Niles, pastor of the First Church officiated and there was singing by a male quartet. The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

ALLEN SCHOOL TO REOPEN

The Allen School for Boys in West Newton, founded by Horace Mann and Nathaniel T. Allen in 1853, has passed into new hands, and is to adopt military training when it opens its doors next fall. The new director, who is to assume entire control of this old school, is the Rev. Dr. Thomas Chalmers of Manchester, N. H. He announces the adoption of military training along with the regular college preparatory work in the Allen School because he believes that "a chief purpose of the education of boys should be to lead them away from the temptations of petty selfishness into a man's conception of the value of human civilization and of the costly character of its achievements. We do not try to bring up our boys to be soldiers, but we bring them up to be men. We believe the physical benefits of military training will be equalled by its moral benefits."

VACATION WEEK

The Newton Vacation Week begins its twenty-seventh year of work in June. This work is undenominational, striving merely to give summer rest and cheer to those of whatever age, race, creed, or color, who sorely need a change of scene, but have not the where-with-all to obtain it. Last year people enjoyed outings or treats, varying from Electric rides to extended visits to country or beach, and were thereby better fitted to face the life of toil, care, and anxiety, which the winter promised them.

The needs this year are more urgent than ever. Any one interested in aiding the work may communicate with Miss Elizabeth Spear, Chairman, 89 Walnut Park, Newton.

MUSICAL

A large company of guests, numbering more than sixty assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Packard on Hancock street, Auburn-dale, Sunday afternoon and were delightfully entertained by Mr. A. F. Stoessel, violinist, of Boston. It was the third of a series of musicals given by Mrs. Packard, and the guests showed their appreciation of the excellent program by enthusiastic encore.

Among the pleasing numbers were Mr. Stoessel's interpretation of Dientemp's "Concerto," and Schumann's "Abendlied." He also played "The Swan," and two of his own original Compositions which were very fine.

VETERANS RESPONDING TO CALL

The names of a number of the old time members of Company C were added to the roster of the "Claffin Guards Veteran Corps" Home Guard last Tuesday evening. Among those who enlisted was George H. Wascott of Dorchester, who was a sergeant in the company twenty years ago, and who served during the Spanish War. At its drill in Hibernian Hall on May 21st the Corps will be augmented by a number of former regular army men.

The Corps will be pleased to receive applications for associate membership from residents of Newton who have served in any branch of the militia or regular army.

FLAG NIGHT

Division 10 of the Ladies' Auxiliary A. O. H., held an enjoyable "Flag Night" on Monday at A. O. U. W. Hall, West Newton, at which the principal address was given by Mayor Childs. The program also included recitations by Mr. Richard Leach, singing by Mr. Charles Laffie, monologues by Mr. James Malone, exhibition dancing by Miss Margaret Kelly and Miss May Callahan and Mr. Michael Cunningham and Mr. James Priest made a great hit with their musical dancing skit. Capt. John Ryan gave an interesting talk on the Civil War and souvenir flags were presented to everyone present by Mayor Childs.

RED CROSS WORK

The Newton Branch Establishes Headquarters at The Newton Club at Newtonville

The Newton Branch of the Red Cross has got into good working condition and is constantly extending its activities. A most important step was the establishment of headquarters at the Newton Club, Newtonville. That club in a thoroughly patriotic and generous manner has given the Red Cross the use of the corner rooms on the first floor generally used as ladies' dressing rooms. This location is central and very convenient. Headquarters are to be open every week day from 10 to 2 except Saturdays when they will close at 12. An officer will be in attendance and there will be exhibits of Red Cross work. It is hoped that a free use of these headquarters will be a convenience and at the same time ease the strain upon the Boston headquarters.

In the week beginning May 20th an

MINSTREL SHOW

A Minstrel Show, under the auspices of the Children's Belgian Day Committee, will be given in Player's Hall on Friday evening, May 25th. The committee is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick S. Pratt and includes Mrs. Daniel G. Wing, Mrs. Frederick T. Walsh, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr., Mrs. Henry B. Patrick, Miss Ethel Howland and Mrs. George T. Dodd.

The proceeds will be for the benefit of the starving children of Belgium, as a gift from their American friends, the children of West Newton. The program is being arranged by Mrs. Derby Brown of Newtonville and Miss Ethel Howland of West Newton and about 50 young people of Newton will appear on the stage. There will be a chorus of pickaninies, dancers, soloists, of the usual type, but not of the usual size, and joking men and "Topsies," the performers all being children.

Mr. E. I. Locke of Watertown, as interlocutor, will be the only grown up person on the stage.

The second half of the program will include special features, notably the dances of the Allied Nations engaged in war.

Among the good workers interested in the success of the show are Mr. William G. Hambleton, Miss Mary organized campaign will be conducted for Red Cross members. At present there are about 1500 Newton members—a number far too small in proportion to the city's population and which should be greatly increased. A recent campaign for membership in Newton Upper Falls has resulted in a remarkable increase in that village and a similar increase in the other villages would bring the total for the city to the point it should reach. Financial help has come from various sources and is very welcome. At the recent Players' performances a collection taken between the acts secured over $240. The special performance of "The Elopement of Ellen" by the Technical High School seniors will result in a very substantial sum. The telephone at headquarters is Newton North 2998.

Sprague, Miss Edith Thomas, Mrs. Herbert Grindal and Mrs. Warren Provost.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ayres celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on Saturday at their home in Newton Lower Falls. Many friends called to extend congratulations during the day and they were the recipients of one hundred and twenty-eight dollars in gold, one hundred of which was presented to them by their sons, Jesse and Harry Ayres.

WANT NAMES.

The Newton Committee of Public Safety want the names of any Newton boys who are serving today in the United States Army or Navy, and their present addresses, if known. Relatives and friends are requested to send the names as promptly as possible to the Committee at 893 Washington street, Newtonville.

The Committee also would like to have the names of any officers, ex-officers or non-commissioned officers who have served in the army or navy, or National Guards or militia. Please send names and addresses to the Secretary at 893 Washington street, Newtonville.

THE MILITARY DRAFT

Newton Must Furnish 3221 Men if Called Upon

Chief Gettemy of the Bureau of Statistics reports that Newton will be called to furnish 3221 men when the army draft bill becomes a law. It is now expected that July 1 will be the date fixed by President Wilson for the enrollment of every male between the ages of 21 and 30, inclusive. Newton's share will be divided as follows:

2.....	608
3.....	541
4.....	384
5.....	437
6.....	486
3,221

The registration of these men will entail considerable work and any one desirous of helping either on the day of registration, or in the clerical work which will be necessary both before and after that date, should communicate with City Clerk Grant, who has the matter in charge.

CANNOT SERVE

To the Voters of the Thirteenth Congressional District:
As a member of the Constitutional Convention in your district, it is a great disappointment to me that military duties will prevent my sitting at the convention.

With deepest appreciation of the support which was given me in this district, and with the earnest hope that a sound, constructive, liberal Constitution, providing a responsible government in harmony with this age of democratic development, may be the results of the Constitutional Convention this year in Massachusetts, and with assurance that I shall work to this end as far as possible, I am
Yours very truly,

BENEFIT DANCE

The Newtonian Club baseball nine will run a benefit dance in Odd Fellows Hall, Friday evening, May 25. Daniel's Orchestration will furnish the music. Proceeds will go towards outfitting a baseball nine that will have as their home grounds, the New and Enlarged Norumbega Park Diamond. Mgr. Henry Wilson of the baseball team will have charge.

NEWTON CONSTABULARY

800 Members of the Home Guard Appointed Special Police

Members of the Home Guard of this city are being sworn in as special police and Chief Mitchell and Mayor Childs have been busy signing the 800 commissions which have been issued to them. General James G. White of the Newton Public Safety Committee has been appointed chief of the Newton Constabulary as the force will be officially known and will appoint a staff of assistants. Chief Mitchell administered the oath of office on Monday night to 112 men in Newtonville. Wednesday night to 135 at Waban and last night to 104 at Newton Centre. The units at Newton, West Newton, Auburndale and Newton Highlands will be sworn in next week, and Newton will then have about one voter in nine as a police officer.

THE AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD

The final and annual meeting of the Auburndale Brotherhood was held Wednesday evening in the vestry of the Congregational Church. Supper was served at 6.45 followed by reports and the election of officers.

Mr. George F. Willett of Norwood, who was to have addressed the meeting, was unable to be present. A very interesting talk on "The Application of Business Principles to Civic Affairs," was given by Dr. Cleveland.

A musical program was given which included vocal selections by Mr. Valdo Cole, with piano accompaniment by Miss Marian Chapin. The gentlemen who served on the supper committee were Messrs. F. E. Robinson, H. W. Schafer, F. J. Shepard, M. S. P. Smith, P. M. Smith, W. F. Spooner, H. L. Tange, W. W. Tyler, E. W. Ufford, and E. J. Wilson.

The following officers were elected: Mr. Chauncey B. Conn, president; Mr. W. S. Wagner, vice-president; Mr. A. W. Lane, secretary; Mr. E. H. Ordway, treasurer; Mr. G. B. Dutton, chairman of the entertainment committee; Dr. George E. Martin, chairman of the music committee; Mr. C. B. Floyd, chairman of the membership and social committee.

The Brotherhood closes its season with 169 members, the largest membership it has had for a number of years.

Special thanks are due to the retiring president, Mr. Will C. Eddy, for his efforts in building up the Society.

"ERMINIE"

Newton Amateur Opera Association Gives Three Successful Performances of this Well Known Opera

The old time comic opera, "Erminie," with memories of Francis Wilson and Marie Jansen, was presented this week to large and enthusiastic audiences at Players' Hall, West Newton, by the Newton Amateur Opera Association. It was a most ambitious undertaking for amateurs and the cast deserve great credit for the success of the play. The acting was of the highest class, the chorus singing was excellent, and with better voices in some of the solo parts, would have been equal to professional work. Messrs. Sprague and Bentley, as the two thieves, were excellent and met with enthusiastic applause. Mr. Locke gave a most finished performance of the elderly Chevalier and Mr. Colton made a capital, as well as an awkward waiter, Miss Sewall, as Erminie, sang extremely well. Mrs. Gammons as Javotte, was vivacious and charming, while Mrs. Colton made a decided hit as the Princess and Miss Norman, as Marie made the most of a small part. The play was splendidly staged and the costumes were as fine as many a professional performance.

Besides those mentioned the cast included, Messrs. Harold Flint, Dan L.

Clifford A. Bennett, Newton
Peter L. Cannon, Newton Centre
M. G. Chamberlain, Newton Centre
Edw. B. Chandler, West Newton
Lewis E. Connolly, Lower Falls
Stephen Cunningham, Auburndale
Roger C. Ellis, Newton Centre

Bernard L. Gallagher, West Newton
Frank R. Gaw, West Newton
Alexander Greenleaf, Waban
Wm. J. Greene, West Newton
Walter J. McCann, West Newton
Robert J. Patterson, Auburndale
Wm. F. Pillion, Newtonville
Charles T. Brady, Newtonville

Mr. N. E. Oliver of the Diamond Rubber Co., said:

Diamond Tires are being presented to the motorist from the standpoint of economy as well as of quality. The manufacturers recognized the fact that heretofore automobile tires have been advertised practically one tire at a time. That is, the advertisements would show a picture of but one tire, and the advertising talk would be centered on the idea of selling one tire to the reader. In the new Diamond Tire newspaper campaign full advantage is taken of the thought that there are four wheels on an automobile, and that the saving involved in buying and using one Diamond Tire is quadrupled by the purchase and service of four. "Save four times as much with Diamond Tires" is the keynote of the campaign which depends upon newspaper space as the direct route to the motoring public.

Coupled with the "money-in-your-pocket" argument of saving four times as much by making all four tires Diamonds is the comprehensive, confident promise that "Every Diamond Tire must deliver all the value its owner is entitled to," and dealers everywhere report that their customers who buy one Diamond Tire eventually buy three more because of good service and mileage.

EDITORIAL

Few persons evidently realize the serious side of the war as it will affect this country. It is easy enough to find fault with our government officials, but only those in authority know the actual conditions which have to be met or overcome, before substantial results are obtained. Patriotism should mean something more than displaying the flag and standing bareheaded when the national hymn is sung. It should mean a substantial contribution in actual service, as well as money, by every able bodied man and woman. We may not all qualify as officers, soldiers and sailors, but we can each make a little harder produce a little more than usual, and save as much as possible, for, if careful observers are right in their predictions, we shall soon be called upon to do our best and utmost to bring this horrible contest to a conclusion. Let every one resolve at the present time to help the national government by the purchase of at least one of the new bonds, and stand ready in the near future to do our full share in other directions.

Congressman Gardner evidently cares little for the entirely unnecessary expense entailed by his spectacular resignation from Congress. This is no time to waste over $10,000 in the selection of his successor, when he could serve his country better in the near future to do our full share in other directions.

Newton is once more complimented by the Boston Chamber of Commerce in the selection of one of our residents as its President. Alderman Henry I. Harriman will worthily maintain the high standard of the men who have filled this important office in the past.

Newton should be proud of the fact that it has 800 citizens ready to do their "bit" in the way of police service and as a Home Guard. One voter in every nine of the city enlisted for this service is a fine record.

Newton is fast becoming a unique city in this Commonwealth, its State Guard was the first to enroll in the state and now the 800 members of its Home Guard have all been appointed special police officers.

The families of men who have already enlisted should respond promptly to the request of the Newton Public Safety committee for a list of the names and present addresses.

FLOWERS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Owing to the unusual scarcity of Wild Flowers, Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. respectfully solicits from the public contributions of flowers for decorating the graves on Memorial Day. General orders published next week will specify where these may be left.

CITY HALL

There was a decided fall off in the number of loads of ashes and waste collected last week, the annual Clean-Up week of the city as compared with the work done in 1916. Street Commissioner Stuart reports 320 double and 257 single loads collected last week as compared with a total of 714 loads in 1916.

Walter R. Forbush, Public Buildings Commissioner, has returned from Washington, where he attended the joint conference of the National Fireproofing Association and the National Association of Building Inspectors.

LODGES

More than 125 members and visiting knights attended the "red letter night" of Newton Council, K. of C., held in Denison Hall, Newtonville, Tuesday evening. An exceptional program of vocal and instrumental music was provided.

The members of the council took advantage of the opportunity to show their regard for Past Grand Knight James P. Gallagher, Lecturer M. John Barry presenting him with a purse of gold, as an evidence of their appreciation of his work while the council's executive officer.

Lecturer Barry and Grand Knight John M. Fitzgerald were in general charge of the arrangements. There were addresses by Francis J. Slattery, John H. O'Brien, past grand knight of Medford Council; Joseph Crowley, and others.

LET NOTHING SPOIL

Heat, dirt, improper handling, flies, insects, and rats or mice are the greatest food wasters.

Keep Perishable Food Cold
Keep perishables cool, clean, and covered.

The moment meat, fish, milk, and eggs are allowed to get warm they begin to spoil.

Bacteria and germs multiply rapidly in slightly warm food, and quickly make it dangerous or unfit to eat.

Keep perishable foods in the coolest, cleanest place you can provide, preferably in a good refrigerator or ice house, but, at any rate, in covered vessels suspended in the well, or in the coolest clean place in your home or cellar.

Do not keep perishable foods in a hot kitchen or pantry or in a sunny place a moment longer than is necessary.

Dry cold is a better preservative than damp cold.

Keep Food Covered and Clean
The dust particles in the air carry molds and germs.

Meat, fish, and milk are ideal breeding grounds for such germs. Keep your food covered so that these bacteria and germs will have as little chance as possible to get on your food.

House flies—better called "typhoid flies"—are among the dirtiest things that enter our homes. They fly from sewers, privies, and manure heaps, carrying filth on their feet, which they deposit on any food on which they alight. Frequently germs of typhoid fever are carried by flies in the filth on their bodies, and in their excrement (flyspits).

Ordinary cleanliness demands that flies be kept out of our homes and from our food.

Health protection makes it essential to banish flies. Keep all food covered, or at least screened from the carriers of deadly disease and filth. Destroy flies by every possible means.

Guard Food Against Vermin.
Rats and mice destroy millions of dollars' worth of food and other property every year in homes or farms, and in business establishments. Many rats harbor the germs of bubonic plague. Trap and kill them. Look upon every mouse as an enemy to your property.

Eradicate roaches and house ants. Keep weevils out of cereals. Keep your food where such pests can not reach it.

Keep household pets away from food.

Store Vegetables and Fruits Properly
Don't let fresh vegetables or fruits wilt or lose their flavor or begin to rot because they are handled carelessly. Keep perishable vegetables in cool, dry, well-aired, and for most vegetables, dark rather than light places.

Learn how to store potatoes, cabbages, root crops, fruits, and other foods so that they will keep properly for later use.

Don't think that any place in the cellar or pantry is good enough to store food.

Heat, dampness, poor ventilation, bruising, or breaking will rapidly make many vegetables rot, ferment, or spoil. Warmth and light make vegetables sprout and this lowers their quality.

Can or Preserve Surplus Vegetables and Fruits
When there is a surplus of fruits or vegetables that will spoil if kept, cook or stew them and keep them cold and covered for use in a day or two.

Can or preserve all surplus food from gardens for winter use. In a morning's work with ordinary home canners, you can put up many cans of vegetables and fruit for winter use. If you have no garden, watch the markets. When any fruit or vegetable that can be canned becomes plentiful and cheap, buy a quantity and can it for home use next winter.

Be a Food Conservator
Write today to the U. S. Department of Agriculture or to your State agricultural college for full information as to how to keep food in the household and how to can and preserve all surplus fruits and vegetables.

Demonstrate thrift in your home. Make saving, rather than spending, your social standard.

Bees

"A swarm of bees in May
Is worth a load of hay;
A swarm of bees in June
Is worth a silver spoon;
A swarm of bees in July
Isn't worth a fly."

These are some of the books in the library dealing with the practical side of bee-keeping and a few others that may be regarded as classics in bee literature as well as of scientific value.

Ants, bees and wasps, by Lord Avebury. OW-A94

"Although this is a book of scientific experiments, it should be read by every bee-keeper. No other book tells so well the patience and ingenuity necessary to discover what the bee knows and why it does certain things."

Bigbee bee book; a swarm of facts on practical bee-keeping, carefully piloted by Jacob Bigbee. RKY-B48

How to keep bees; a handbook for the use of beginners, by Anna Botsford Comstock. RKY-C73

Bramble-bees and others, by J. Henri Fabre. OWN-F11b

Essays on wild bees. OWN-F11

The mason-bees, by J. Henri Fabre. OWN-F11

Bees shown to the children, by E. A. Hawks. RJKY-H31

A practical treatise on the hive and honey-bee, by L. L. Langstroth. RKY-L26

"This book written by the father of American apiculture is comprehensive, and is good literature as well as good bee-keeping."

How to keep bees for profit, by D. Everett Lyon. RKY-L98

Included are physiology, habits, and care of bees, honey as food and medicine (with recipes), marketing, and a list of honey-producing plants. It is a safe conservative guide.

The life of the bee, by Maurice Maeterlinck. OWN-M26

"This exquisite piece of literature and social philosophy has attracted much attention, and has introduced the world at large to the wonderful life of the honey-bee in such a poetic and dramatic manner, that most people have regarded it as a work of fiction. Maeterlinck is said to be a practical apiarist, and his book is based upon the facts of bee-life as he understood them at the time the book was written. Maeterlinck is the Homer of the bees, and therefore, he has a right to poetic license."

The bee people, by Margaret Morley. JOWN-M82

The honey-makers, by Margaret Morley. OWN-M82h

"The first of these books is written charmingly for children and covers in an interesting manner the life of the bee. 'The Honey-makers' tells of curious superstitions and customs regarding the bee."

Productive bee-keeping; modern methods of production and marketing of honey, by Frank C. Pellett. RKY-P36

Good, comprehensive, readable book. The writer not only gives practical details about managing bees and honey for beginners and experienced apiarists, but has kept in mind the person interested from the nature-study side. Chapters on law for the bee-keeper and bee diseases.

The A B C of bee culture, by A. I. Root. RKY-R67

"Every page of it is interesting, and is based upon the actual experience of a man who is at once a keen observer, a sympathetic friend to the bees and a most successful apiarist. The A B C and X Y Z of bee culture; a cyclopedia of everything pertaining to the care of the honey-bee, by A. I. Root. RKY-R67a

Quincy's new bee-keeping, revised by L. C. Root. RKY-R672

This is a simple straightforward account of a practical man's dealings with bees.

Wampum Beads.

Wampum beads were made from a variety of different substances, but the one that was used in the greatest numbers was the ordinary hard clam or quahog, which is found from Cape Cod to Florida. Roger Williams, writing of the eastern Indians, states that they "store up shells in summer against winter, whereof they make their money."

"Baby" Flatiron More Than a Toy.
A "baby" flatiron weighing exactly one pound not only provides the "little mothers" with an incentive to indulge in industry at an early age, but it is useful for light pressing and lingerie, laces and handkerchiefs. The iron is very useful for traveling, because of its light weight and its compactness. It operates on less than 120 volts, and is equipped with connector plugs and six feet of maroon cord.

JOHN A. ANDREW HOUSE

The Governor John A. Andrew Home Association held its quarterly meeting in the hall of John A. Andrew Post No. 15, G. A. R., in Boston, Monday evening, May 14th. The meeting was largely attended and the reports of the President and Treasurer show that the Home is making good progress towards success. A donation of $100 was reported as received from the Department of the Ladies of the G. A. R., with additional contributions to the amount of $175.

The object of this Home is to enable needy veterans of the Civil War and their wives to spend their declining years together, and the co-operation of our public spirited citizens is urgently desired in order that these worthy people can be well taken care of. Donations of money or material will be gratefully received. Checks may be sent to W. A. Wetherbee, Treasurer, Room 123, State House, Boston, and material to the Home at 92 Washington Park, Newtonville, Mass.

CITY OF NEWTON MASSACHUSETTS NOTICE TO COAL DEALERS

Sealed proposals for furnishing anthracite and semi-bituminous coal required by the Public Buildings, Charity, Police, Fire and Library Departments of the City of Newton, will be received at the office of the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, West Newton, Mass., until 9:30 A. M., June 2nd, 1917.
 Proposals are invited for the whole supply required by each of said departments from July 1st, 1917 to July 1st, 1918.
 All proposals must be upon blank forms furnished by said Departments, and must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company, for the sum of two hundred fifty ($250.00) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract.
 Proposals may state contractor's conditions respecting deliveries as effected by war, strikes, commandeering of boats or coal, shortage of cars, etc., and if stated they shall govern, but if no conditions are stated, or the conditions are not fully stated, it shall be understood that the city shall be entitled to receive coal as called for by the respective departments on one week's notice.
 A bond for the faithful performance of the contract in the penal sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00) will be required.
 Specifications and forms of contract can be obtained at the office of the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, West Newton, Mass.
 The respective Departments reserve the right to accept or reject any and all bids, and any part or parts of any bid.
 Public Buildings Department, City Hall, West Newton, Mass., May 17, 1917.

Glorious Hungary.

In speaking of Hungary, a German writer has said: "When I hear its name mentioned my waistcoat seems too tight for me, in my heart wakes traditional exploits of long ago, the poetry and song of the Middle Ages. Its history is that of yore, the same heroism lies within its borders, the names of its heroes alone have changed."

Grandmother's Nice Rug.

Little John visited grandmother for a week. While there one of his great joys was to play on a certain little rug which was a wildcat skin. The day after his return home he ran into the house demanding bread and butter. "And be sure," he said, "to give me a piece of bread that's as soft as the wildcat skin at g'ma's."

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William B. Foster to Dorchester Trust Company, dated December 10th, 1915, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4090, Page 124, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, there will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, June 11, 1917, at one o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed therein described as follows:

"A certain parcel of land being situated in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, shown as Part A, on a plan of Chestnut Hill Trust, Plan of Land in Newton, Mass. (Waban Hill District) from Plan of O'Neill & Rew, Surveyors, duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4090, Page 65. Southerly and Easterly and Southeasterly on a curved line on Waban Hill Terrace by three courses, twenty-six and 25-100 feet; twenty-four and 29-100 feet and forty-one and 21-100 feet; Southerly on lot 42 as shown on said plan one hundred and fifty-six and 68-100 feet; Westerly on part marked C as shown on said plan twenty-nine and 14-100; Northerly on Part B as shown on said plan one hundred and five and 85-100 feet; and Northeasterly on said Part B seventy-eight and 75-100 feet; containing according to said plan ten thousand square feet of land. This conveyance is made subject to restrictions referred to in deed from Dana Estes to Winnie May McAllister, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3344, page 576 so far as the same may now be in force and applicable.

The above conveyance includes all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in any building or buildings now standing or hereafter erected on said premises prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage."

Excepting therefrom, however, so much of said mortgaged premises as was released by this mortgage by partial release dated October 30, 1916, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4090, Page 65.

One thousand ($1000) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from the date of sale, on the delivery of the deed.

SPRING TIPS.

A Few Points About Silhouettes and New Bags.

Notwithstanding the plaits in the new skirts, one notes with interest—and who will not say gratification as well—that the silhouette of the feminine figure is once more changing. Not a serious or injurious change of actual figure lines, necessitating an uncomfortable corset, but a very reasonable change in the length and width of skirts.

A welcome change, for surely we have had quite enough of the short skirts, many times so unkindly and grotesquely displaying fantastic shoes, a too generous proportion of gay stockings and not infrequently legs unfortunately not so straight and beautiful as legs should be.

Bags as a pre-eminent dress accessory are holding their own, despite the advent of many interesting novelties in both garments and accessories of dress for spring.

The variety of shapes and materials in new bags is no more varied than the purposes to which they are to be put. For one to be thoroughly in fashion must have a bag for every costume and for every business and social occasion.

There are shopping bags, outing bags, sport bags, party bags, porch sewing bags, little bags and big bags—all useful, all pleasing and many unique.

Bags are made of the suit or dress material, of ribbon or crocheted and of braid.

Bags of straw and satin matching the hat are not unlikely, and bead and brocade embroidery will be used on virtually all of the bags of plain material and many of those made of fancy material.

Two charming bags are to be found, one of satin shaped by rows of shirring at the bottom and finished with a hand made tassel of silk floss; the other of a brilliantly striped silk cut on the bias and with colorful beads used effectively as a tassel and to trim the ribbon drawn string handles.

WEE ELEGANCE.

A PERFECT LADY.

cut and trimmed with beaver, as is the small turban. A white woolly motif accompaniment is almost as huge as the lady herself.

Plying the Needle.

You can utilize to good advantage the tops of the children's wornout white hose by turning them into socks. Stitch the hem on the machine and crochet around twice to hold the edge in shape.

To join lace and embroidery button-hole the edges together instead of seaming them. It will be found that this makes a much smoother seam and will launder nicely.

The mother of boys knows how unsightly the drawstrings used in their blouses look when they show (which they always do). But if she will substitute elastic the same as she uses in her own blouses she will find the result much neater.

When tatting use a crochet hook instead of a pin for the joining and the work will be found to go much easier and quicker.

An Attractive Blouse.

A particular chic blouse has a novel shoulder yoke cut in one with portions of the front, the rest of which are slightly gathered, the juncture of the pieces being maneuvered with those little openwork seams which are so decorative in themselves that no other trimming is required.

Smocked Evening Wraps.

Evening wraps, which are really warm and entirely envelop the figure this winter, are made of velvet and satin in veritable turquoise blue, sapphire green, peacock blue and vatican purple.

Upper Falls

—Rev. J. C. Jaynes of the Unitarian Church, West Newton, will speak Sunday afternoon at three, at the Stone Home. There will be special music.

—Next Sunday evening there will be a special feature in the service at the Methodist Church, when a chorus composed of the young people of Mr. and Mrs. Coward's classes will sing. Various classes and departments of the Sunday School are to have charge of the chorus different nights.

—Mrs. Lewis P. Everett has gone to Fitchburg for a few days to attend the Universalist convention.

—Miss Bertha Chase of Allston is spending a few days with Mrs. Robert Sawyer of Cottage street.

—Mrs. H. E. Locke has gone to New York for a few days.

—Miss Elizabeth Mirreux of Boylston street was taken to the Newton Hospital, this week, with diphtheria.

—The ladies of the Stone Home, who belonged to the Home Missionary Society of the Eliot Church, Newton, attended the meeting held there, Wednesday. Thru the kindness of Prof. Eliza Kendrick, they were taken there and back in automobiles.

—Mr. Howard Gould and Kenneth Halliday, who volunteered some weeks ago in the Naval Reserve were called for service last Tuesday. For the present Mr. Halliday is stationed at the Navy Yard and Mr. Gould at Commonwealth Pier.

—Much excitement was caused Wednesday by the arrest of a band of gypsies in front of Pettee Block. The three auto trucks brimming over with the gypsies and their paraphernalia, were driven to the police station at West Newton. Two young women Marie and Rose Yanci were held on charges of larceny for while one had told a dazzling fortune of the good days to come, the other relieved both Mr. Yanci of the fruit store and Mr. Lomer, the barber, of five dollars. When the police arrived both these men identified the girls.

—Upper Falls has surely caught the spirit of that section of President Wilson's speech which had to do with the necessity of gardening, for early and late one sees men and oftentimes whole families, digging and planting. Old gardens are being enlarged and new ones made, so that it is getting natural to ask: "How does your garden grow?" as we used to in the nursery rhyme of "Mary quite contrary."

POLICE NOTES

The Newton police on Wednesday arrested Marie and Rosa Yanco, sisters, and members of a band of 25 Brazilian gypsies, who are traveling across the country in three automobiles.

A complaint was lodged with them by Harry Baseman, who conducts a tailor shop in Newton Highlands square, that he had been robbed of $5.

According to Baseman's charge, the two sisters came into his store, and while one told his fortune, the other abstracted the $5 from his hip pocket. The police also learned that after the sisters had, as it is alleged, established the truth of their prophecy that he would soon "experience a change in fortune" they visited the barber shop of Wyckoff Lomer in Newton Upper Falls. It is charged that they secured a like amount through the same methods there, and later made a victim of Gaetano Valenti, who conducts a fruit store in the same place.

When Baseman had discovered his loss he telephoned the police and the patrol was sent to round up the tribe. The three automobiles were discovered as they were about to set out for Worcester, and the 25 members of the tribe were compelled by the police to return to the Newton Police Station. There Baseman identified the Yanco sisters and they were charged with larceny.

Abraham Bernhardt, who conducts a store at Walnut and Beacon streets, Newton Centre, was fined $12 Monday morning by Judge Kennedy for violating the law regarding the sale of tobacco to boys. He appealed, in bonds of $300. Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Walnut street testified that he had sold cigarettes to her 12-year-old son, John.

Sherman B. Ward of 101 Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, sustained an accident Friday night and the police learned the next morning of the mishap when his automobile was found standing unattended in Hamilton place where it had been all night. Policemen watched the car all night thinking that it had been stolen and was abandoned by the thieves.

Mr. Ward was called on the telephone and explained that after the theatre he and his wife went to their car to start for home. While cranking the machine Mr. Ward was struck in the face by the handle and badly hurt. Mrs. Ward disconnected the batteries and taking their movables they went to their home in a hired automobile. Mr. Ward's car was delivered to him by the police.

An automobile race on Commonwealth avenue in Auburndale last Wednesday night, in which the machines traveled at an estimated speed of fifty miles an hour, resulted in Raymond L. Skilton of Cambridge and David U. Newhall of Brookline appearing in the Newton Court Friday morning. Both pleaded not guilty to charges of reckless driving and neglecting to stop when signalled to do so by the police.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS PREPAREDNESS LEAGUE

Mrs. Ely, Chairman of the Membership Committee of the Boston Red Cross, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on Red Cross work to the members of this League on Wednesday afternoon, while the ladies busily worked on pajamas or comfort pillows, knitting or bandaging.

Emphasizing the fact that membership is the underlying force which is to keep up the good work of the Red Cross, Mrs. Ely reported splendid progress along that line, there being today 39,000 members in the Metropolitan Chapter.

But, though the three base hospitals were all equipped and in readiness May 1st, she said that there is no end of work yet to be done, for they must be constantly re-equipped as long as there shall be war.

The members were all glad to feel that they were doing even a little bit in this great work.

Mrs. Priest, Secretary of the Newton Branch told how we might all cooperate through our own headquarters at the Newton Club.

This was the fifth working meeting of the League and though the number of workers is small it was found that 22 finished articles were ready to be delivered to the Navy League this week. All other work was suspended today that the bands called for by the Public Safety Committee might be quickly finished up for the men of Company C.

The meeting of next Wednesday is to be an all day meeting.

Over one hundred dollars has been raised and is being judiciously spent in purchase of yarn and other materials for the work.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The members of the graduating class assembled in the hall on Wednesday morning to discuss several matters pertaining to Graduation, which will take place on June 27. William Fawcett was chosen to present the class gift to the school. This gift will consist of a large American Flag and a State Flag of the same size for the Assembly Hall, and will be formally presented at the Graduation Exercises. Plans were also discussed for the annual class party. This usually takes place on the evening after Graduation, and is ordinarily held at the home of some member of the class. Paul Nash, vice-president of the class, was authorized to appoint a committee to make arrangements for the party.

John Starkweather, the president of the Senior Class, has left school to enlist in the National Service in Agriculture.

Mr. Adams called a special meeting in the hall last Friday morning, in which he consulted with those pupils who intend to take college examinations this June.

The drawings for the annual boys' spring tennis tournament have been made, and several of the preliminary matches have been played.

The manager of the "Newtonian" expects that the annual class book will be published during the first week of June.

One of the largest school baseball games of the season will be played at Clafin Field tomorrow afternoon, when the two great rivals in school athletics, Newton and Waltham, will meet. This contest should be close and hard-fought from start to finish. Both teams are especially anxious to win this game on account of the tie game which was played between Newton and Waltham in football last fall. The Waltham team has the services of a number of experienced players, including infielder Smith and Gately, the hard-hitting catcher. Newton, however, is represented by a number of unusually clever players, including Turner, Garrity, and Eaton, and has made a much better showing than its rival during the season. The baseball games between these teams for the past two years have resulted in victories for Newton. The largest crowd of the season is expected tomorrow.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Posters announcing the Patriotic Fete will be out this week. Look for them. Fillers will be distributed through the school children. A souvenir program is also being prepared.

No one who saw the parade in Boston on Saturday last could fail to be impressed with the work of the boy scouts.

Other features of their work will be demonstrated by the Newton Boy Scouts at the fete on May 31st. Among them may be mentioned, fire-making, truck drill, signaling, horse and rider contest, barrel-tilting, bandaging and scout litter. The Girl Scouts will give a costume drill and march, the Camp Fire Girls will give motion songs, demonstrate camping, tent raising, picnicing, housekeeping, surgical dressing, gardening, flag-raising—in fact carry on a three-ring circus, as it were. Don't miss this opportunity to learn the various ways in which the young people of the city are joining in the preparedness movement.

State Federation

Delegates to the annual meeting of the State Federation at Great Barrington are reminded that notice must be sent Mrs. George M. Baker before May 28th, if they desire accommodations on the 10 A. M. train from Boston on June 5th. If those who expect to go by train would like to take advantage of the special ten-trip ticket, they may notify Miss Burt, 94 Charlesbank Road, Newton. If a sufficient number apply, arrangements will be made to obtain one.

Newton Federation

On Monday, May 21, the regular meeting of the Newton Federation executive board will be held in the New Church parlors at 10:15 A. M. It is an important meeting and a large attendance is desired.

Lecture on Trees

Albert MacDonald, supervisor of nature study, gave the closing talk to the Conservation class and others interested, in the Newton Library hall, on Tuesday morning. The lecture was a summation of the study of the uses of trees and forests, which brought out many interesting points. In their effort upon temperature it was stated that a large elm is known to give out 200 gallons of water in hot weather. After discussing the value of trees and giving hints as to ways of identification, the speaker turned to some of the tree enemies, the insects being the worst. He told of there being record of a serious tent caterpillar pest in 1914 and that these pests have occurred periodically from 8 to 20 years. Slides of the various insects, which have attacked our trees in recent times, were shown.

The kypsy moth, the brown tail, the elm bark beetle, the leopard moth, in the different stages of development. The destructive work of the leopard moth and elm beetle, which have completely ruined so many of the fine elms of the state, and the difficulty of exterminating them were described—how they lay their eggs singly in crevices of the bark, and gradually work their way underneath and attack the tree in its vital parts out of sight and out of reach. The white pine blister rust is a disease caused by fungi or plant life rather than an insect pest. It has attacked the currants as well as the pine trees.

In closing Mr. MacDonald summed up the work for forestry which has been accomplished in this state beginning with the organization of the Massachusetts Forestry Association in 1898. Previous to that time little had been done. He cited the law providing for forest fire look-outs, and the more recent laws for adjusting the taxation of forest lands and pointed out how great a saving of timber there has been since the establishment of the fire wardens, and referred to the movement to establish both state and town forests.

NORUMBEGA PARK

For the coming season the New Norumbega Park, which is now under the direction of John T. Benson, will offer recreation seekers many improvements to add to their pleasure.

Fifteen acres have just been added to the park property has made it possible to enlarge the Zoo by adding a number of foreign animals to the already interesting collection of carnivorous beasts.

The official opening of Norumbega Park is announced for Saturday night, May 26th. From 10 o'clock until 6 P. M. on that day all school children are to be guests of Norumbega Park where free tickets of admission to the park as well as to the entertainment in the theatre will be issued to all children making application for them.

The opening of the season of the Liberty Stock Company in the spacious Open Air Theatre will occur on this same date when a well known Broadway success will be given. It is said, the announcement of which will be given next week. A special theatre party on this occasion is expected to include many officials. Between the acts of the play, comedy films will keep the audience in good humor.

Round trip tickets on the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, which includes admission to Norumbega Park have been reduced in price, as have also the old established prices in the theatre.

Y. M. C. A. WAR WORK FUND

The War Work Committee report progress in raising the fund for the Y. M. C. A. work in the Army and Navy. Several large gifts and many smaller ones are needed to complete the full $10,000.

Cash received $3,745.50
Pledges 791.

Total to May 16 $4,536.50
Number of contributors 251.

The Y. M. C. A. is the accredited agent of the government to look after the welfare of the men in the camps but the support of the work must come from interested citizens.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The May meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. of Newton was held on Monday afternoon, May 14 at the residence of Mrs. Louis J. Balliett, of West Newton. There was a large attendance. The hostesses were Mrs. Louis J. Balliett, Mrs. John Avery, Mrs. F. W. Bakeman and Mrs. D. E. Baker.

After the roll call, the report of the April meeting was read by the secretary. As this was the annual meeting of the chapter, reports for the year's work were made by the various officers. The registrar reported four new members, making the total membership 107. At the conclusion of the reports, the regent requested the singing of "America."

It was voted that the chapter be a member of the New England Society for the Preservation of Antiquities.

Mrs. Fessenden, the regent, read a very interesting report of the 26th Congress National Society Daughters of the American Revolution held at Washington in April.

One of the most important things the chapter has accomplished during the season of 1916-1917 is the purchase of a permanent home, the old Baury house, and part of the business of the afternoon was the incorporating of the Lucy Jackson Chapter as a corporation. The following officers were elected by ballot:

Regent, Mrs. Emma J. Hart Fessenden; vice-regent, Miss Lucy E. Allen; Mrs. Alice Newhall; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clara West Dodge; recording secretary, Mrs. Linda S. Thayer; treasurer, Mrs. Annie E. Sherman; registrar, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Pray; historian, Mrs. Edith Fuller Friend; directors: Ida Burnside Converse, Mary E. N. Eddy, Maria Daniels Bakeman, Frances Meserve, Helen Root Pulsifer, Florence E. Towse, Harriet Lloyd Baker, Caroline C. Holmes, Elizabeth Damon Jones, Julia Dennison Lucas.

After singing the Star Spangled Banner, the usual social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Senior Dance will be held in Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Saturday evening, May 19. This is one of the largest social events of the school year, and should be well attended by the pupils and their friends.

At the regular Assembly last Monday morning, the boys of this school were addressed by Mr. Thurber of the English Department. He impressed upon them the importance of gardening as a form of patriotism, and showed that it is absolutely necessary for them to be willing to work when called upon.

The third performance of the Newton Technical High School Senior Play, "The Element of Ellen", was given in the Assembly Hall of this school on Saturday evening, May 12. The play was repeated for the benefit of the Red Cross Society. The members of the Senior Class of this school wish to thank the public for their generous support of this special performance.

The play was fully as great a success as it had been at the two previous performances. The cast was the same as before, including Grace Kneeland, Lawrence Sullivan, John Farnan, Ruth Taylor, Mildred Buckman, Margaret Hanton, Hazel Chivers, Alice Foley, Lawrence Barber, and Herbert McGill. The proceeds from this performance amounted to a little over $200, which will be given to the Red Cross.

Four prizes of $25 each for the best home gardens will be competed for by the pupils of the Technical High School during the coming summer. The prizes have been offered by a public-spirited citizen whose name has not been announced. The awards will be based on the quantity and quality of the yields of staple food crops. The judges, who will inspect the gardens during the summer and supervise the harvest, are Mr. Alfred McDonald, of the Public Safety Committee, Mr. John Paul and Mr. Frederick Ward of Newton Centre.

Report of the Education Committee of the Newton Federation

Four topics have constituted the major work of the year—Americanization, Mentally Retarded Children in the schools, Moving Pictures and University Extension Courses.

The sub-committee on Americanization has met with Miss Rich of the Welfare Bureau and Dr. Wilcox of the Education committee of the State Federation to study the subject. Under the direction of Dr. Fernald of Waverley, working through the Welfare Bureau four clinics have been held for testing and helping to place children whose progress in the grades has not been satisfactory. A clinic next week closes our work this year. About forty children have been so tested, some of them being placed in the special school at West Newton under the skillful care of Miss Sturges, whose work with such children is wonderful—a teacher consecrated to her task. The subject of Moving Pictures has been one of deep interest, not because we are fond of them, quite the contrary—but as they are here apparently to stay we must raise their standard for our young people. Members of the Pierian Club are censoring those shown at Upper Falls, giving their time to see that all shows are as clean as possible. A committee has been appointed to censor films and attend exhibitions at Newton. If the city cannot have clean wholesome moving pictures, then most decidedly she should have none. We are glad to have had our part in this moral house-cleaning, but let it be remembered that here as elsewhere "eternal vigilance" is the price of clean pictures and wholesome shows.

In November we formed a class in Civics under the University Extension Courses with thirty members enrolled. Interest has been sustained and the course proved very profitable. A class in Spanish is being planned for next November.

We have worked for various legislative bills. Each member has studied local school conditions and several parent-teacher meetings have been held. A Home-Companion Association has resulted at Auburndale. A list of members of the different clubs who would be ready to co-operate with the Travellers' Aid Society has been secured.

We do not find it necessary to champion our Vocational School now for it has made its place firm in the community by its high standard of teaching. Those who once scoffed have remained to appreciate the genuine value of its service. Both it and our Technical High school are among the best in the country.

Many new things are stirring in the educational world in which we should love to have a part—Junior High Schools is one of them. The next five years will see many changes. We shall hope for military training (robbed of its teeth) for the high schools for pre-vocational work, for larger accommodations for our two thousand high school boys and girls, for a suitable gymnasium, for shower baths and for increased opportunities for physical training. I commend to your earnest perusal the last report of the Newton Schools.

As a committee we trust some seeds have been sown in our four years, which may yield some return in the future to our Federation and to our schools.

TERESA G. MARSHALL, Chairman.

It has been an unusual sight in former years to see a boy with a wagon, covered with a bag, walking along the streets; sometimes three or four boys with wagons, and with them a woman with a baby-wagon. Fruit stealing today is a commercial business. The fruit is sold to some one or it would not be taken in such a wholesale manner.

Would it be proper for me to suggest that hereafter all wagons or carts, including baby wagons, in suspicious processions, be examined by any policeman on the street, and if they contain fruit or vegetables, compel the boy, or man, or woman who has them to bring evidence that he has a right to have them?

Can public opinion be aroused to such a pitch that if by reason of the laws governing Juvenile Courts, punishment to juveniles is forbidden, that the courts will be made to impose heavy penalties on the parents of the offenders? Unless our people will rouse up on this matter, the result of the patriotic farming will be crops gathered by dishonest men and women and boys, and turned into cash, with the aid of dishonest purchasers.

Will the Improvement Associations and other organizations in Newton take action and demand protection and some punishment for petty thieving?

A large part of the $700,000,000 estimated food waste in this country is that which is allowed to get into garbage pails and kitchen sinks. Ask yourself—"Can it be eaten?"

Don't throw out any left overs that can be reheated or combined with other foods to make palatable and nourishing dishes. Do You Know—That every bit of uneaten cereal can be used to thicken soups, stews, or gravies?

That stale bread can be used as the basis for many attractive meat dishes, hot breads, and desserts? That every ounce of skimmed milk or whole milk contains valuable nourishment to cereals, soups, sauces, and other foods? If you do not want milk to sour, keep it cool, clean, and covered continually. Remember, too, that sour milk, buttermilk, and sour cream are valuable in cooking; so do not waste any. Sour milk and buttermilk can be used with soda in making hot breads, or sour milk can be used easily in cottage cheese, cream cheese, or clabber. Sour cream is a good shortening in making cakes and cookies and useful for salad dressings and gravies for meat.

That every bit of meat and fish can be combined with cereals or vegetables for making meat cakes, meat or fish pies, and so on, and to add flavor and food value to made dishes? Do You Know—That every spoonful of left-over gravy can be used in soups and sauces or as flavoring for meat pies, croquettes, and vegetables?

That every bit of clean fat trimmed from meat and every spoonful of drippings and every bit of grease that rises when meat is boiled can be clarified, if need be, and is valuable in cooking? Don't fatten your garbage pail at the expense of your bank account.

When meat is boiled, the water dissolves out some valuable food and flavoring material? Save such water for soup or for use in stews or gravies, or for cooking vegetables. Save and keep soup stock. Every professional cook knows that keeping a soup or stock pot is an essential economy.

Do You Know—That valuable food and flavoring get into the water in which rice and many vegetables are cooked? Use such water for soup making if it has an agreeable flavor. Don't pour nourishment down the sewer.

PUNISH JUVENILE OFFENDERS

Editor of the Newton Graphic, Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:—Dr. Rainsford, former Rector of St. George's Church, New York, in a recent lecture on South Africa gave a description of some of his experiences in hunting lions and other wild animals in that country. He described his outfit and equipment and told of the numbers of natives required for all purposes, their manners and customs and their characteristics.

After he had been in the country for some time a young native came to him and asked to be permitted to join his expedition. He proved to be of superior intelligence and expert in hunting, perfectly reliable, and soon became Dr. Rainsford's most trusted attendant.

After about a year and a half he came to the Doctor's tent and told his story. He belonged to a neighboring tribe and a member of the tribe in the district where the Doctor was hunting had stolen or enticed away his wife. In order to get an opportunity to search for her, and after a long search, had found her, and he wanted to take her home.

The strangest part of the story was, to Christian hearers, that this man was a cattle raiser and that when he returned home, after an absence of a year and a half, he would find every animal he owned, and all the increase with it. Bear in mind this condition existed ten years ago, in a heathen country, where it is stated that no white man had penetrated fifteen years before.

In the "Garden City" of Massachusetts, highly cultured, refined and Christian, there has been no protection for several years against petty thieving, if the culprit claimed to be under age. The police had no encouragement to arrest juveniles, delinquents, and the boys boasted that "the cops could not do anything to them."

Some of my neighbors have told me that crowds visited an outlying orchard of mine, with hand-carts and bags, about day-light, in the morning, when the fruit began to ripen. I believe I have had stolen fifty barrels of apples in a season.

I should have "kept this under my hat" if it were not for the fact that every one now, from motives of patriotism, is planting gardens in all sorts of exposed positions, and unless public opinion becomes urgent and the authorities are inspired to punish offenders, John will plant and Joseph will cultivate and Spaghetti will gather the increase.

It has been an unusual sight in former years to see a boy with a wagon, covered with a bag, walking along the streets; sometimes three or four boys with wagons, and with them a woman with a baby-wagon. Fruit stealing today is a commercial business. The fruit is sold to some one or it would not be taken in such a wholesale manner.

Would it be proper for me to suggest that hereafter all wagons or carts, including baby wagons, in suspicious processions, be examined by any policeman on the street, and if they contain fruit or vegetables, compel the boy, or man, or woman who has them to bring evidence that he has a right to have them?

Can public opinion be aroused to such a pitch that if by reason of the laws governing Juvenile Courts, punishment to juveniles is forbidden, that the courts will be made to impose heavy penalties on the parents of the offenders? Unless our people will rouse up on this matter, the result of the patriotic farming will be crops gathered by dishonest men and women and boys, and turned into cash, with the aid of dishonest purchasers.

Do You Know—That every spoonful of left-over gravy can be used in soups and sauces or as flavoring for meat pies, croquettes, and vegetables?

That every bit of clean fat trimmed from meat and every spoonful of drippings and every bit of grease that rises when meat is boiled can be clarified, if need be, and is valuable in cooking? Don't fatten your garbage pail at the expense of your bank account.

When meat is boiled, the water dissolves out some valuable food and flavoring material? Save such water for soup or for use in stews or gravies, or for cooking vegetables. Save and keep soup stock. Every professional cook knows that keeping a soup or stock pot is an essential economy.

Do You Know—That valuable food and flavoring get into the water in which rice and many vegetables are cooked? Use such water for soup making if it has an agreeable flavor. Don't pour nourishment down the sewer.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

The list of books herewith is derived from the book called "The New York of the Novelists," by Arthur Bartlett Maurice, this says "Branch Library News" published by the New York Public Library, "forms an excellent guide to the regions of the city which have attracted authors of stories and novels. If a reader consults it and Rider's 'New York City' (the first complete guide-book to the city ever published), the two will suggest not only a great deal of interesting reading about New York, but will inevitably inspire many walks and investigations of historical and romantic localities. If these books are read at home, or if, better still, they start a reader exploring on his own account, they will recall pictures of the three or four half-forgotten cities which lie buried, so to speak, beneath the New York of today. Here and there something of old New York emerges. Sometimes it is only as a shadow and a memory of the old Dutch settlement. This lives in but few of these books; and in the world of fact only here and there, as in the name of a street. Sometimes it is only in a tangible relic of colonial or revolutionary New York, or of the city just after founding of the nation. Sometimes it is in the vanishing city of a few decades ago, when the Elevated was new, and there were no skyscrapers nor subway. Many of these portray the city as we know it in 1917."

REAL ESTATE NOTES

John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., report the sale of 497 Ward street, corner Elm street, Newton Centre, to W. W. Mutt, Mr. David R. Brown who built the house for his own occupancy was the grantor. The property consists of modern nine room house, garage and corner lot of about 12000 sq. feet of land, all valued at $10,500.

Mr. A. H. Waitt has sold through John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., his new stucco residence at 105 Nonantum street, Farlow Hill, Newton. With the house there are 7000 sq. feet of land and a garage all valued at $9000. Mr. J. M. Lankenau of Boston purchases for a home.

Mrs. M. Dorsey has purchased the new two family frame house and 6000 feet of land, on Jackson road, Newton, near Washington street. The house in process of construction is being erected by Blakeney Brothers of Needham who are the grantors. The property is not yet assessed but is valued at $7500. John T. Burns and Sons, Inc., are the brokers in all above transactions.

NEW PARISH

Cardinal O'Connell has set aside the town of Needham, formerly a mission of St. Mary's Church of Newton Upper Falls, as a new parish, and has appointed the Rev. Henry A. Walsh of South Natick pastor. Residents of Needham have been expecting the cardinal's action and they already have a substantial church edifice, constructed by the Rev. T. J. Daney of the Newton parish.

THE CARD CATALOGUE MUST WIN THE WAR

Has America learned the lesson of the war, or must she repeat the disastrous experiences of France and Britain?

Everybody is asking the question and is looking to Washington for an answer. All are glad that Mr. Balfour and Marshall Joffre are here. All hope that they will bring the fruits of their countries' experience to Mr. Wilson and his advisers, and that these our leaders will harken and save us from costly mistakes.

And while we are thus taking our turn at watchful waiting, are we making and helping our nation to make the very mistakes we deprecate? We are. We are making them in the early days of the war? Primarily in this, that they did not know the individuals with whom they had to deal, and were unable to put them in the right place.

France summoned everybody, and Britain invited everybody to come to the colors, and they came and were sent off en masse. Then as the war dragged on and undreamed of preparations had to be made, men of specialized qualifications were called for, and nobody knew where they were. With infinite difficulty they sifted their vast human accumulation, only to find that much of their price-tagged material had been sacrificed and more had strayed beyond all finding. Britain had asked men to volunteer for the front, and now she had to go to the front and ask them to volunteer back home again for the special services she required. We all remember Ian Hay, Beth's account of the call for volunteers, and the result. It was confusion going and coming. And all because these countries dealt with their citizens merely as men and did not know them as individuals and know what each could do.

We are all patriots. We are waiting for Mr. Wilson to call us, as the Lord called Samuel, and we will be quick to respond, "thy servant heareth." But has it occurred to us that Mr. Wilson isn't personally acquainted with us, much less with our accomplishments? Are we not somewhat like the little girl who tearfully inquired for her papa whom she had lost in the crowd. "But who is your papa?" asked the sympathetic old man. "Why, don't you know n./papa? I know him so easy." No, Mr. Wilson doesn't know us "so easy."

He doesn't know there is any Samuel. In short, there is no means by which these in authority can find us or learn what we can do. We are exactly where France and Britain were, and we are in a way to make their mistake, only more so.

That is where Germany had the advantage. She had a card catalogue, and they did not.

But card catalogue is all the rage now, someone says. Yes, it is the fad, but not yet the practice. I stopped beside an active little woman who sat behind her pile of cards where she was trying to register the women of Newton in "special aid" (or some such title) and asked her how it was going. "Slowly," she said, "very slowly. They are all willing to help, but they don't understand. They say: 'I don't want to join, but when there is anything to do, let me know.' That is the whole point of joining—just to get their name in my catalogue, so I can let them know. There is work all the time, lots of it, good work on things the experts call for, and all I'm here for is to put those that are willing to help in the way of getting their share. Every woman in Newton ought to be in my catalogue."

That is the point. That is all there is to these associations,—just a card catalogue. The Lord could call Samuel without a card catalogue, but Mr. Wilson can't. In this catalogue or in some catalogue known and accessible to the constituted authorities, ought to be the name of every man, woman, and half grown child with a statement of what each is able and willing to do. And if it be possible, as it seems to be possible, for persons to grow up in our civilization without knowing how to do anything whatever in the way of human helpfulness, may it not be that such could right now master some simple art of usefulness in the emergency from which it is not yet clear that our nation is to emerge triumphant or even exist out.

And that makes me think. I wonder if I ought to register. I hadn't thought of it as necessary between Mr. Wilson and myself. "I know him so easy."

ABANDON FOOD PREJUDICES

Don't Be Finicky

Be willing to try new foods. Certain plentiful and nourishing foods widely used and enjoyed in one section are practically unknown in other sections of the country. Learn to know ALL the good things; not a few only.

People too easily get into food rut,—just eat only the foods they are used to and refuse to give a fair trial to others. This causes undue demand for certain staples, with resulting scarcity or high prices when other valuable foods may be relatively cheap and available. A striking instance of this is failure fully to appreciate rice—a valuable source of starch when potatoes are scarce and high.

Another example is refusal in certain sections to use anything but wheat as a breadstuff when corn—a valuable cereal widely used elsewhere as a breadstuff—is plentiful and relatively cheap.

Cook Food Properly

Learn how to cook all kinds of staple foods and to serve them in a variety of ways. Simple dishes well prepared are better than expensive foods badly cooked.

Many persons are prejudiced against certain food foods because, when first tried, the foods were improperly cooked or prepared.

Remove from your vocabulary "don't like" or "can't eat."

Most individual prejudices against widely popular foods are either imaginary or baseless.

Try to like every simple food; give it a fair trial.

Demonstrate Thrift in your home. Make saving, rather than spending, your social standard.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—In "The Crisis"

now playing at the Majestic Theatre, for a limited engagement, matinee daily at 2.15, evening at 8.15, veterans who fought on either side during the Civil War that rent this country asunder for four tragic years, can sit together and see each cause fairly, impartially and sympathetically presented. Winston Churchill, in writing "The Crisis" took a large-minded view of the events leading up to and culminating in the bloody struggle of '61-'65, and wove his observation into a story of broad sympathies and tremendous dramatic power. In making his play, William N. Selig followed exactly the events of Mr. Churchill's novel, and, faithfully preserved the spirit. A striking musical score, based on romantic and patriotic airs popular at the period, and interpreted by a full symphony orchestra, greatly intensifies the effect of the shadow drama.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Guy Bates Post begins the 12th week of his engagement in his great success "The Masquerader" at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, next Monday. In this play Mr. Post has a drama which will appeal to all classes of playgoers. There is food for thought and huge entertainment in every moment of its action. In the dual role of Chicote and Loder, the star reveals an art which has ripened through the past several years until now it is at its best. No more discerning or delicate interpretation has been seen on our stage than that which Mr. Post does in "The Masquerader." Intuitively a romantic actor he embodies the romantic element with a delicacy which is truly beautiful and at the same time while convincing in the character of the downfallen Chicote he is never repulsive. Richard Walton Tully has surrounded his star with a superb company of players. Next Monday evening, May 21st, the 100th performance in Boston will be celebrated by the presentation to each lady of a fine art candle stick and silk shade.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

A valuable suggestion has been brought to the attention of the Newton Committee on Public Safety by Mr. S. H. Southall, manager of the Brae Burn Country Club. It is a suggestion which should prove of great interest to every housekeeper in the city and which, if carried out, will solve the problem of the high cost of potatoes. People who are ignorant of the methods of gardening do not perhaps know that the part of the potato necessary for the seed is the eye, and when the eyes are properly removed the remaining portion of the potato may be used for culinary purposes.

Mr. Southall says: "An idea occurred to me a few days ago of a scheme for the conservation of food in the immediate vicinity of Boston by the growing of potatoes in the small gardens by the people who have got the land and the shovel and the energy to dig, but have not got the price of the potato seed to put into it. Now I believe that if the managers, owners, and stewards of our various hotels, restaurants, and clubs which use a large quantity of potatoes every day could be called together and request them to instruct their vegetable men or women to cut off enough of the end of each potato and have it set aside for the swill men who call every day to pick them up and put them into a separate receptacle on their teams so that they can be brought to one central collecting place. From there they could be sent to the schools in our outlying towns and villages to be distributed to the children to take home or given to their parents to be used by them in their own garden free of cost. Many people I believe would avail themselves of the opportunity to get the seed that under the present price of potatoes they feel they cannot afford to buy. We are going to plant some land here with potatoes and I have my chef set aside every day the amount of potatoes we are going to use for the day and I have our gardener take them and cut off the seed before we cook them, to be put into our garden. Mr. Southall has had twenty-five years' experience as manager of clubs and hotels and is thoroughly familiar with the food problem. His proposition involves a meeting of the managers of all the Boston clubs and hotels. The hotels are asked to cut the eyes out of the potatoes which they serve daily to their patrons. The eyes would be separated, collected by the sanitary department of the city and carried to a central station where they would be distributed free. In this way thousands of people who cannot afford to buy potatoes for seed would be provided with sufficient quantities. The hotels and clubs would lose but a small part of their potatoes and as much more would be waste. It is estimated that probably three thousand bushels of potatoes are used daily by the hotels and restaurants in the city of Boston. This method may not meet with approval from those engaged in the sale of seed potatoes, but the idea is good. A potato is a potato, and when the eyes are cut out and planted by a man who understands his business, a good crop can be raised. Mr. Southall interviewed Mr. D. C. Kerr, a man who has had forty years' experience in practical gardening and been most successful in his work. Mr. Kerr has charge of the gardens on Mr. Henry B. Dahill's estate, which are among the finest in the city. He clearly demonstrated that a large part of the potato may be saved after the eyes have been taken out and all that is necessary to keep the potatoes from drying, is to cover the parts that have been cut with earth until you are ready to use them. Why would it not be a good idea for the Public Safety Committee to engage or appoint the services of a practical gardener and have him demonstrate to the boys of our High Schools who have enrolled themselves for employment on private or public gardens, the method in which potatoes should be cut, so as to entail the least possible loss of the potato itself to the householder?"

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

Motion pictures of "The War" which will be shown at this popular theatre during the week of May 27th are controlled by a corporation known as the "Official War Pictures, Inc."

This corporation is formed on a non-profit basis, ample funds having been raised for its organization, and maintenance. Its gross profits will be divided as follows: Fifty per cent. to the American Ambulance Field Service in France, and fifty per cent. to the most worthy general war relief, preference being given to needy funds rather than to those already in possession of ample resources.

Next Wednesday and Thursday "The White Raven" will be seen at the Newton Opera House featuring Ethel Barrymore in a manner that puts her at the head of her profession.

NEWTON BOARD OF TRADE

The monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held at Newtonville on Tuesday evening, with President H. W. Orr in charge. Mr. Erastus Worthington, vice president of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade was the speaker of the evening and talked on "What a Board of Trade can best do in war times." He said in part:

A Board of Trade should encourage and stimulate business to at least normal conditions. We need this business to accomplish our ordinary existence and because we are at war is no reason that we should cease our daily toil. We should encourage any feeling that we must go slow along business lines. We really are prosperous and in excellent condition financially. We should and must continue our ordinary routine of business and not think and act as if the business of war was to put all other business out of existence. We aid the business of war by conducting our routine tasks so that war business may be carried on without hindrance. We should mobilize our industrial forces so that we may be able to turn them to the best advantage in war preparation and resources.

We should see that every effort is being made to increase our productivity in war supplies and materials. We should see that each and every industry and individual is assigned to the part it or he may best perform towards the desired end.

We should cooperate fully with each and every proper movement and organization which has the furtherance of war preparedness as its object and above all else we should be loyal, true and helpful in the highest degree and with our best efforts to our government. Every citizen of this great country who has within him the spark of patriotism and devotion feels at this time that he should do his bit. We are ready and willing to do our part. We ask only what that part is. Individually we say, here am I, what can I best do to serve my country? Collectively as Boards of Trade or in any other organization we say the same. Loyalty and service we are proud to offer. Let us develop our opportunities along the lines we find at hand and place these as our offering before our mother land, for the service of our nation.

Our part may seem small, it may seem insignificant, but remember it is our part. Let us do it unflinchingly and devotedly with our whole energy and ability. And when success crowns such united efforts as they must if all do their parts then we will feel that true satisfaction which only comes when we realize that we have done our bit in a great cause.

Wind

With every howl, the wind tries to loosen the paint from your home. It drives its way into the cracks and crevices. First it dries the exposed wood and then swirls in the torrents of rain. Decay follows the soaking and spreads under the painted parts.

Paint which will prevent this destruction is made of Dutch Boy White-Lead mixed with pure linseed oil. Either pure white or tinted any desired color, it offers a smooth, unbroken surface which neither wind nor rain nor sun can crack or scale.

Examine your buildings closely and let us know if there is need of paint. We can help you.

This advertisement is one of a series designed to effect closer cooperation between the company and its subscribers. There are three parties to a telephone call—the person calling, the person called, and the operator who connects them. The quality of service rendered is determined by the spirit in which all three work together, rather than by the individual effort of any one or two of these three persons. We will gladly send complete sets of the series to those desiring them.

Give Numbers Clearly"SEVNATEFISIX."

Everyone realizes the possibilities of error in telephoning when 7-8-5-6 is asked for in that way.

When numbers are given to our operators in that disconnected, hurried or otherwise indistinct fashion, it is more than likely that there will be an error and a wrong connection made.

There is an absolute necessity for the clear enunciation of all telephone numbers: the operation of our switchboards is directed wholly by numbers. A wrong number or a misunderstood number invariably means an error call, for which our operators should not always be held responsible.

"Sev-en eight fi-ve six" is the better way to give the above number. Clearly pronounced numbers uttered directly into the telephone transmitter will obviate a majority of error calls.

When you have given a number to our operator, she repeats it. You should listen for that repetition, for then you may correct her if she has misunderstood you. That will save a great deal of delay and trouble; and, if you will also say "Yes" or "That's right," if she repeats properly, she will have your assurance that she is doing her work correctly.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Prorogation is in sight as the House has begun to hold morning session, a sure sign of the beginning of the end. The matters in which Newton has been chiefly concerned—the dredging of the Charles river and the completion of the Charles River Boulevard as far as Maple street, were referred to the next General Court last week together with other Metropolitan matters carrying a total of over a half million. It was thought that the present was not a favorable time to use the people's money for matters of this kind, and our representatives offered no opposition to the recommendation of the Ways and Means committee.

The bill to allow the city to take the gift of land and buildings for a City Hall, at West Newton, has passed thru all its stages, and is now before the Governor, and probably has been already approved. The governor has also—if it is not already approved—the general bill to allow agricultural work to be done by the city authorities for private owners and makes the cost a lien on the estate like other taxes. This matter was asked for as a special bill by the city of Newton, but Representative Allen had it included in a bill covering matters of a similar nature.

All three Newton representatives voted to sustain the governor's veto of the Merrimack river improvement and the action of the governor was approved.

When You Know What Is Best, Ask for it by Name

By J. R. HAMILTON
Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

If a man has anything he is proud of, he gives it a name whether it be a baby or a pair of boots. And the more he is proud of it, the more he talks about it.

Nameless things are seldom good and never reliable. If you want to cut down your cost of living the very best way to do it is to learn to ask only for standard articles.

When you know the name of a good maker of shirts or shoes, of furniture or pianos, of hardware or underwear, fix that name definitely in your mind and remember it when you come to buy.

Do not allow strange things to come into your home any more than you would allow strange people.

The brand and the trade-mark and the copyright are the letters of introduction from the maker to you. In this way he vouches for their respectability and guarantees their good behavior in your home.

There is a name for every good product that is made. And most of these names are known to every man and woman in America. Manufacturers have spent hundreds of millions of dollars to standardize these names in your mind. From the lining of a dress to a laundry soap; from a cleanser to a baking powder; from a suit of clothes to a kit of tools; you could call every standard article on the market by name if you would only remember to do so when you come to buy.

It is through your carelessness that lies and adulterations creep in. The standard is set by good men, but the standard is only maintained by you.

It is time for you to forget the generic name of every article, and remember only the standard name of its quality.

In the advertising news of this paper today you will find many of these standard names and brands of quality. This article is written for the sole purpose of reminding you to use those names. It is only fair that you should do as much for these good manufacturers as they are doing for you. It is only right that you should help in this great standardization of good products that is going on throughout America.

Begin now to ask by name for everything you buy. And you will find your satisfaction growing greater day by day and your optimism extending even down to your pocketbook.

O helpless body of hickory tree,
What do I burn in burning thee?
Summers of sun, winters of snow,
Springs full of sap's restless flow
O strong white body of hickory tree,
How dare I burn all these in thee?
—Helen Hunt Jackson.

MORE GOOD DISHES.

Dates as nutritious food are not well appreciated; they have more heat units pound for pound than beef and cost much less.

Oatmeal Date Cookies.—Take two cups of oatmeal, a cupful of shortening, two cupfuls of brown sugar, a half cupful of water and a teaspoonful of soda; flour to make a soft dough. Roll out as thin as possible and cut with a cookie cutter. Put two cookies together with this filling before baking: One pound of dates, chopped, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a little hot water to mix, but do not cook. The oatmeal if browned in the oven will make much more appetizing cookies.

Date Waffles.—Take a pint of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a half-teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and a cupful and a fourth of milk. Stir in three tablespoonfuls of cornmeal and the stiffly-beaten whites of two eggs, and a cupful of chopped dates. Spread with honey when serving.

Potato Salad.—Boil eight potatoes in their skins, putting them into boiling salted water. Cook until they may be easily pierced with a fork, peel and cut into dice while hot. Add three tablespoonfuls of grated onion and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Make a French dressing in the proportion of three of oil and one of vinegar, (using tarragon vinegar), season with salt and pepper. Pour a liberal quantity of the dressing over the potatoes and after mixing well let stand a few hours to thoroughly season. This salad is better made the day before using.

Chestnut Salad.—Shell and blanch the nuts, boil until tender, drain and peel. Add an equal quantity of chopped celery and some bits of pimiento; mix all together with mayonnaise dressing. Old-fashioned tarts are always a dainty enjoyed by all and they may be made from leftover pastry.

Tomato Salad.—A thick slice of tomato placed on lettuce, on top of each slice, finely chopped celery and green peppers with a blanched almond or two. Serve with a rich boiled dressing or with mayonnaise.

Share Your Joys.

Grief can take care of itself; but to get the full value of a joy you must have somebody to divide it with.—Mark Twain.

Do not be troubled because you have not great virtue. God made a million spears of grass where he made one tree. The earth is fringed and carpeted not with forests but with grasses. Only have enough of little virtues and common fidelities and you need not mourn because you are neither a hero nor saint. — Henry Ward Beecher.

AUSTRIAN RECIPES.

For occasions it is pleasant to depart from the usual and enjoy some of the dishes that our cousins across the water use daily.

Austrian Dessert Coffee.—Make a regular strong drip coffee, adding sugar and cream while hot, then set away to cool. Place on ice, and when cold serve in cups with a teaspoonful of vanilla ice cream in each cup.

Coffee Cup.—To a pint of strong coffee strained through linen, add one-third of a teaspoonful of almond flavoring and heat to the boiling point in a double boiler. Add two beaten egg yolks, two tablespoonfuls of cream and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Stir until it thickens to a custard, remove and cool, pour into a serving pitcher with a pint of sweetened, ice cold whipped cream, a quart bottle of charged water and a pint of shaved ice. Serve by placing in tall glasses some shaved ice, then some of the coffee, then twice the quantity of charged water, and on top of this the cream.

Fried Chicken.—Prepare a chicken as for frying, marinate for three hours in lemon juice and olive oil with herbs to season. Drain and place each piece in beaten egg, well seasoned with salt and pepper, then in crumbs; fry in deep fat. Drain and place on a serving platter and pour around it sauce made of half a pint each of milk, chicken or veal stock, thickened with the yolk of egg, seasoned with parsley and lemon juice and mixed with a dozen mushrooms quartered.

Chocolate Schnitten.—Melt and strain one-fourth of a pound of butter and add, one at a time, four eggs, beating thoroughly as each egg is added. Add a half cupful of sugar to the butter and eggs, then add a half pound of softened chocolate, chopped raisins, almonds and currants to taste, then a cupful of sifted flour. Bake in a shallow greased pan in a slow oven until done.

Celery in short lengths filled with highly seasoned cream cheese is a dainty relish to add to any menu.

BRAE BURN CLUB

Great interest is being manifested in the Golf Match which will be played Saturday on Brae Burn Links. Francis Oulmet, Jesse Gullford, M. J. Brady, and Louis Tellier, will play a 36-hole match for the purpose of raising a fund for a war ambulance. The match is being held under the auspices of the Brae Burn Club and an admission fee of fifty cents will be charged. Mr. Waldron H. Rand, Jr., vice president of the Commonwealth Trust Co., will act as treasurer of the fund.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Harold Greene of Newton Centre are house-guests at Brae Burn.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Converse have returned to the Club after a winter season in Georgia.

NEWTON WINS AGAIN

Newton High defeated Rindge Monday afternoon, 7 to 6, at Claffin Field, Newtonville, the contest going 11 innings, and Newton virtually winning twice. In the first and second Newton muffed up some short Rindge hits, giving the visitors six runs, for what looked like a safe lead.

Newton tied the score in the ninth. In the same session, with two out and Garrity on third, Coach Dickinson called for a squeeze play. Sawyer laid down a perfect bunt and Garrity easily tallied, but it turned out that the Rindge catcher had asked the umpire for time out. What would have been the winning run did not count, therefore.

The winning run in the 11th was the result of good stick work.

REGISTRATION ON JUNE 5

Proclamation of Governor McCall for Registration for Military Service of the U. S.

"Whereas, the President of the United States, acting under authority of an act of Congress of May 12, 1917, entitled, 'An act to authorize the President to increase temporarily the military establishment of the United States,' has by proclamation of the same date called upon all males who shall have attained their 21st birthday and who shall not have attained their 31st birthday on or before the 5th day of June, 1917, to appear and register between the hours of 7 A. M. and 9 P. M. on said 5th day of June at the registration place in the precinct wherein they have their permanent homes, excepting only officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps and the National Guard and Naval Militia while in the service of the United States, and officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps and enlisted men in the National Reserve Corps while in active service, and,

"Whereas, the President has by rules and regulations promulgated on the same day called upon the Governors of the several States and Territories to supervise the execution of the registration and draft provided for by said act, and to appoint boards of registration in towns and in cities of less than 30,000 inhabitants within their respective territories;

"Now, therefore, I, Samuel W. McCall, Governor of the Commonwealth, do hereby proclaim that all appointments of boards of registration heretofore made by me in towns and in cities of less than 30,000 inhabitants are hereby ratified and confirmed.

"And I hereby bring to the attention of the Mayors of the cities of 30,000 or more inhabitants that the duty rests upon them of appointing boards of registration in their respective cities.

"The executive officer of each board of registration in towns and in cities of less than 30,000 inhabitants is hereby directed to provide a suitable place for registration in each voting precinct within his jurisdiction.

"And the Mayors of cities of 30,000 or more inhabitants are hereby called upon to provide a suitable place for registration in each voting precinct in their respective cities.

"And I do hereby notify the wardens, superintendents, jailers and other officers in charge of the State Prison, houses of correction, reformatory prisons and other penal institutions, that they are charged with the registration on the day set for registration of the inmates of such institutions who are required to register.

"And I do hereby admonish all male persons, resident in Massachusetts, who shall have attained their 21st birthday and who shall not have attained their 31st birthday on the 5th day of June, 1917, except as aforesaid, said, to appear on said day at the registration place in their respective precincts and there to register, in accordance with the proclamation of the President of May 18, 1917.

"Attention is called to the fact that Section 5 of said act of Congress provides that any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to present himself for registration, or to submit thereto, as therein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, and shall thereupon be duly registered.

"And I hereby call upon all police officers within the Commonwealth to assist to the best of their ability the officers charged with the duty of conducting the registration and to report without delay to the proper registration boards the names of any persons known by them to have failed to register themselves when liable to do so.

"This process of registration has been established by the National Congress as a means of securing the lists out of which are to be drawn the armies of the country in a great war. I deem it of the utmost importance that the registration in the Commonwealth shall be conducted in an orderly and efficient manner in order that our registration may be made as nearly complete as possible on the day fixed by the President's proclamation to the end that Massachusetts may now, as always heretofore, be found in the front rank among the States in responding to the calls that are made by the Nation in its time of peril.

"I therefore urge all the people of the Commonwealth to co-operate so far as they are able and assist the officers who have in charge the preparation of the registration lists.

PERSONS REQUIRED TO REGISTER

Male persons who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday on or before the day set for registration by the President must register. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States, which includes all officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, and the National Guard and Naval Militia, while in the service of the United States, and officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps and enlisted men in Enlisted Reserve Corps while in active service. All male civil officers of the United States, of the several States, Territories and the District of Columbia within the designated ages, must register.

All male persons within the designated ages engaged in making the present registration must register.

posives regarded as objectionable, the mayor gave his consent to the display.

In place of the noise-making finale of the past there will be substituted a number of patriotic set pieces especially appropriate to the times. There will be in pyrotechnics, individual flags of the various Allied Nations, there will be reproductions of the nation's three war presidents—Washington, Lincoln and Wilson, there will also be the usual humorous features. The display of fireworks will start at 8.15 o'clock, but prior thereto there will be an hour's band concert by Paladino's Military Band.

"Let Uncle Sam use at least $50 of your money—Buy a Liberty bond."

LIBERTY BONDS

Committee Organized to Sell $1,000,000 Bonds in Newton

At the request of Mr. Alfred D. Aiken, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, Mr. Sewall W. Jones of Newton Highlands, President of the Newton Trust Company has organized a Liberty Loan Committee of Newton. Placards urging people to subscribe have been displayed in the bank and store windows. Meetings have been addressed by speakers, who have volunteered their services, and who have described the Loan in detail and endeavored to impress on their audiences the realization that it was the patriotic duty of every person in the country to "buy a bond." The size of the bond would of necessity depend on the patriotism of the buyer and his willingness to sacrifice some of his comforts if need be. The greatest effort is to be made to reach every patriotic person in the city.

The Board of Trade special committee on Liberty Loan is co-operating. Advertisers on front page of various papers will be asked to give their space to the Liberty Loan committee until the Loan is placed. Every manufacturer and employer of labor will be asked to co-operate with the Committee in the effort to persuade every worker to "buy a bond." The committee has perfected banking arrangements whereby a purchaser may pay for his bond by weekly or monthly installments if desired. There is no excuse therefore for any failure to subscribe. Newton's fair proportion of the loan is 6 per cent of its banking resources, which are about $17,000,000 and this makes its share about $1,000,000. The honor of the city requires not only this amount but more inasmuch as to be a complete success the Liberty Loan must be largely oversubscribed.

The Committee is made up as follows: Seward W. Jones, Chairman; Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Lawrence Allen, W. F. Allen, Wm. F. Bartholomew, Geo. P. Bullard, J. R. Carter, Wm. F. Chase, Chas. H. Clark, H. B. Day, Bernard Early, W. F. Garcelon, Percy Gilbert, Wm. T. Gildren, Jr., S. Harold Greene, F. J. Hale, Sydney Harwood, Chas. E. Hatfield, Geo. Hutchinson, H. J. Ide, H. Kendall, H. J. Nichols, H. W. Orr, E. M. Richards, C. E. Riley, Geo. S. Smith, Loren D. Towle, Henry Whitmore, D. G. Wing, Guy M. Winslow, Harry P. Bradford, James S. Cannon, Herbert M. Cole, Henry I. Harriman, Andrew C. Hughes, Louis K. Liggett, Fred M. Blanchard and Frank L. Richardson secretary.

The committee met Wednesday evening at the Brae Burn Club and appointed sub-committees for each village, with these chairmen: Newton, Sydney Harwood and Charles Riley; Newtonville, Fred M. Blanchard; West Newton, William F. Chase; Auburndale, Dr. G. M. Winslow; Lower Falls, Bernard Early; Upper Falls, Frank J. Hale; Waban, Lawrence W. Allen; Newton Highlands, Frank L. Richardson; Newton Center, Henry H. Kendall; Chestnut Hill, William L. Allen. These gentlemen with Mr. Jones will also act as an executive committee.

It is expected that each village will be given a house to house canvass, and every possible effort made to induce a general subscription to the bonds. The banks have offered to co-operate by selling bonds on the installment plan, with payments of $2.50 a week for a period of 20 weeks for each $50 bond. This method ought to make it easy for almost everyone to help.

Uncle Sam win the fight for Democracy. A conference of a large number of ministers of the city was held Wednesday afternoon at the Newton Club at the call of Mayor Childs and at which a strong statement of the situation was made by Mr. Charles F. Veed, ex-president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the ministers subsequently agreed to give the matter as much publicity as possible from their pulpits in the near future.

Next Sunday is to be Liberty Loan Sunday in Newton and in many cities throughout the country, New York having taken the lead.

RED CROSS

Two Ways in Which Women Can Help the Country

NEWTON BRANCH OF THE RED CROSS
Major General Wood in his article written just before leaving Governor's Island to assume command of the New Southeastern Department of the Army said, "War brings with it a call to national service for women as well as men. There are two very important ways in which women can help the nation in war."
"1. By working in industry, thereby releasing men for the front."
"2. By joining the American Red Cross."

The hours during which the Red Cross Rooms at the Newton Club in Newtonville are open have been changed from 10-2 to from 9-1 daily. Enrollment, instructions, and information may be required during those hours.

NORUMBEGA PARK THEATRE OPENS

It is said that never were facts and fun blended in a play more cleverly than they are in "It Pays to Advertise", the Cohan and Harris comedy that will serve to introduce the new Benson Players at the Norumbega Park Open Air Theatre beginning Saturday afternoon of this week and continuing every afternoon and evening throughout next week. The cast to be seen in the opening production promises well as the entire company is said to be composed only of clever stage folk with quick study, personality and abundant, attractive wardrobe.

All of the park employees will be on the lookout for "some crowd" on this coming Saturday when all school children will be guests of the management between the hours of 10 A. M. and 6 P. M.

A special concert together with a big show has been arranged for every Sunday during the season. The attraction in preparation to follow "It Pays to Advertise" the current offering is "The Misleading Lady."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

In response to the spirit of inquiry now so prevalent regarding the subject of Christian Science, the Christian Science Church of Newton, announces a lecture by Clarence C. Eaton of Tacoma, Washington, at Players' Hall, West Newton, Friday evening, June 1st, at 8 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. These lectures are authoritative and informing statements of what Christian Science stands for, and are very helpful in correcting erroneous ideas as to what Christian Science really is.

MAY DAY

West Newton Children Have an Enjoyable Time on Saturday

The Annual May Party for the children of the West Newton Unitarian Sunday School was held Saturday afternoon in the parish house and there was an attendance of about two hundred parents and friends of the young people.

It was a very pretty sight to see the children arrayed in fancy costumes march around the Maypole to the accompaniment of delightful music by Mrs. Alfred B. Rich, who presided at the piano.

The Maypole and fancy dancing were under the direction of Miss Mary Sprague and Miss Mabel Pratt of West Newton, and the program was arranged most attractively.

Mary Rich the little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred B. Rich of Ardmore road, was crowned "Queen of the May." Arrayed in a filmy costume of white she made a charming little queen, appearing from out the petals of a large pink rose, and her friends placed a rosebud crown upon her head and joining hands, they all danced around the Maypole.

Among the many pretty features of the party were the solo dances, which included an Irish jig exceptionally well executed by three little girls, Eleanor Steadman, Dorothy Covei, and Elizabeth Jack, wearing green skirts and little red capes.

A minuet, by Margaret Blunt, Frederick Rice, Lucy Bloom, and Edward Bloom was greatly admired and the dancing by Miss Marion Bassett Kindergarten class came in for a good share of the honors. The class which included 25 little girls dressed in fancy costumes, made an excellent showing, and gave evidence of good training.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Herbert L. Eaton of Prince street, assisted by young ladies from the Sunday School. The pleasant affair was very successful, about $50 being realized, which will be given for the benefit of the suffering children of Belgium.

NEWTON WAR WORK FUND

The War Work Fund now totals $5573.50, that amount having been contributed by 319 individuals. Contributions are coming in every day. Have you sent yours?

Some of the ways in which the money may be spent are as follows: $10,000 will build, equip and man a standard camp building until January 1st, 1918.

$3,500 will supply motor truck traveling Association outfit with motion picture equipment, graphophone records, etc. These trucks will serve the isolated outposts where small groups are unguarded.

$1,500 will equip one of these buildings for service to a brigade of about 6,000 men.

$500 will buy 5,000 copies of the New Testament. At the Border every copy was quickly snatched up.

$250 will furnish a motion picture equipment and recreation for 4,000 to 6,000 men a night. Good, wholesome pictures take up time which otherwise might be spent in gambling and other vices.

MEMORIAL DAY

Program of Exercises to be Held Under Auspices of Charles Ward Post G.A.R.

Officers of Charles Ward Post G. A. R. have completed their program for the observance of Memorial Day next Wednesday and the usual exercises will take place under direction of Commander Stephen F. Chase and C. C. Patten adjutant.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs will be chief marshal and he has appointed General James G. White as staff, and Col. Morton E. Cobb as adjutant general for the day. He will also have many prominent citizens as aides including Col. George H. Benson, Walter L. Sanborn, Col. William B. Emery, Major Fred P. Barnes, Major Joseph W. Bartlett, Capt. Porter B. Chase, Wilfred A. Wetherbee, Charles B. Filibrown, and John Flood of Charles Ward Post G. A. R. Richardson, J. Henry McCammon, James H. Wentworth, James C. Irwin, the associate members of Charles Ward Post, members of the city government, Committee chairman of the Newton Committee on Public Safety, the Clergy of the city, and the officers of Newton Lodge of Elks and of the Nonantum A. A.

In the morning special cars will convey the veterans from the various villages on the North Side to the Post headquarters whence they will proceed to the Newton Cemetery, where, assisted by the Sons of Veterans the graves of deceased comrades will be decorated in the customary manner.

Veterans of Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, Upper Falls and Needham will report at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands, at 8.30 A. M. and proceed to Evergreen Cemetery and decorate the graves of veterans who sleep within its borders. At the close of this ceremony, they will take the special car in waiting, stopping at the Newton Cemetery, where they will be joined by the detail on duty at that place, and all proceed to Newton Lower Falls, where they will report to the Senior Vice Commander S. A. Walker, at the House House, and under his command will march to St. Mary's Cemetery, where the usual exercises will take place. A short address will be delivered at the Cemetery by Rev. W. F. Preston. At the conclusion of these services, the line of march will be resumed, and the Post will proceed to the banks of Charles River, to cast flowers upon its waters in memory of the Soldier-Sailor dead.

The comrades and Sons of Veterans will then take the special car to Newton Highlands, where a lunch will be served in Lincoln Hall.

After lunch, the Post will form at 1.30 P. M. and report to Colonel Morton E. Cobb, Adjutant General.

The line of march will be formed as follows: Detail of Police; The Chief Marshal; The Adjutant-General; The Chief of Staff; Aides and Associate Members and Members of the City Government; Civilian Guard, Co. C, Fifth Infantry, M. V. M. Capt. Henry D. Comerals, commanding; Needham Military Band; J. Wiley Edmonds Camp No. 31, Sons of Veterans, Daniel B. Burnett, commanding; Charles Ward Post, No. 62, Grand Army of the Republic, S. F. Chase, commanding; Thomas Burnett Camp, No. 10, United Spanish War Veterans, A. E. Kilburn, commanding; Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent No. 2, Daughters of Veterans, Miss Nellie S. Griffin, commanding; Nuss' Band; First Company Massachusetts State Guard of Newton, John C. DeMille, commanding; Constabulary Drum Corps; Newton Constabulary, J. G. White, commanding; Boy Scouts of Newton, J. C. Irwin, commanding.

The line will be formed on Bowdoin street and Erie avenue, right resting on Lincoln street, Newton Highlands. The line will move promptly at 2 P. M., marching over the following route: Lincoln street and Walnut street to the Newton Cemetery. The Memorial services will be held by Charles Ward Post at the Soldiers' Monument, after which the column will march in the same order, through Walnut street to the Masonic building, Newtonville, where dinner will be served in Temple Hall.

The column will be reviewed by the Chief Marshal, in front of the Claffin School on Walnut street.

Contribution of Flowers

Contributions of flowers are earnestly solicited from all citizens, and may be left at the following places on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, May 29th.

Sunday Services

On Sunday morning, May 27th, a Memorial Service will be held in St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls, at 10.45 o'clock.

BAD FIRE

The worst fire of the year took place last Monday evening about six o'clock when a double alarm from box 91 summoned the Fire Department to the farm of Frank Hurley on Boylston street, Newton Centre. The fire started in a large barn and was undoubtedly caused by the careless use of matches in lighting a cigar or cigarette. The flames spread rapidly and with the strong wind blowing the adjoining blacksmith shop, wagon shed, milk room and another large barn soon caught fire and were burned flat. A spectator said that it seemed as if the second barn was entirely consumed within ten minutes the flames were so intense. The heat was such that it was almost impossible to get near the buildings. Some of the five stock were saved but 23 cows, 6 pigs, 2 tons of hay, farm machinery, milking apparatus and teams were destroyed. The house on the place caught fire several times but was saved with the exception of the ell.

The fire attracted hundreds of spectators and Boylston street was soon lined with automobiles.

The loss is estimated at $15,000 and is partially, if not wholly covered by insurance.

Y. M. C. A.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. base ball team added another victory to their list last Saturday when they defeated the Potter Club of Waltham on the Y. M. C. A. field to the tune of 7 to 0.

Next Saturday the team will go to Brookline for a game with the fast Beacon team. The majority of the games after that date will be played on the home field. The schedule of the season's games which will include only the best amateur teams in Greater Boston will be ready for publication in the very near future.

EDITORIAL

Residents of Newton should be ready to do their duty by the country by a prompt and generous subscription to the Liberty Loan which will be opened within the next three weeks. Everyone ought to be able to take at least one $50 bond and the local banks will make the payment as easy as possible, besides giving assistance and advice without charge. There ought not to be any argument needed to urge every person with $50 of savings to loan it to the national government in the trial of strength for which it is preparing. As one prominent gentleman has well said, "If you don't come across now, the Germans will later." It is also well to remember that these bonds will be a splendid investment, particularly, if any of the proposed war taxes on other forms of investment become effective. It is estimated that the Liberty bond will be equal to a 6-14% investment in other securities. With patriotism and good business thus combined, the residents of Newton ought to do more than their share in the proposed subscription.

The observance of Memorial Day this year, ought to be an inspiration to every true American. Heretofore, it has been a recognition of the deeds and valor of a dead and past generation. This year, its patriotic meanings will have a new and deeper significance to many a man, whose conception of war and duty has never been clearly defined or understood. Let us make it a Holy day in very deed.

There is some sense in the mild criticism of some members of the board of aldermen in respect to a monthly expense of $1000 for special police work in this city. While it is better, of course to protect too much, rather than too little, there is no reason why Newton should spend its money to guard the aqueduct of the Metropolitan district.

The board of health again asks for estimates for the collection and disposal of garbage. Let the matter be settled this time without further trouble or delay, and may the best man succeed in obtaining the contract.

The aldermen have given material aid to the movement to sell Liberty bonds in this city by approving the circularization of every home. Alderman Cole deserves the credit for this scheme.

"Remember the Lusitania and buy a Liberty bond."

BRAE BURN CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitt and daughter of New Jersey are among the guests recently registered at Brae Burn.

Mrs. William H. Lucas who has been spending a few weeks at Virginia Hot Springs returned Monday to her apartments at the Club.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Forbes and Miss Bessie Forbes of Waverley avenue, Newton, are among the house guests at Brae Burn.

There were more than a thousand people present at the Golf Match on Saturday which was surprising as there were many other attractions in town. Brae Burn golf course never looked more beautiful as it was in prime condition. About $500 was realized, which was very gratifying to the Golf Committee.

At noon, luncheon was served to about one hundred guests.

SPECIAL AID CALLS FOR LARGER MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. W. C. Boyden presided at the regular meeting of the Special Aid Society of Newtonville on May 23. Reports read from the various committees showed that all activities are proceeding as usual. The sewing groups at present number only about one half the membership and more workers would be most welcome. Mrs. H. V. Jones, chairman of classes, reported the forming of classes in economical cookery which are already in successful operation. On May 31st classes in canning begin. It is hoped that the women now under instruction will help the Conservation committee by teaching others during the summer.

By subscription suggested at the last meeting thirty-eight dollars was turned over to the Y. M. C. A. for use in their huts. The Naval Hospital being at present properly equipped, it was voted to meet an appeal from the Marine Hospital in Chelsea, as far as articles on hand make it possible. Other garments are to be sent for distribution to the Headquarters of the Red Cross and Special Aid where they need particularly volunteer helpers of experience to make up the different bundles.

The Girl Scout organization under the able leadership of Miss Westgate, its Captain, is becoming more active. It will take part in the Patriotic Pageant on May thirty-first. Through the kindness of Mr. Dudley and the Boy Scouts, the girls have been given instruction in signalling, bandaging, and making fires out of doors.

The Special Aid has now been in existence for about six weeks during which time the number of garments cut has been 927, and the number finished 507. Besides this work 439 knitted articles have been handed in. Upon inspection all this work has been pronounced exceptionally well done. Now that the price of wool is higher, it has been decided to give out no more free except to workers who find it impossible to pay for it.

The total membership of the Special Aid at this time is 402 and the total receipts, $1,344.71. Though this seems a most satisfactory showing, the growing needs calls for a larger membership and a larger financial aid. Every woman ought to feel the call and respond as far as she is able. Anyone wishing to communicate with the organization may find the following list useful:

President, Mrs. W. C. Boyden, Newton North 1157-M.

Secretary, Mrs. J. C. Richards, Newton North, 330.

Treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Allen, Newton North 430.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Watertown Co-operative Bank was held last Thursday evening. The following directors whose term of office expired were re-elected for another three years: William H. Lucas, James D. Evans, Herbert E. Mayo, Horace W. Otis and Ulysses S. Young. U. S. Young was elected clerk for the ensuing year. Immediately after the shareholders' meeting the directors held their meeting and elected Herbert E. Mayo, president; James D. Evans, vice president; Ulysses S. Young, treasurer; Frederic E. Critchett, Andrew Hawes, William H. Lucas, security committee; John F. Tufts, Thomas P. Emerson, Arthur E. O'Neill, finance committee.

The usual dividends at the rate of 5-4 per cent on unmatured shares and 5 per cent on matured share certificates were declared. This bank shows an unprecedented growth during the last five years, its total assets increasing 146 per cent and amounting to upwards of $1,500,000.

PUPILS MUSICALE

Pupils of Miss Bernice Ferson of Newton Highlands gave an enjoyable musicale on Tuesday evening at the Cline Memorial Church of Newton Highlands. They were assisted by Marie Zelezny, violinist and those taking part in the program were Jennie Fowler, Katherine Knudsen, Lucille Hemphill, Victor Stout, Dorothy Ratt, Phyllis Lagan, Arthur Dow, Evelyn Allingham, Alice Dow, Marion Marshall, Burrell Smith, Kathleen Best, Margaret Kelley, Roberta Ely, Harriet Giles, Shirley Hopkins and Thora Ludy.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY HEROES AND HEROINES OF HISTORY

"Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards. They simply reveal them to the eyes of men. Silently and imperceptibly, as we wake or sleep, we grow and wax strong, we grow and wax weak; and at last some crisis shows us what we have become."

These names are a few of the many great ones that stand out in history from the days of the greatness of Greece to the present. One book is suggested about each, but there are many others of equal interest.

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

In January the Fine Arts Classes of the Newton Technical High School entered a drawing contest. The contest was won by the drawing of a favor Ruhl Co. The drawings entered included nature studies, designs for leather, jewelry, stencilling, etc. The contestants had almost forgotten about the contest when news came of the awards of the prizes. Newton has good cause to be proud of the results of this contest for no less than 35 of her progressive young artists received at least honorable mention.

Miss Ethel McGregory, of Newtonville, teacher of drawing in the N. T. H. S. carried off the second prize of $10.00. Miss McGregory's pupils congratulate her upon her success, and know that her beautiful tinted drawing of the Cosmos was fully deserving of the honor. His fellow classmates are no less proud of Robert M. Goode, of Newton Centre, a member of the class of 1918, who was awarded the third prize of $5.00 for a pencil tone reproduction of a horseback rider. Miss Ruth Taylor of West Newton, and Miss Florence White of Newton, both members of the Fine Arts class of 1917, received fourth prizes of $2.00 each for designs in jewelry and a landscape sketch in pencil, respectively.

So much for the Newtonians fortunate in the prize winning; but there is also a list of worthy Honorable Mention which consists of:

Glenor Allen, Margery Burnham, Esther P. Elliott, Leon Fowler, Florence A. Hall, Antoinette Lacroix, Matilde Major, Mary R. Stewart, Edna Tuttle, Beatrice Wilson, Francesca Bianchi, Lois Bostwick, Dorothy Eames, Lucy Glover, Marion Higgins, Margaret Lucas, Leslie Newcombe, Louise Stuart, Margaret Wilder, Carl N. Weeks, Mildred Bucknam, Dorothea Callowhill, Ruth Farrington, Mary Glover, Shirley Hopkins, Josephine Lupien, Freda A. Rathburn, Florence Tully, Alice B. Williams. The Fine Arts Seniors wish to make note that every one of their seven girls received either a prize or honorable mention. The entire number of awards was 86 of which 38 were received by representatives of the Newton Technical High School.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Senior Dance was held on Saturday evening, May 19, in Temple Hall, Newtonville, and was an immense success. The affair was attended by many students of both schools.

An important meeting of the Senior Class was held in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday morning, May 23. A report was made of the amount of money which was made for the Red Cross Society by the third performance of the Senior Play. A report was also made of the sum received from the annual Senior Dance. Plans were discussed for utilizing the money in the treasury for the annual Class Gift to the School. The following committee was appointed to reach a decision upon the Class Gift: Mac Kiley, Chairman, Francesca Bianchi, Grace Kneeland, Marion Burnham, Earl Rottler, and Norton Nash.

The date of the annual Freshman Prize Speaking, which will take place near the end of the school term, will be decided next week.

Contrary to previous custom, five weeks reports are to be given out in this school during this last quarter.

REV. JAMES L. FOWLE

The death of Rev. James L. Fowle, a Congregational clergyman who, for thirty-three years was a missionary in Turkey for the American Board, occurred on Wednesday, May 16, in the Newton Hospital. Since 1911 he had been in failing health and for a time was an inmate of the Walker Missionary Home at Auburndale.

Mr. Fowle was born in Woburn in 1847. He was graduated from Amherst College in 1870, and four years later completed his course in the Andover Theological Seminary. That year he went to Caesarea in Turkey and remained there until his health compelled his retirement from active labor.

Mr. Fowle's wife, who survives him, was Miss Caroline Farnsworth, the daughter of another missionary in Turkey. They were married at Auburndale and have had seven children. A daughter died of typhus at Sivas, Turkey, last November. Another daughter, Eleanor F., is a nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital. A son, Charles W. Fowle, is secretary for the American embassy at Constantinople, but is now in this country because of his wife's illness. A second son, Luther, is assistant in the office of the treasurer of the American Board at Constantinople. A third son, Theodore, is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in China. Hubert, a fourth son is studying medicine. Wilson, the youngest son, is receiving his education in this country.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Congregational Church at Woburn and at which there was a large attendance. The services were in charge of Rev. Stephen A. Norton, and he was assisted by Rev. Dr. Barton and Rev. Mr. Chambers.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Graduation Exercises in this school will take place in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday afternoon, June 27. The assembly periods during the last month of the school term will be taken up by the Senior Class in preparation for this event. The Class Day officers, who will address the class and the parents on that day, are the following: Class Orator, Russell Simpson, Valedictorian, Miss Winifred Dodge, Class Historian, Miss Elizabeth Carter. It is probable that another Statistician will be elected to fill the place of Woodworth, who has left school in order to enter the National Service in Agriculture. John Starkweather, president of the class, has also left school to take up work in farming. His place will be taken by the vice president, Paul Nash.

An important feature of the Graduation Exercises will be the presentation of the Class Gift to the school. The gift this year will consist of a large American Flag and a State Flag, for the Assembly Hall. William Fawcett has been elected to make the presentation of the gift.

Both the boys' and the girls' spring tennis tournaments are now well under way, and a number of the matches in each have been played. The annual school publication, the "Newtonian," will be issued on or immediately after June 1. The school book has been edited this year by Paul Nash. The manager-in-chief is Ralph Emery.

The boys' debating club will hold a dance in the gymnasium on Friday afternoon, June 1.

The results of the baseball games during the coming week will decide whether or not the Newton team has still any chance of winning the championship of the Quadrangular League. The most important of the games will be played this afternoon at Claffin Field, when the Newton team will meet Cambridge Latin in the third game between these two schools. The local team has already been twice defeated by Cambridge, and a third defeat this afternoon would practically assure Cambridge of the championship. Another good contest will be played at Brookline next Wednesday morning, May 30. The Brookline team has lately been playing good ball, and may give Newton a hard battle for second place in the league.

MOTHERS' REST

The Mothers' Rest Association earnestly requests that anyone having clothing for women or little children which may be given to the guests at the Rest this summer will kindly send the same to Mrs. S. P. Meloney, 30 Tarleton road, Newton Centre. The need is always great.

Iron bedsteads and cribs, bedding, household linen, bureaus, chairs, especially piazza chairs, hammocks and baby carriages will be very gratefully received.

SEVEN CENT FARES

President James L. Richards of the Middlesex Boston Street Railway Company met with the mayors, selectmen and prominent members of the boards of trade of the various municipalities in which his road operates, at the Newton Club last Saturday evening to discuss the serious financial situation in which the Company finds itself, largely due to the recent award increasing wages of the men and the orders of the Public Service Commission in regard to needed improvements. Mr. Richards stated that the only relief which seemed feasible was an increase to seven cents in the more congested territory served by the company and to eight cents in the country districts.
 A conference is being held this afternoon by members of the Newton and Waltham Boards of Trade in regard to the matter.

 —Don't forget the Patriotic Fete, May 31st, on Clafin Field, Newtonville, given under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the benefit of local philanthropies.
 —A First Aid Class of twenty members has been formed in this village. Dr. May of Newton Centre will conduct the course at the Newton Hospital. The first meeting will be held Monday night.
 —Mr. Earl Meyers, a former resident of this village, died May 17th at his home in Akron, Ohio, after an illness of two months. Their many friends feel great sympathy for Mrs. Meyers, formerly Miss Edith Cobb of Boylston street, who is left with three children.

ARE YOU PATRIOTS?

Every American who subscribes to the justice of the course of the United States in entering and conducting the war we are now engaged in should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue. The real success of the loan is to be more determined by the number of Americans participating in it than by the amount subscribed. The spirit of the Nation is going to be judged abroad, especially by our enemies, more by the number of its American men and women who support this bond issue than by the mere amount of money subscribed.

ABOLISH LIQUOR, CARTER ADVISES

PROHIBITION AIDS EUROPE

To Give or Sell Intoxicants to One Who Is Training to Defend His Country Is a Treasonable Act Against the Nation, Major General Assers—Temperance Scores Big Victories.

By MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM HARDING CARTER, U. S. A.

With the declaration of war with Germany and the enactment of the selective draft law, we have assumed obligations whose ultimate ends no man can foresee. Primarily we have now become responsible for the preparation of hundreds of thousands of young men for the stern duties and hardships of war, and in the natural order of things they will constitute the human element available for the nation's defense for many years to come. The nation owes it to the young men who are selected for military training and service that from the very first they shall know that the training will be carried on under circumstances above reproach.

The development of minds and bodies to meet the demands of military service in war requires not only the most modern hygienic surroundings, but the absence of every form of personal dissipation. Any one who sells or gives intoxicants or drugs of any kind to young men undergoing training for the nation's defense not only commits a crime against the individual, but a treasonable act against the nation.

The experience of European nations has made it clear that to maintain a modern army in the field there must be organized industry at home. Anything that militates against this by depriving the human element of its normal energy, working under war pressure, must be combated and if need be destroyed.

Navy Also Bans Liquor.

In the course of time following the abolition of the sale of beer and wines—alcoholic liquors were previously barred—on military reservations the naval regulations banished intoxicating drinks from war vessels. Modern battleships, destroyers and submarines had become too complicated to be entrusted in any part to minds befuddled with drink. Efficiency and safety of operation also demanded the exclusion of liquors from war vessels, and it is certain that if the restoration of the wine mess for the period of the war were put to a vote of naval officers it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Observing the operations of the so called anti-temperance law, which stopped the sale of wine and beer at post exchanges or canteens, it was found that for a time the offenses involving drunkenness increased at army posts located in territory where saloons were permitted to exist. This was credited to the fact that men went considerable distances from barracks for liquor and, not expecting to repeat the trip soon, indulged in too much for their own good. The statistics of disciplinary action through a number of years seemed to establish that more than 50 per cent of the cases of desertion and absence without leave were due to drunkenness.

Big Victory For Temperance.

While the current returns of the Internal Revenue Bureau of the treasury make it appear that the income from the manufacture of beer and liquors has steadily increased, there can be no question that the temperance and total abstinence campaigns of the past few years have brought about a marked change in American life. It is no longer fashionable to serve wines and liquors in the lavish way which obtained in former years. That temperance has won a lasting victory is attested by the large increase in territory covered by prohibition laws and in the drastic regulations governing the employment of men in dangerous occupations, when individuals are responsible for the lives of others.

Intoxicants Produce Criminals.

The public is far better advised today than ever before concerning the effects of the habitual use of intoxicants in producing criminal, insane and untrustworthy men and women and degenerate children. Prisons, asylums and public reformatories furnish continuous and abundant evidence along these lines. The increasing undisciplined and lawless behavior of Americans has been observed and noted by investigators and students for many years. This is evidenced in lack of respect for parents, for the aged, for the officers of the law and for the law itself. It has also been a uniform observation that these conditions become aggravated whenever and wherever intoxicating liquors are habitually used. Confronted with these facts, we are about to undertake the creation of a large army of the people and to prepare it for participation in the most gigantic struggle in the history of wars.

When the army was reorganized in 1901, following the war with Spain, there was introduced in the act prohibitory legislation regarding the sale of wines and beers upon military reservations. There was much resentment on the part of the army at this discriminatory legislation, for, while it introduced prohibition on reservations, it encouraged border line saloons in surrounding territory.

FLAG RAISING

Elaborate Program Planned for Next Sunday Afternoon at Newton

Arrangements are nearly completed for the flag exercises to take place in Nonantum Square, Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the local merchants and other citizens of that section.

The program will begin with a parade starting from Farlow Park, promptly at 3 o'clock and will be comprised of three divisions, headed by Captain Edward O. Gruener as chief marshal, and his aides, and the Sixth Regiment Band.

The first division will have as marshal, Mr. W. F. Garcelon and it is expected that the following organizations will be in line in this order: Company C, 5th Regt., M. N. G. Capt. H. D. Cormerais, commanding; Charles Ward Post No. 62, G. A. R. Commander S. F. Chase; Thomas Burnett Camp No. 10, United Spanish War Veterans, Albert R. Kilburn, commanding; Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent No. 2, Daughters of Veterans; J. Wiley Edmonds Camp No. 31, Sons of Veterans.

In the second division headed by Gen. J. G. White, as marshal, will be automobiles containing the speakers and members of the city government. The third division will have Capt. Benjamin F. Tripp as marshal and will include the Newton troop of Boy Scouts, Waban Lodge I. O. O. F., Newton Lodge A. O. U. W., Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., Div. 35, A. O. H., Newton Council, K. of C., Newton Aerle, F. O. E., Newton Lodge, B. P. O. E., and labor organizations of the city.

The route will be from Eldridge street to Franklin, to Centre, to Church, to Washington, to Nonantum Square, to Park street, to Elmwood to Centre, to Nonantum Square, where the exercises will take place.

Here the program will include an address by Mayor Childs, after which the flag, 12 by 21 feet in size, will be unfurled by two young ladies, Miss Edith M. Boothby and Miss Samuel L. Cotton. Ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers and Hon. David I. Walsh will also speak.

The energetic members of the committee in charge is comprised of Messrs. Harold Moore, Chairman; Burt M. Rich, Treasurer; G. A. Aston, J. J. Delaney, C. E. Josselyn, Walter E. Mars, Walter L. McCammon, Ellis E. Moore, Chas. K. Pierce, E. E. Snyder and Capt. Benj. F. Tripp.

POP CONCERT

A Pop Concert was held Tuesday evening in the parlors of the First Universalist Church under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Union. A very entertaining program was given which included selections by Knights' Orchestra, readings by Miss Verne Wright and contralto solos by Miss Marie Sladen. Dancing followed the entertainment. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream sandwiches and tonics were on sale during the evening.

GIVEN AN AUTOMOBILE

There was a large attendance Tuesday night at the meeting of the Newton Catholic Club at which a reception was tendered to Rev. Fr. Francis Cronin, curate of St. Bernard's parish and active in the affairs of the club. Illness has kept him from his duties for several months and his return, with health restored, has been the cause of much rejoicing. Thomas M. Waters, Jr., president of the organization, made a speech and presented Fr. Cronin with an automobile, the gift of the members. Edwin M. D'Arcy presented a cup to Edward Keefe and a gold medal to Michael Cronin, these two having made the best showing in the bowling tourney that has just ended. Joseph A. Edwards, who has been acting treasurer in the absence of Fr. Cronin, was given a pair of engraved cuff links, by Joseph J. Curran. During the evening a concert was provided by Oswald J. McCourt, James Malone, John Crowley and Timothy O'Callahan. Rev. John F. Keleher, pastor of St. Bernard's Church, made an address.

Don't forget the Patriotic Fete, May 31st, on Clafin Field, Newtonville, given under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the benefit of local philanthropies.

Miss Nellie Lee Brown of Newton, whose engagement was recently announced, was tendered a shower on Thursday by the Luncheon Club at the residence of Mrs. Walter E. Hills on Elmore street.

On Memorial Day the Newton Centre Woman's Club will present the Newton Centre Constabulary with a fine regimental flag and standard. The presentation will take place before the parade, but the time and place have not yet been decided upon.

If you want to spend an evening of rare enjoyment and be entertained for two solid hours, and at the same time help the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service, see "The Man on the Box," the amusing comedy which the Dramateurs will present Tuesday evening, June 5th, in Player's Hall, West Newton.

Mrs. Mary Jordan, the wife of Mr. Alfred H. Jordan of Centre street, died Tuesday at the Newton Hospital, after a brief illness. She was 56 years of age and had been a resident here for many years. Her husband survives. Funeral services will be held from her late home this afternoon and the interment will take place at Mills, Mass.

NEWTON VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

It is the purpose of the homemaking or household arts departments in the State-aided schools to give such instruction to women and girls (over fourteen years of age) as will enable them to better prepare and conserve our food supplies.

The State Board of Education and the Newton School Committee feel that at this time the Household Arts Department of the Newton Vocational School should make a special effort to make the need of conservation appreciated in every household in the community. The school has a corps of expert instructors who will, as far as possible, give attention to this problem between now and the close of the school year, and the school will offer such other courses as may be needed during the summer months. After July 1st, where a sufficiently large number apply from any one section of the City and the grammar school kitchens are available, the work will be offered in that section of the City.

1. It is planned to give special training to a group of women who will volunteer to assist other women and girls in canning during the summer and fall. Women selected for this work must be experienced in cookery or have had special training for this work.

2. It is planned to offer instruction to girls who may become members of the canning clubs in cooperation with Amherst Agricultural College.

3. Classes for young women from fourteen to twenty-five.

4. Classes for homemakers. The four courses offered above will begin at once, and will consist of four lessons in canning, two each week. Classes will be limited to twelve and will begin as soon as this number is enrolled. The work which is offered between now and the first of July is being carried in the main by teachers who have a very full program, and it is expected that all ladies who attend will be prompt and regular in attendance and will conform to the school regulations.

Please specify in making out the application on which day you prefer to attend. As far as possible, pupils will be enrolled on the day they choose, but if the class is already filled, they will be scheduled for another section. The morning classes will be held from 8.30 to 11.30, and afternoon classes from 1.00 until 4.00. Schedule of Classes:

1. Monday and Tuesday morning.
2. Monday and Tuesday afternoon.
3. Wednesday and Thursday morning.

4. Wednesday and Friday morning. Application blanks may be obtained from the Newton Vocational School office or from the following people:

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Chairman of the Co-ordination Committee of the Newton Public Safety Committee.

Mrs. J. A. McDonald, 17 Central Terrace, Auburndale.

Mrs. Arthur C. Badger, Dudley Road, Oak Hill.

Mrs. Ellery Peabody, 70 Temple Street, West Newton.

Mrs. Charles Porter, Waban. The Newton Public Safety Committee is conducting twelve classes in economical cookery at the present time. The teachers are Miss Priest and Mrs. Sandwell. The Committee will organize more classes if there are a sufficient number who enroll. The number in each class is limited to twelve. For further information, apply to Miss J. B. Kenick, Newton Vocational School, Newtonville. Telephone, Newton North 1592.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

State Federation

Rev. James Empringham of the Church Temperance Society of New York City will address the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at its annual meeting in Great Barrington on the evening of June 6 on the subject of "War Prohibition." Following the lecture a reception will be tendered the delegates by the hostess club. The other sessions will be given up to the reports and usual business.

Delegates going by the 10 A. M. train on Tuesday, June 5, may have their credentials vised during the journey, as the Credential committee will be on duty on the train. They will also have office hours from 7 to 8 P. M. on Tuesday and from 8.30 to 10 A. M. on Wednesday. The polls will be open from noon to 5 P. M. on Wednesday, June 6. Don't forget to speak for a place on the train, by notifying Mrs. George M. Baker, Concord, Mass. before May 28th.

Patriotic Fete

Plans for the Patriotic Fete are now all completed and only fair weather and generous patronage remains to make it a grand success. Claffin Field has been selected instead of the grounds previously announced and many advantages will be gained by the change. Mr. Ernst Hermann, director of playgrounds for the City, will be in charge of the grounds. Some 550 persons will take part. A chorus of 75 from the West Newton Music School will sing patriotic songs and an orchestra of 35 from the school will play, another chorus of 100 from the Stearns School will sing. Fifty children from the school in Thompsonville will give folk dances. The Girl Scouts, 80 in number, will make their first public appearance and as many Boy Scouts will also give demonstrations, as well as the Camp Fire Girls.

There will be solo dancing by Miss Frances Varney and a May-Pole dance in charge of Miss Ruth Allen. There will be ponies to ride and candy and ice cream to buy. In fact a very jolly and interesting time is promised. Admission to the grounds will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. Reserved seats upon the grand stand ten cents. Automobiles will enter from Lowell avenue and will be parked for 25 cents. The ponies will be found opposite Elm road. In case of rain the performance will be postponed until Saturday, June 2. Come one, come all. Remember the proceeds are for local philanthropies.

New Federation

At the meeting of the executive board of the Newton Federation on Monday, the Women's Club of Newton Highlands and the Journey Club of West Newton were accepted into membership and the Newton Circle, which has during the past year been an affiliated organization, was received into active membership. Mrs. W. H. Lucas, Mrs. F. A. Day, Mrs. S. L. Easton and Mrs. George O. Palmer will represent the Federation at the annual meeting of the State Federation at Great Barrington in June. Mrs. E. C. Adams was appointed State Federation secretary. Mrs. G. W. St. Amant, chairman of the Education committee. Mrs. B. E. Taylor of the Social Service committee. Mrs. J. F. Bryant of the Social Service committee. Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee of the Nominating committee. Plans for next year were discussed and it was decided to devote the two open meetings of the Federation to the general subject of "Our New American Neighbors," the details to be worked out later.

Mrs. Taylor reported for the Social Service committee that the dental clinic has been carried on very successfully this year. It was recommended that the Federation appropriate about $65 for the expense of materials that some work may be done for others than school children, which was later voted. A representative from the Newton Circle reported upon the success of the community dance held last week at the Armory and stated that others will be held from time to time. Mrs. Marshall for the Education committee stated that enrollment for the class in Spanish is not quite completed.

The question of more frequent meetings of the board next year was left in the hands of a special committee to report at the October meeting. The work has increased remarkably during the past year along with the enlarged membership, so that there has hardly been time to consider during a single forenoon all the business which accumulates in the interim of meetings.

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

British soldiers fighting under fire and the actual pulverizing of the Prussian trenches by heavy artillery were seen at a showing of Charles Urban's motion pictures, "The Battle of the Somme," to be given next Monday and Tuesday at the Newton Opera House.

From the start of the first reel there was an unusual air of action, of battle, about the pictures, for they began with the preparations of the British army behind its trenches on the eve of the grand advance at the Somme. Pictures taken from the heavy explosions, covering apparently every yard of the enemy's line, caused by shells from British guns in the rear.

Then, standing in the first British trench, the camera man whirled his crank as a line of British soldiers climbed over their embankment and started a charge on the enemy trenches.

On Friday and Saturday of next week, Irene Howley, who makes her first appearance on the Triangle program will be featured with Frank Currier and Jack Devereaux in "Her Father's Keeper," a play of Modern business and the Modern woman.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON CANNING

Mrs. Sarah E. Belt, lecturer for the State Board of Agriculture will give an illustrated talk on the canning of meats, vegetables, and fruits, at the Newton Opera House, Friday morning, June 1, at 10.30 o'clock.

This lecture is under the auspices of the Newton Branch of the Special Aid, and is designed to show exactly how left overs from roasts, etc., small potatoes, and small fruits—from the gardens, can be saved and utilized for winter use, and how to do it in the most economical way. The pictures will show just how it is done, and how the perfect result should look. Bring notebook and pencil and inquire about puzzling details. Mrs. Belt is glad to answer questions.

Newton West 924-WMORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William B. Foster to Dorchester Trust Company, dated December 10th, 1915, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4020, Page 124, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, there will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, June 11, 1917, at one o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed therein described as follows:

"A certain parcel of land being situated in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, shown as Part A, on a plan of Chestnut Hill Trust, Plan of Land in Newton, Mass. (Waban Hill District) from Plan of O'Neill & Rew, Surveyors, duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds and bounded and described as follows:—Easterly and Southeasterly on a curved line on Waban Hill Terrace by three courses, twenty-six and 25-100 feet; twenty-four and 29-100 feet and forty-one and 21-100 feet; Southerly on lot 42 as shown on said plan one hundred and fifty-six and 68-100 feet; Westerly on part marked C as shown on said plan twenty-nine and 44-100; Northerly on Part B as shown on said plan one hundred and five and 85-100 feet; and Northeasterly on said Part B seventy-eight and 75-100 feet; containing according to said plan ten thousand square feet of land. This conveyance is made subject to restrictions referred to in deed from Dana Estes to Winnie May McAlleer, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3344, page 576 so far as the same may now be in force and applicable.

The above conveyance includes all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in any building or buildings now standing or hereafter erected on said premises prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage.

Excepting therefrom, however, so much of said mortgage premises as was released by this mortgage by partial release dated October 30, 1915, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4090, Page 65.

One thousand ($1,000) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale, balance in ten days from the date of sale, on the delivery of the deed.

ROUTINE MEETING OF ALDERMEN$30,000 Voted in Serial Bonds for Street Improvements. Badges for Newton Constabulary

Routine business characterized the meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening at which President Early was in the chair and the only members absent were Aldermen Allen, Cobb and Tuttle.

There were the usual number of unimportant hearings including requests of the Edison Co. to take over the ownership of existing poles on Richardson street, Elmwood street and Hunnewell avenue, and of the West End St. Rwy. Co. to take over the ownership of Edison poles on Washington street. At this hearing Mr. J. C. Boyden for the Boston Elevated stated that they would replace the present wooden poles with iron. No one appeared at hearings on sewer takings in Ricker terrace and for concrete sidewalks on Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

Mr. Kilgman favored his petition for a gasoline permit at 456 Watertown street.

Mayor Childs sent in the appointment of Mary E. Quinn as a Public Weigher and requests for $1000 additional for special police work, $200 additional for plowing private lands, $7390 for construction of Bonad, Colbert and Howland roads, $200 for special police badges for the Newton Constabulary and that permission be granted for 30 children under 24 years of age to appear at entertainment on May 25th in Players Hall, all of which were granted. The mayor also invited members of the board to act as his staff in the Memorial Day parade, and to which the members agreed. He also requested $1000 for a refrigerator at the City Home. The invitation of the Newton Corner Flag Committee to be present at the flag raising on May 27 was accepted.

Street Commissioner Stuart reported the cost of drainage work at Oak Hill as $5,896.30.

Petitions of H. H. Read for auctioneer license, and of the Edison Co. for relocation on Monadnock road and for attachments on Ward street were granted.

Other petitions were received from John Segerson as auctioneer, Vincent L. Lane for pool tables at Nonantum, C. F. Driscoll for auto truck, for various private garages, for sewer in Commonwealth avenue and Wachusett road, for street sprinkling on Washington avenue, W. C. Arrey to change Common victualer license to 823 Washington street, M. W. Hugh for wagon license, J. W. Mulford for Common victualer license, L. L. Bird for pool table license, the Telephone Co. for poles on Lexington street, and the Edison Co. for attachments on Walnut street.

On recommendations of Committee, licenses were granted M. S. Bilezikian for a pool room at Newtonville, G. S. Reid and F. Paul Welsh as auctioneers, John T. Haffey for auto for hire, Mrs. Alice Chandler for intelligence office, E. H. Ellison for private garage, Edison Co. for pole on Crafts street, and underground on Bigelow road, the Telephone Co. for attachments on Albemarle road, and the Edison and Telephone Cos. for joint relocation on Lincoln street and joint poles on Hull street, $7390 for construction of Bonad, Colbert and Howland roads under the betterment act, $800 for School Dental Clinic, $200 for badges for Newton Constabulary, $200 for plowing private lands, $1000 for special police work, and $30,000 for Street Improvement bonds. The board decided it inexpedient to appropriate money for flag poles in Newton, Auburndale and Waban and added two officials to the list for sick pay and vacations.

Aldermen Blake and Harriman criticized the need of additional money for special work suggesting that the Metropolitan Water board ought to pay for protecting its aqueduct and Alderman Harriman stating that it was probably better to err on the safe side altho he hoped more careful consideration would be given appropriations in the future.

Alderman Cole urged adoption of his order that the Mayor send a circular to each house in the city advising the Liberty Loan. He said that there was an appalling apathy among the people in regard to this matter and Newton ought to lead in the work of bringing to the people some sense of their responsibility in this matter.

Glancopopolos was granted a common victualer license at Newton Centre and a hearing assigned June 4, on curbing on California street.

CONGRESSMAN CARTER IS WILLING

Washington, D. C., May 22, 1917. Editor, The Newton Graphic, Newton, Mass.

I desire through the public press of Newton to express my warm congratulations upon the very splendid patriotic spirit and efficient action that has been shown by the Public Safety Committee and the Women's Societies of the City of Newton. Massachusetts Congressmen striving with all their might to put the nation in a state of preparedness and finding progress all too slow because of departmental red tape, are inspired by the straight from the shoulder action of their constituents at home.

The people of Newton should not hesitate to call upon their Congressman when it is thought that he can be of any service to them.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM H. CARTER.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF LIBERTY BONDS

One especial advantage no other bonds, National, State, municipal, or corporate, have is that if the United States during the continuance of this war shall issue other bonds at a higher rate of interest, the holders of these Liberty bonds have the right to exchange their Liberty bonds for bonds bearing the higher rate of interest, dollar for dollar.

They are nontaxable. If your city, county, and State taxes are three mills on the dollar, a not unusual tax, these bonds are equivalent to ordinary corporate bonds or other investments bearing 6-1-2 per cent.

In addition, no Federal tax which war conditions may later make necessary will affect these bonds. The only tax these bonds are subject to is the inheritance tax, which applies to all property of all kinds whatsoever.

THE FAMOUS LUNCHEON

Now who attended that famous dinner? Of what did they talk, but of who should be winner? On what did they dine, and as they were able, What plans did they make as they sat at the table?

Now Rosa was there and felt in good cheer, And said with a smile, "I am glad we are all here." One said to another with looks quite demure, "We must rescue that Lodge from the wilderness sure."

Then Wood kindled up and said, "I reckon, We'll have a good luncheon with Root and with Bacon." They mentioned not politics, 'tis said with a smile, But the state of the Nation their time did beguile.

One said, "If the word of our soldiers be heeded, It appears in our camps, that more wood is needed." They talked of the dangers that lurked in the air, And said, "This be our slogan, Awake and Prepare."

"Now I think we have got at the Root of the matter, And can soon put an end to all this idle chatter."

And Rosa felt happy at the name of the winner, As they shook hands at parting from that famous dinner.

And it may be that meeting, with its banner unfurled, Shall forecast a victory to be heard round the world.

An Old-time Republican.

"Do your bit." Buy a Liberty Bond. —Mrs. James Perry Smith of Lowell avenue left Saturday to visit relatives in New York city.

—Miss Mary L. Rolfe of Clyde street is spending a few weeks with her cousin at Detroit, Michigan.

—Mrs. Eustace Lane has recovered from her recent illness and is returning this week to the Highland Villa. —Mr. Henry A. Norton and son Robert of the Highland Villa have returned from a fishing trip to Leominster.

—Mr. and Mrs. Guyas Williams (Margaret Kempton) of Otis street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Sunday, May 20th.

—The last meeting for the season of the Young People's Sunday Evening Club will be held May 27th in the parlors of Central Congregational Church.

—At the morning service Sunday at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Mr. John Daboll read a sermon by the Rev. S. S. Seward on "The Problem of Peace."

—There will be a special post-convention meeting of the Young People's League on Sunday evening, June 3rd, at the Church of the New Jerusalem.

—Miss Betty Brown and Kenneth Brown of the Highland Villa, were guests of Miss Natalie Tracy at a dinner dance Saturday evening at her home in Newton.

—Rev. E. M. Lawrence Gould will return from the Convention at Philadelphia in time to preach Sunday and conduct the Adult Class at the Church of the New Jerusalem.

—Miss Henry A. Norton of the Highland Villa has returned from South Hadley, where she visited her daughter, Miss Winifred Norton, at Mt. Holyoke College, over the May Day festivities.

—Attention is called to the opening of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross at the Newton Club, and every one is urged to join. This provides a practical opportunity for helping humanity when the need is urgent and measures for relief must be prompt and adequate.

—Don't be a "slacker" and miss the best show of the season, "The Man on the Box," which the Dramateurs will present Tuesday evening, June 5th, in Players Hall, for the benefit of the Junior League for Newton Hospital Service.

—The members of the Sunday School of Central Congregational Church have made a real sacrifice. Last Sunday they voted to give their picnic money this year to the fatherless children of France. This means that the annual outing planned for June 2nd has been abandoned. Special tickets will be printed and sold in place of the picnic tickets.

WHY "LIBERTY LOAN"?

The $5,000,000,000 bond issue of this year is named "The Liberty Loan of 1917" because it is to be a loan from a free people to be used in freeing the world.

It is the loan of a liberty-loving people to be devoted to the establishment of liberty in Europe and on the high seas.

It is the loan of the great democracy of the New World to redress wrongs and support the cause of the democracy of the Old.

This advertisement is one of a series designed to effect closer cooperation between the company and its subscribers. There are three parties to a telephone call—the person calling, the person called, and the operator who connects them. The quality of service rendered is determined by the spirit in which all three work together, rather than by the individual effort of any one or two of these three persons. We will gladly send complete sets of the series to those desiring them.

Give Numbers Clearly"SEVNATEFISIX."

Everyone realizes the possibilities of error in telephoning when 7-8-5-6 is asked for in that way.

When numbers are given to our operators in that disconnected, hurried or otherwise indistinct fashion, it is more than likely that there will be an error and a wrong connection made.

There is an absolute necessity for the clear enunciation of all telephone numbers: the operation of our switchboards is directed wholly by numbers. A wrong number or a misunderstood number invariably means an error call, for which our operators should not always be held responsible.

"Sev-eight-five-six" is the better way to give the above number. Clearly pronounced numbers uttered directly into the telephone transmitter will obviate a majority of error calls.

When you have given a number to our operator, she repeats it. You should listen for that repetition, for then you may correct her if she has misunderstood you. That will save a great deal of delay and trouble; and, if you will also say "Yes" or "That's right," if she repeats properly, she will have your assurance that she is doing her work correctly.

ARE YOU PATRIOT?

Every American who subscribes to the justice of the course of the United States in entering and conducting the war is now engaged in should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue to the extent of his or her financial ability.

Every American who subscribes to the belief that an American should stand by his or her country should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue. Every American who loves America and is jealous of America's honor should subscribe to the Liberty Loan Bond issue. The real success of the loan is to be more determined by the number of Americans participating in it than by the amount subscribed. The spirit of the Nation is going to be judged abroad, especially by our enemies, more by the number of its American men and women who support this bond issue than by the mere amount of money subscribed.

SHUBERT THEATRE—The Messrs. Shubert will present Reginald de Koven's comic opera, "The Highwayman," with John Charles Thomas at the Shubert Theatre, for a second week beginning next Monday evening. "The Highwayman" was conceived and written in de Koven's most romantic mood—a mood that was the inspiration of "Robin Hood" and "Maid Marian," and in its wealth and charm of melody, in the ingenuity of its orchestration, in its general workmanship, it compares most favorably with "Robin Hood," which has generally been acknowledged as the greatest comic opera ever written in America. A cast of an essentially all-star character has been selected by the Messrs. Shubert to sing "The Highwayman."

NEWTON EQUAL SUFFRAGE LUNCHEON

Speeches by Mayor Childs and Others

The Newton Equal Suffrage League held its annual luncheon at the Newton Club on Tuesday, May 22. There was a large attendance at the luncheon and an added number to listen to the speaking which followed.

Miss Jessie W. Fisher, the newly elected president, presided. Hon. Edwin O. Childs the first speaker chose as his topic, Our Duty to the Newton Foreign-born Emigrant. He prefaced his remarks by the story of a woman in the city who wishing to erect a monument to her late husband asked him to advise of the builder of the monument, who suggested the phrase: "gone to a better land." "Oh," she rejoined, "that would be impossible he lived in Newton."

Mayor Childs called attention to the dwindling Puritan element in our community, giving place to the large per cent of foreign born parentage. To make good citizens of this foreign element is the bounden duty of each and every citizen, and in no way can it be better done, than by showing them genuine sympathy and interest. Our immigrants are a real part of the community and that we expect to share with us in our democracy, and to be patriotic, loyal, industrious citizens of our great commonwealth. Mr. Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Jr., followed Mayor Childs, taking as his subject, "The Rising Tide." He told in a most interesting way of his boyhood life and, the pioneer suffrage women who were guests in the homes of his father and grandfather. He pictured the wonderful personality of Susan Z. Anthony, Mary Livermore, Anna Howard Shaw and other early suffragists. He said the tide of recent victories in suffrage, with Russia, England, and France falling into line, and our own recent victories increasing the electoral vote most perceptibly was a rising tide which might soon prove to be overwhelming.

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell gave an interesting and instructive talk on woman's share in the Newton Public Safety Work, telling of the faithful and efficient way in which women are helping in this time of the nation's needs. Mrs. Harry N. Priest spoke briefly of Red Cross work, and the need of a larger membership in Newton to aid this great National Cause.

The Junior League for Social Service asked those present to give their aid in buying and selling tickets for the drama "The Man on the Box" to be given by members of the League at Player's Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday, June fifth.

LIBERTY LOAN FOR ALL

Gov. Aiken Says it Should Go into Hands of the People

Important Line is That of Citizens Willing to Make Sacrifice and Supply Finances That World May Enjoy Freedom by Wiping Out German Militarism Menace

That not one dollar of the millions loaned to the allies has been sent out of the country, but that every dollar is being spent to buy supplies and labor here, was pointed out by Alfred L. Aiken, governor of the federal reserve bank, in an address before the Boston Central Labor union, urging the speedy sale of liberty bonds.

In urging that all should buy bonds he declared that every man, woman and child will be able to serve in one of the three lines that are necessary to carry on the war.

During his plea for the purchase of the bonds Mr. Aiken declared that it was impossible to put money in two places at once, and, as the government needs money to carry on this war, it is up to somebody to put their money into long term government bonds.

"There is a feeling of prosperity existing," he said, "but also a feeling of 'let George do it,' but it is up to everybody to take off their coats and do their share."

"The first of the three lines necessary to carry on the war is composed of the soldiers and sailors who face the shot and shell. The second line is that of the men and women who make the clothing, food and supplies that keep these soldiers fit to face the shot and shell, and the third line is that of the people who are willing to make a sacrifice and supply the finances."

"It is not uncommon to hear somebody say: 'This is a war of kings,' but I want to say that this statement is wrong, as it is not a war of kings, but a war for liberty, and before the people of this world can enjoy the freedom of liberty the menace of German militarism must be wiped out."

"We are all citizens and there is no division of employers and employees, as we must all stand together if we wish to be successful in this undertaking. Liberty has been advanced by the downfall of the Russian autocrats, and it will be further advanced with the downfall of the conditions in Germany that have existed for years."

"More than one-fifth of the entire money of the world is now supposed to be in this country. Never before in the history of this country have conditions for labor or capital been better, and the only way that these conditions can continue to exist is by making this loan go so that money can be obtained to pay labor for the work that it is doing."

"We have loaned millions, but every dollar of them is spent here, and that is the only thing that is keeping the prosperous conditions that now exist. Don't let anyone convince you otherwise. There is a feeling of prosperity existing, but also a feeling of 'let George do it,' but it is up to everybody to take off their coats and do their share."

"It is impossible to put money in two places at once, and as the government needs money to carry on this war, it is up to somebody to put their money into long term government bonds. If the bankers did this they would have none left to furnish industry with the money that when a manufacturer is unable to borrow to carry on his business he must close and throw you out of work. This would create a condition to make you sick to think about."

"With the stopping of the circulation of money will be the stopping of industry, and for this reason, the propaganda of stop buying and save your money is foolish. The industrial future of this country depends on the placing of $100,000,000 in bonds among the people."

"The interest on these bonds will be 3 1-2 percent. This figure was set owing to the fact that in this state the rate paid in the savings banks is about 4 percent. Outside of this state it will run average above 3 1-2 percent. If the interest on the bonds was higher everybody would draw from the banks and many of them would go to smash."

Corporal Judson Hannigan of the First Corps of Cadets also addressed the meeting in the interests of recruiting and the placing of the bonds, and told of the pleas being made by the representatives of the allies for men to stop up the gaps made in their lines which have been holding the "Huns" back and preventing them from opening up a free and clear road to the United States, where they planned to levy an assessment that would pay their full cost of the present war.

Pastors of all churches are asked to preach on the liberty loan or to describe the appeal for the loan in their churches May 27.

A BEARER OF DISPATCHES

His Difficulties In Reaching His Destination

By ALAN HINSDALE

When the pan-European war broke out I offered my services to the war department of Great Britain for secret service. My reason for doing so was that I was traveling abroad and found myself stranded in London, communication with my native land, America, having been cut off, and I was unable to get funds. I will admit, however, that I always had a desire to try my hand at secret service work.

My fitness to serve the British at this time and in this field was that I am an American and had an American passport.

I made my offer through an official in the office of the foreign secretary who knew something of my antecedents and was in a position to vouch for me. There was plenty of work to be done and plenty of would-be workmen, but the main trouble with the government was to know whom to trust.

One day I received a note from my friend in the foreign office to call upon him in his office in Downing street. Upon my reporting to him he led me to one of the chief men in the foreign department, who asked me a number of questions about myself with a view to establishing my trustworthiness. I doubt if he would have employed me had it not been that I told him my mother had been born in Canada and lived there till she was twenty years of age. That seemed to satisfy him.

He knew the strong affection for the British flag among those who have been born and raised under it and agreed that a man would not be likely to turn traitor to a cause with which his mother sympathized.

When he had satisfied himself with regard to my fitness for the work he said to me:

"We wish some one to take certain important instructions to our ambassador at Athens. You are probably aware that there are certain Balkan nations for whose support both the entente and the central allies are struggling. Greece is one of these countries. We desire to offer to the king of Greece certain advantages for his support in case we are victors in the great struggle upon which we are entering. If a knowledge of what we offer should fall into the hands of the Germans it would give them certain intentions of ours which they would at once endeavor to forestall. London, every route to Greece and the capital of that country is beset with spies. We are not sure but that we have them right here among our clerks in the government offices. You are liable to be watched, waylaid, possibly murdered on the way."

The commission was given me, and I accepted it. Had there been no risk attending it I should not have been interested in it. I was handed two packages, one somewhat bulky, inclosed in an official envelope and bearing the official seal; the other a simple letter, evidently written on thin paper.

How the spies got on to the fact that a communication was to leave the foreign office and I was to carry it was and is a mystery to me. I was told that no one was employed to copy the paper, which was written by the under-secretary himself. Nevertheless the matter was known to some one who informed the proper person outside, who at once set in motion certain agencies to get possession of the document I carried, or at least prevent my delivering it.

As to my route, it was uncertain. I might go all the way by sea, but there was some danger of being submarined. I could go through southern France and Italy, but in the beginning of the war no one knew how the Italian cat would jump. Italy did not join the allies for a year after the beginning of hostilities. I resolved to go through France to Marseilles, then determine by what route I would continue my journey.

I had scarcely seated myself in the train for Southampton—I proposed to cross the channel from there to Havre—than I noticed a man in the same compartment as myself casting furtive glances at me. I surmised at once that he was aware of the fact that I was what I was, but believed that he would not have let me see him observing me, had I anything to fear from him personally. It was much more probable that he was intending to draw my attention to himself while my real danger lurked elsewhere. During the ride I opened my suit case and felt for the bulky document as though to make sure it was there. He left the train at Southampton, and I did not see him again till I was on the boat steaming for the French coast.

On reaching Havre I stood holding my baggage, a suit case, in the crowd of passengers waiting to leave the boat for the dock. Suddenly I felt the suit case wrenched from my hand. Turning, I looked for the person who had taken it, but saw no one near. Those behind me were comparatively quiet. Convinced that my enemies' plans for making way with my baggage were perfect, I made no motion to recover it. It was doubtless passed from one person to another till it was at a safe distance from me.

My first attempt to outwit my way-layers was a success. They had got a dummy dispatch, and I had the real one sewed in the lining of my vest. However, this did not accord with my plans. I had intended to use the dummy in another way and farther on in my journey. Now I had lost it, and my enemies had possession of evidence that I was a messenger from the British government. This latter consideration did not trouble me much, for it was clear that they knew all about me. However, there was one advantage in their having the dummy. They must have believed they had the dispatch I carried, for I saw nothing more of them till I arrived at Marseilles. My theory is that they were understrappers, with no authority to open the dispatch, but took it to some one who had such power, and this occasioned delay while I went my way.

But they did not lose track of me. For the man I had seen observing me on the train from London to Southampton kept me in sight. At Marseilles I had two problems to settle. Should I go farther by land or all the way by sea? And how could I throw my shadow off my track? I concluded that, whichever way I went, I would endeavor to make him believe that I had gone the other.

I had a trunk with me, and as soon as I could get possession of it I called a fiacre and, putting the trunk in it, got in the cab and told the driver to take me to the station of the railway running eastward along the Mediterranean. On reaching the station I billed the trunk for Nice; but, since there was no train for several hours, I strolled away, proposing to divest myself, if possible, of the observance of my shadow. Lighting a cigar, I strolled away carelessly, as if bent only on passing the time before the starting of the train. But I directed my steps toward the more frequented streets and from these entered a very narrow one. After having gone into it for some distance, seeing a door of one of the houses open, I looked behind me and, not seeing my shadower, darted into it.

I fell in with a lot of women who received my intrusion so angrily that I concluded to enlist them, if possible, to my service by appealing to their patriotism. I told them that I was a messenger of the English government and was followed by German agents who were bent on possessing themselves of a dispatch I carried. They were not convinced till I showed them a letter addressed to the British minister at Athens. Then I told them that I wished to go out unknown on a boat that I had been told left Marseilles that night for Italian ports.

When I departed from the house in which I had taken refuge I did so dressed in the apparel of one of the women after dark and under the guidance of another, for I did not know the way to the dock. About 9 o'clock I went on board, carrying my own masculine clothing in a grip sack.

I had succeeded in my maneuver in respect to the man who had been watching me in throwing him off my track. But the enemy had left nothing to chance. He had placed an agent on the boat. Unfortunately I did not suspect that he would do this. I concluded to retain my feminine costume, and it was a dead giveaway once the light of day shone upon me, for there is nothing feminine about me, and as soon as my enemy saw that I was a man it was pretty clear that I was the man who was wanted.

I was sitting in a secluded corner on deck when a man approached me, raised his hat politely and made some passing remark, as though he wished to scrape an acquaintance. I reckoned that his purpose was the dispatch I bore. I must decide at once whether I should send him about his business or pretend to be deceived with a view to outwitting him. I chose the latter course, for he had an advantage of me in the fact that I was a man traveling in woman's clothing. I did not repel him, but after a few casual remarks I excused myself and went to my state-room.

The first thing I did after reaching it was to doff my woman's apparel and put on my own. I knew the man who had spoken to me would be on the lookout for me, and when next I went on deck, seeing him at a distance, I walked toward him. Passing him, I saw that he recognized me. I returned his gaze with one which said plainly, "Keep out of my way or I will kill you." He said nothing, and I received no further attention from him. I doubt if he cared to commit any act that was not covered by duplicity, and I was determined if he did I would scare him off. I did not wish to occasion the delay that would come of a fight with him, but I proposed to make him consider me dangerous.

What he did was this: He went to the captain of the boat and told him that I was an Englishman fleeing from justice. Of course since I had come aboard as a woman and was now a man there was excellent ground for the accusation. But my accuser had no documents to prove his case and could only ask that I be detained at the first port touched till the matter could be looked into. When I found the captain disposed to assent to this I showed him my sealed letter to the British embassy at Athens, and it served its purpose.

The next day we passed a French man-of-war. I induced the captain to signal her and send me on board of her. He did as I requested, and when I was conducted to the officer in command and stated my case he volunteered to take me to Athens.

This ended my embarrassments, for I delivered my dispatch, and it was doubtless communicated to the king of Greece. But subsequent events showed that it did not win his majesty over to the allied cause.

A "SUFF" COLLEGE

Would Be Voters Will Train Women to Speak.

IS TO BE NO "PINK TEA."

Miss Byrns, a New York Lawyer, Is Starting Up State Schools to Teach Women How to Be Spellbinders and Good Conversers.

A peculiar suffrage college is the latest move in the 1917 votes for women campaign. The object, says Dean Elhonor Byrns, one of New York's active women lawyers, is to seek out local talent and train it for the task of converting the voters of the districts to woman suffrage.

In January Miss Byrns opened her first suffrage college at Buffalo. The original plan was to devote five days to this institution, but so many of the students were found to be women from the outlying country districts who could not get away from home so long that it was decided to compress the dozen sessions into three days.

"It's no pink tea we are planning," says Miss Byrns, assuming the role of stern schoolma'am.

"There are to be reviews after each lesson and examinations at the end. Nobody need expect just to sit still and be entertained by pleasant speeches. Every pupil will have to learn to make a good speech on every subject studied. Oh, yes, there are to be home lessons also to be prepared outside of this twelve-hour day. Each woman will be assigned a certain topic, will receive literature concerning it and told to prepare a speech upon it for the next day. I'm sure I don't know how they are going to manage it," she added.

"Much of the suffrage work done in the past by untrained workers lost effectiveness because of that very lack of training. Now we are going to find out those who are good at public speaking and train them for that. Those who can't make speeches, but are good at answering questions, are to have their special talent developed. Others who show aptitude for canvassing will be drilled for that particular and important duty."

The "college" will visit all the prominent cities in New York state.

Your Coiffure.

There is no longer any necessity for loading the hair with braids, rats, puffs and curls. The fashions today are so simple that the woman who has only a small crop of hair can easily dress it well. In dressing your hair consider the shape of your face. The back of the head is of importance, but the frame made by the hair must be becoming to the face. Women of severely classic features and fine brows can wear the hair brushed straight back from the forehead and coiled at the back of the head or at the nape of the neck.

Simple hairdressing necessitates cleaner hair, therefore healthier hair. The hair must be thoroughly washed every week or two, especially if one exercises much. Some women boast of washing their hair but once in six weeks. Imagine the scalp, with its myriads of oil glands and its heavy growth of hair to retain the dust, being bathed only once in that long period.

Put Buttons In Salt.

Said an expert waitress lately: "I have noticed in cafes and different homes how angry looking one gets when the salt and pepper shakers don't work and their contents stick inside. Now it will surprise you how this works. Just put two large pearl buttons inside of each shaker, and when you go to shake it it will surprise you how easy it comes out. I also find if you put two spoonfuls of cornstarch to two pounds of sugar and mix together and then put what you want in your sugar bowl it will not lump together, and you will never notice there was starch in it."

Time

Merciless Father Time mows down scantily painted buildings. His scythe cuts deep into unprotected boards. He slashes constantly, day and night, all year round. He wins. The buildings lose.

Paint which will blunt the edge of Time's scythe, and be an armor protection for the buildings, is Dutch Boy White-Lead thinned with linseed oil and tinted any color desired.

This paint is all-weatherproof—proof against blistering sun, drenching rain, piercing wind, snow and sleet. It will add long life and beauty to your buildings, and neither crack nor scale.

Come to us for paint materials of the lasting kind and for good advice on painting, for total life of paint.

NEW JAUNTINESS.

Picturesqueness For One Piece
Frocks Is the Last Note.

Put up in navy blue velvet and satin. This straight lined gown gets its piquancy from the hip drape, which also contains a pocket, and from the girlish disks in steel beads, as many as five of them circling the slender waist. Double rows of velvet buttons close the front.

DON'T BE PERSONAL.

The Crudity and the Cruelty of Being Plain Spoken.

Among the immediate members of our families, our nearest and dearest, there frequently prevails a form of affectionate personal service that is irksome and trying, yet cannot be avoided or rebuked without giving offense. There are mothers who harass independent and sensible daughters with silly little admonitions about wearing rubbers and getting home early; who bemoan continually in public their daughters' predilection for tennis and dislike for fine sewing; who never find it possible to understand why their daughters have views or feelings that differ from their own, says the Woman's Home Companion. And, likewise, we find daughters who adopt the maternal attitude to their mothers and exercise a censorship over their clothes, occupations and recreations in a fashion truly exasperating. It makes the onlooker want to shout violently at these types, "Let each other alone." Even though these attentions are actuated by the fondest love they are an infringement on individual rights. Mother should let daughter play tennis, and daughter should not try to select mother's hats. The result would be a great gain in family peace.

There ought to be a special chapter on "Being Impersonal" in every book of etiquette, and, since books of etiquette are usually consulted only by those who may want to know how many cards to leave on twin sisters or what is the time limit on dinner calls, perhaps this special chapter ought to be included in travel stories—yes, even works of fiction—so that every one who reads may see it. It should consist first of advice on how to be impersonal, with helpful hints, such as: "If your friend looks tired don't tell her so, but do something definite to help her rest." "Never console with any one on being either married or unmarried. Both may be fortunate states." "Never criticize any piece of clothing worn by any one, not even awning stripes on a fat woman or an elbow sleeve on a skinny one." "Never remark on any family likeness. It's bad enough to have it without being told about it."

Grandmother's Pumpkin Pie.
Two cupsful of pumpkin thoroughly mashed after having been steamed in a colander, two cupsful of milk, one egg, half teaspoonful of ginger, one-fourth cupful of sugar, one-fourth cupful of molasses, half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of raisins. Boil the raisins half an hour, let the water boil away, slip out the seeds and add the pulp to the pumpkin. Scald the milk and mix with the pumpkin, add the seasoning, molasses and egg last. Bake in a plate lined and rimmed with crust.

Long Chains Worn.
Long chains of various sorts are in fashion this winter. The woman who seeks individuality nowadays outnumbers the woman who merely follows the fashion—which means that most women try to find something just a little different in the detail of their dress than that of their friend and neighbor. So it is that there are a dozen and one different sorts of long chains to be found, each as interesting as the one before it.

Suede and Jersey.
Callot introduces a sensational new sport suit made up from a side plaited skirt of white silk jersey and a short coat of white suede. It is lined with Indian red silk jersey, and collars and cuffs of the kid are faced with the red.

THE SOIL SOLDIER

"We are fighting for what we believe and wish to be the rights of mankind and for the future peace and security of the world. We must realize to the full how great the task is. These are things we must do, and do well, besides fighting. Supply abundant food, not only for ourselves and for our armies and our seamen, but also for the nations with whom we have made common cause, in whose support and by whose side we shall be fighting."—Our Leader, Woodrow Wilson.

NOT SCARED BY "OVERPRODUCTION."

Farmers down Middleborough way are not worried any longer about overproduction, for they learned that there isn't any such animal—not this year. As a consequence, they are bringing in more than double their acreage in several of the staple crops.

It came about this way. The secretary of the local food committee, Mr. Oscar F. Stetson, carefully gathered the figures covering several years on home consumption of staple products, and the amount of these brought in from outside the town. Potatoes afford a good example of the kind of fact he discovered. Of the 16,668 bushels of potatoes used, 12,608 bushels, or all but 24 per cent came from outside.

When these figures were put before the farmers, their only fear about planting as extensively as they could was removed. It was perfectly clear that there would be home consumption for more than they could hope to produce. Doubtless the same condition exists nearly everywhere in the state, for only 8 persons in 100 are producers in Massachusetts; the other 92 are consumers.

Overproduction is a bugaboo this year. Only something like a miracle can bring about large enough crops to run prices down near the losing point. Buckling kultur and making good money will go hand in hand.

Armed soldiers for France, farm soldiers for our fields. Enlist today.

MORE PIG ON LESS CORN.

That most pork has been raised on corn in the corn belt, doesn't prove that corn is the only good feed for hogs. In fact, it has distinct disadvantages. Hogs fed corn do not breed as prolifically as those fed a varied ration, and, for fattening an all-corn diet has become generally unprofitable.

Hogs eat a great deal, and eat promiscuously. They thrive best with pasture, grain crops and nuts or roots to combine on their bill of fare. On this account, hog raising can be widely extended outside the corn belt.

"Every farm can support at least one pig," declared Prof. E. L. Quail, of the Agricultural College. "With extensive use of dairy by-products, root, pasture and forage crops and table refuse and with good care, our country can support a large number of hogs. In fact, it has distinct advantages. Hogs fed corn do not breed as prolifically as those fed a varied ration, and, for fattening an all-corn diet has become generally unprofitable."

The world cannot exist half slave and half free. Give Prussianism its solar plexus blow.

FALL PIGS, SPRING PORK.

"Forget it," is the urging of the national department of agriculture to farmers who have scruples about breeding immature sows and about breeding for fall litters. "Every breedable sow should be made to produce," they assert.

Common-sense management fall litters are profitable. The earlier the litters come, the cheaper their growth before pasturage ceases, but litters dropped as late as the middle of October will still have good opportunity to get ready to take care of themselves before hard winter sets in. Breeding until near the close of June is therefore desirable.

"Even if the sow be only five or six months old, she will contribute more towards food production and profit this year if what she eats is directed to supporting the forthcoming litter, than if she were merely fattened and sold, and her own development will be but moderately checked from suckling."

Breed pigs to feed America and bump kultur.

OUR BARREN HILLS.

The United States imports two-fifths to more than one-half of the wool it requires. Recent importations have reached more than 500,000,000 pounds, the average being over 300,000,000 pounds.

The total consumption of lamb and mutton during the past 10 years has increased appreciably. In 1907 more than 9,500,000 sheep and lambs were slaughtered at plants subject to Federal inspection. The number now averages about 13,000,000.

The chairman of the New York food supply committee has bought 10,000 sheep to be grazed in New York State. Who will volunteer such an investment to utilize the fine grazing lands of our own state, enrich them with the manure of flocks, and provide an offset to the rapidly declining meat supply?

The new Russia may foil Liberty, but old Massachusetts, as always, will stand true.

MILK IS ECONOMICAL.

Sometimes proper diet is a question of actually increasing the use of foods which furnish nutritive material at relatively low cost. Milk is such a food. The average person uses only a little more than a half-plat of milk daily.

Milk contains the body-building materials (protein and mineral substances) and also supplies energy. One quart of milk equals in protein seven ounces of sirloin or 6 ounces of round steak, 4.3 eggs, or 8.6 ounces of fowl. One quart of milk equals in energy, 11 ounces of sirloin steak, 12 ounces of round steak, 8½ eggs, or 10.7 ounces of fowl.

To supply protein, milk at 7 cents is as cheap as sirloin steak at 16.3 cents or eggs at 17.6 cents; at 9 cents it is as cheap as sirloin steak at 21 cents or eggs at 22.6 cents; at 12 cents it is as cheap as sirloin steak at 27.9 cents or eggs at 30.2 cents.

If milk is 10 cents a quart, sirloin steak must sell as low at 23.3 cents a pound, and eggs at 25.1 cents a dozen to supply protein at equal cost. To supply energy, when milk is 7 cents, sirloin steak must not be more than 9.9 cents, and eggs not more than 9.3 cents. Milk at 9 cents is as cheap as sirloin at 12.8 cents and eggs at 11.9 cents; at 12 cents, it is as cheap as sirloin at 17 cents and eggs at 15.9 cents. Milk even at 15 cents a quart is a cheap source of energy compared with sirloin steak and eggs.

There is no milk of human kindness in Kultur.

DRAFT HORSES NEEDED.

There is a revival of the demand for draft horses. This is shown by the keenness with which western farmers are buying for spring use. With this new opportunity, a comeback in horse breeding in Massachusetts is worth considering.

During the coming breeding season, horse raisers should not overlook that stud horses capable of being good sires are scarce and more costly since war broke out.

Unflinching patronage of the high class sire will automatically drive the nondescript breeding horse from the community.

CROWING CARROTS.

The critical period in growing carrots is the first few weeks. Carrot seed does not usually germinate as well as other garden seeds, and the young seedling is so fine and delicate that it is easily choked by weeds. Therefore, early cultivation is extremely important. After the plants are once started, if soil conditions are right there is little fear of losing the crop. Thinning is the same as with beets, except that fewer of the very young plants can be used for human food.

We would die for our country, but will we plow for it?

FARMERS MAKE LARGE LOANS.

Nearly fourteen thousand dollars in loans have been applied for in twenty towns in Franklin County for agricultural purposes reports the county committee on food production. The high price of seed, fertilizer and labor is responsible.

Requests for loans received by the committee are referred to the banks of the various towns, with the understanding that the banks will take up the application directly with the farmer.

Plow the soil while our free ships plow the sea.

HINTS ON CRUCIFERS.

Crops like cabbage, cauliflower, turnip and rape, thrive in a variety of soils, but will not do well if water be near the surface or the soil is wetish. Well tilled loams, in good fertility should be preferred, the lighter for English turnips, Swedes and early cabbage and medium loams for late cabbage and cauliflower.

Under irrigation, success is possible on very
